POLICE BAFFLED

BARTHOLIN MURDER MYSTERY GROWS DEEPER.

MINNIE MITCHELL MAY LIVE

BELIEF GROWS THAT BODY BURIED WAS NOT OF HER.

FIND TRACE OF BARTHOLIN

MAN THOUGHT TO BE MURDERER AT JOPLIN, MO.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Mystery surrounding the Bartholin murder case baffles the Chicago police. Feeling is growing stronger that the body of the young woman found last Thursday and buried Monday as that of Minnie Mitchell was not that of the young woman. Coroner Traeger today was asked to exhume the body, but he declined to disinter it. He said the body was so decomposed that such action would be of little avail in settling doubts as to identity. The coroner's physician and other well known medical men, however, state in positive terms that eight days' exposure couldn't have effected such a change in a body. Working on this theory, the police have sent out tracers to find Wm. J. Bartholin and his fiancee together alive. Efforts also are being made to identify the supposed Mitchell body as some one of numerous other women who have been missing. The Mitchell family has taken no steps to clear up the mystery about the body, apparently being satisfied that the clothing scattered about the field where it was found was sufficient identification.

Oscar Thompson, one of Mrs. Bartholin's roomers, is still retained by the police and today was once more put through the "sweating" process to induce him to tell the police something definite that will lead to a solution of the two murders. He maintained he knew nothing. The police have received word from Denver that M. L. R. Edwards, another of the roomers at the Calumet avenue death house, would return to Chicago as soon as the transportation forwarded to him today by Chief of Police O'Neil reached him.

TRACE OF BARTHOLIN.

Joplin, Mo., Aug. 13.—William J. Bartholin, wanted in Chicago in connection with the Bartholin-Mitchell murders, is believed to have been in Joplin Monday night in company with a man who answers the description of Harry Churdh, a former boarder at the Bartholin home in Chicago. The man believed to have been Bartholin stopped at the Forney house Monday night, and from pictures received today by the police and from descriptions of the man Jibb Forney, proprietor of the hotel, is positive that the stranger was Bartholin. The man was accompanied by another stranger who fits the descriptions of Church. The second man did not stop at the hotel, but joined his companion at the Forney house before daylight Tuesday, when the two left hastily. Since then no trace has been found of the men so far.

According to J. M. Brooks, owner of the hotel Royal, at Guthrie, Okla., and the statement of the day and night clerks at the hotel, Bartholin stopped in Guthrie all day Sunday, disappearing Sunday evening. It would have been easy for him to have made the journey to Joplin, which is about 200 miles distant, by Monday.

DIG UP AN OLD TAX CLAIM

UNCLE SAM WANTS $4,000 FROM FORT WAYNE GAS COMPANY.

Special Enactment, Now Repealed, of Which Nobody Here Had Any Information.

Uncle Sam wants the sum of $4,000 from the Fort Wayne Gas company, and when the bill arrived a few days ago it occasioned considerable surprise in the local offices of that company, for nobody connected with the corporation was aware of the existence of any such liability.

The item is a memento of the war with Spain, and the bill extends backward for the term of four years. It appears that in the war revenue act passed by congress in 1898 was a provision, evidently framed up to catch the Standard Oil company, provided that pipe line companies whose receipts reached or exceeded the sum of $250,000 annually should pay a special tax.

The gas company officials state that they were unaware of the existence of any such law, and if the revenue agents knew of it they at least made no attempt to collect from the Fort Wayne company until a short time ago. The law went out of effect July 1 of the present year, but the revenue department is now insinuating that it would like to have payment for the entire four years, the item amounting in round numbers to $4,000.

Further than this, they ask the company to sign a waiver of rights by the statute of limitations. The case is regarded as a very unusual one and has been submitted to the company's attorneys.

HARVESTER FIRMS IN TRUST

COMPANY WITH $120,000,000 CAPITAL CHARTERED.

McCormick and Deering Companies, of Chicago, Reported to Be in the Merger.

New York, Aug. 13.—The incorporators of the International Harvester company, articles of incorporation for which were filed yesterday in Jersey City, today made public a statement which says in part:

"The International Harvester company has been organized under the laws of New Jersey with a capital stock of $120,000,000, to manufacture and sell harvesting machinery. It has purchased the property and business of the following manufacturers: The McCormick Harvesting Machine Co., Deering Harvesting Co., Plano Manufacturing Co., Warder, Bushnell & Glessner Co., (Champion); Milwaukee Harvesting Co. The company is capitalized upon an exceptionally conservative basis. Of its assets $80,000,000 are in cash working capital. The company will require no financing and there will be no offer of its stock to the public, all the cash required having been provided by its stockholders."

After alluding to the advance in prices of raw material and the possible consequent advance in the price of harvesting machinery unless economies in existing conditions of manufacture could be accomplished, the statement continues:

"The manufacturers realize that their welfare and the interests of the farmers are identical. An advance in the price of agricultural machinery would injure the farmers and react upon the manufacturers. But on the other hand, if existing conditions continued, an advance in prices would be inevitable. It thus became necessary that either the prices should be advanced or that substantial economies should be effected in the manufacture and distribution of agricultural machinery. The management of the company will be in charge of gentlemen who have for years been identified with the business. The company will start with ample manufacturing facilities. It has five fully equipped manufacturing plants in the United States and one plant in process of construction in Canada."

The officers of the company are as follows:

President, Cyrus H. McCormick; chairman executive committee, Charles Deering; chairman finance committee, George W. Perkins; vice presdents, Harold F. McCormick, James Deering, William H. Jones, John J. Glessner; secretary and treasurer, Richard F. Howe; board of directors, Cyrus Bentley, Paul D. Cravath, William Deering, Charles Deering, James Deering, E. H. Gary, John J. Glessner, Richard F. Howe, Abram M. Hyatt, William H. Jones, Cyrus H. McCormick, Harold F. McCormick, Stanley McCommick, Eldridge M. Fowler, George W. Perkins, Norman B. Ream, Charles Steele and Leslie D. Ward.

ORDERS SALE OF RAILROAD.

Columbus, O., Aug. 13.—Judge Thompson, of the United States court, made an order for the sale of the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking railroad at the court house here on September 24. It is the only direct competitor of the Toledo and Ohio Central and Hocking Valley Coal roads controlled by the Morgan interests and it is expected that the Goulds, Mrgans and the Pennsylvania interests will vie with each other for the property. The upset price is $2,700,000.

The Home Missionary society of St. John's Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. John Seelig, 920 Lake avenue.

Louis Diether has begun the construction of a handsome residence at Creighton and Fairfield avenues.

EAGLES IN TOWN

SPECIAL TRAIN ARRIVES AT 3 O'CLOCK.

FORT WAYNE MEMBERSHIP IS ABOVE 250.

AFTERNOON CEREMONIES AT ELKS' LODGE ROOMS.

Fort Wayne Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, with a membership of more than 250, was duly instituted at the Elks' lodge rooms in the Lau building late this afternoon. The ceremony is under direction of W. F. Edwards, of Anderson, state organizer for the order, and the exercises were participated in by several hundred members of the order from various cities of the state.

The largest delegation of visitors to reach the city was that which arrived in a special train on the Lake Erie and Western railroad shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon. It brought several hundred enthusiastic members of the fraternity from Marion, Elwood, Alexandria, Anderson, Muncie, Hartford City and other points, with bands from Muncie, Marion and Hartford City.

At the depot the incoming delegation was greeted by the big contingent of candidates who are to be admitted to membership this afternoon. The Fort Wayne gentlemen had gathered at the lodge rooms early in the afternoon, passed through the preliminary steps for admission into the fraternity, and then marched in a body to the Lake Erie depot to formally welcome their guests. With little delay the procession was reformed and the line of march to the lodge rooms begun.

Drapers and decorators had completed the special decorations in the lodge rooms, flowers, flags and bunting combining to add largely to the beauty of the rooms. The work of instituting the Fort Wayne aerie proceeded without loss of time, and the Muncie degree staff then took up the herculean task of conferring the degree upon more than 260 candidates. The list is the largest ever admitted at the institution of an aerie, and the degree work will hardly be completed before 9 o'clock this evening.

A BANQUET TONIGHT.

A banquet at the Fort Wayne club is to be the closing feature of the day's program. Immense tables are to be spread in the ball room and covers are laid for more than three hundred guests. Elaborate decorations in the red, white and blue of the order are present in profusion, and the menu is to be a splendid one. Major G. Will Wilson has been chosen as toastmaster, and there will be a lively program of responses.

The fraternity was organized but four years ago at Seattle, Wash., by about twenty-five kindred spirits, and was originally known as the "Order of Good Things." From this small beginning it has evolved into a widely known fraternity. Its objects are purely social and fraternal in character, and its motto is "Liberty, Truth, Justice and Equality." Each aerie selects and pays a physician who renders his services to members of the fraternity without expense to the individual, and sick and death benefits are often paid. The organization today is a notable addition to fraternal circles in Fort Wayne.

TRAFFIC SYSTEM IS LIKELY

SOUTHWESTERN AND BIG FOUR MAY GET TOGETHER.

Rumor That Indianapolis Tickets are to Be Sold by the Fort Wayne Interurban Line.

It is quite probable that through tickets will be sold from Fort Wayne and intermediate places on the Fort Wayne and Southwestern traction line to Indianapolis, by way of the Big Four, says the Wabash Plain Dealer. If this is done it will be the first time in the history of electric cars that they have been recognized enough by steam roads to make joint tickets. A plan was on foot by the trolley company and the Pennsylvania at Fort Wayne, but fell through. Today fifteen or twenty came in and took the Big Four. Yesterday another crowd came up and went east on the trolley.

General Manager Nelson, of the traction line, stated this afternoon that while the work train is on this end of the line cars will be run each two hours, beginning at 7:30 a. m. and continuing until 9:30 p. m.

The first car of freight came in today on the traction line, from Fort Wayne to Wabash. The receipts Sunday between Huntington and Wabash were $214, which means about 1,500 passengers, according to Mr. Nelson. The 1:30 car today brought in forty people.

SLEW HIS DRUNKEN FATHER.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Aug. 13.—J. H. Sims, a wealthy farmer, was shot and killed by his son John today while endeavoring to murder his wife with a butcher knife. The dead man was intoxicated and made a vicious attack upon his wife for a fancied wrong and the son interfered just in time to save her life.

RAIN STOPS PAVING WORK

BUCHANAN STREET WOULD BE COMPLETED OTHERWISE.

Maiden Lane Now Ready for Asphalt Surfacing—Main Street Work is Dragging.

It was expected that the Buchanan street pavement would be completed this afternoon, but the rain this morning interfered and the completion of the job will be delayed until tomorrow. On Maiden Lane the concreting has all been completed and the surfacing will be completed within a few days. During the past week the Barber company has had its repair gang out during odd moments and the result is that all the asphalt intersections of the Southwestern road have been repaired and there now remains less than a week's job of repair work on the various asphalt streets in the city.

On the West Main street paving contract things have not been moving so smoothly. In spite of the assurance of Contractor Moellering that he had all his material on the ground or actually in sight, The Sentinel learns from an indisputable source that the "nose brick" to be used in the construction of the pavement did not arrive until yesterday. Ground in the street was broken on July 24, since which time the south half of the very important thoroughfare has been out of business. The residents along the line of the street are inclined to say unkind things, based on the fact that no concreting is being done on the street and that the old foundation under the block pavement is being used. Under and between the street car tracks concrete is being placed, but that is a private contract entirely separate from the street paving contract. It was expected that the work of paving would be commenced today, but the rain interfered here the same as in other public work.

Master Mechanic Dontenwill, of the Holly Manufacturing company, engaged in putting in the new engines and pumps at station No. 2, says that he expects to have the new machine running perfectly within two weeks. By that time the danger of failure of water supply for this year will be over and then the waterworks trustees can sit down at their leisure and figure out how much the Holly company owes the city, at the rate of $25 per day from June 18.

QUIET AT SHENANDOAH.

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 13.—The provost guard of two companies, which has been kept on constant duty since the troops were called here, was reduced to one company today, the soldiers at the Pennsylvania railroad station having been withdrawn. The troops were placed at that point at the request of the borough officials on account of the lawlessness that had prevailed. The company stationed at the Reading railroad station, the scene of the riot, will be kept there for some time.

General Gobin has not sent troops into the Catawissa valley, where the farmers were being robbed of crops and poultry and it is not likely that any will be ordered there unless the depredations in that district should be repeated. The valley covers a large stretch of farming country and it would be a considerable drain on the force now in camp to properly patrol it.

STEBBINGS HELD FOR MURDER.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Walter L. Stebbings, who on Saturday stabbed to death Walter A. Scott, president of the Illinois Wire company, in the latter's office in the Monadnock building, was held to the grand jury today by the coroner's jury.

A MIMIC MURDER

LEADS WOMAN TO DISCLOSE SLAYER OF HUSBAND.

CLEVELAND MAN SLAIN WHILE WALKING WITH WIFE.

WOMAN MAKES A CONFESSION

IN HYSTERICS SHE NAMES THE MURDERER.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Ignatz Wiurchowski has made a written confession to the police that the man who shot and killed her husband Sunday night was Charles Janaski, a former boarder at the Wiurchowski home and who is alleged to be infatuated with Mrs. Wiurchowski.

Mrs. Wiurchowski and her husband were on their way home late Sunday night, when a man rushed from the bushes and killed Wiurchowski instantly.

Mrs. Wiurchowski told the police that it was a robber that committed the crime.

Since the commission of the murder Mrs. Wiurchowski and James Janaski have been under arrest. Last night two of the city detectives went through the crime in mimic as nearly as possible from Mrs. Wiurchowski's description. One detective acted as escort for Mrs. Wiurchowski, while the other rushed at them from the bushes. When the revolver was pointed at the detective's head the woman went into hysterics and cried out:

"My God, it's Charles Janaski."

THE MAN CONFESSES.

At noon Charles Janaski, the man accused by Mrs. Wiurchowski with the murder of her husband, confessed to having committed the crime and implicates Mrs. Wiurchowski. He states that they had gone so far as to decide what to do with Wiurchowski's life insurance. The charge of murder has been placed against Janaski and Mrs. Wiurchowski.

BUSY DAY FOR THE PYTHIANS

SUPREME LODGE CONVENES IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Chief Event Was the Grand Parade of the Order—Many Uniformed Bodies in Line.

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—This was another busy day for the Knights of Pythias. At 9 a. m. the Pythian Sisterhood held its second session at Elks' hall. There was a review of the Uniform Rank and competitive drills in the pavilion at 9:30 a. m., and at the same hour the supreme lodge convened at the Palace hotel. The imperial palace of the Knights of Khorassan held a session at Pythian castle at 10 a. m., and the supreme temple of the Rathbone Sisters assembled at Native Sons' hall at the same time. The chief event of the day was the grand parade, which moved at 3 p. m. and traversed the principal streets of the city. Twenty-five brigades of the Uniform Rank and thousands of other Knights were in line.

In the evening there will be a grand musical concert in the pavilion and a banquet to the visiting Rathbone Sisters.

Brig. Gen. Logan, of Louisville, Ky., who has just arrived, opened the Kentucky headquarters and will begin a campaign to get the next supreme convention and encampment for Louisville.

Gen. H. C. Winsor, of Massachusetts, has established headquarters and today began the organization of his following from New England.

The second annual convention of the Pythian Educational association was called to order at the Palace hotel today. The session may be extended to Thursday. Routine business and the discussion of various matters of interest will occupy the time of the convention. About twenty fraternal papers are represented.

The report of R. V. L. White, supreme keeper of records and seal, showed that the total number of subordinate lodges December 31, 1901, was 7,002, the net gain during the year being 142 lodges. The net gain in 1900 and 1901 combined was 262 lodges and 47,632 members. He said that a per capita tax of 6 cents per annum will produce sufficient revenue to meet all requirements. The states having over 10,000 members are as follows: California, 11,604; Illinois, 44,103; Indiana, 42,937; Iowa, 26,852; Kansas, 11,961; Maine, 13,101; Massachusetts, 17,188; Michigan, 13,411; Missouri, 21,048; New Jersey, 13,239; New York, 20,276; Ohio, 60,115; Pennsylvania, 42,108; Texas, 16,554.

The report of the board of control, endowment rank, showed that during the last two fiscal years 19,347 applications were considered and 1,579 death claims, amounting to $3,089,977, were paid. Since the organization of the rank 9,001 death claims, aggregating $17,636,462, have been paid. The receipts were: In 1901, $1,581,173; 1902, $1,975,077; the disbursements were, 1901, $1,554,387; 1902, $2,010,388. The resources of March 31, 1902, were $223,401, exclusive of a monthly payment due April 1 of $150,793; the liabilities were $256,254. There were unpaid March 31, 1902, 114 claims, aggregating $250,000.

CINCINNATI AT BARCELONA

CRUISER GOES TO SCENE OF DISTURBANCE.

No Confirmation Received of Report of Looting by Revolutionists in Barcelona.

Washington, Aug. 13.—Over night the navy department received word that the Cincinnati had sailed yesterday from Puerto Cabello for Barcelona, under the instructions cabled yesterday to Commander McLean, directing either the Cincinnati or Topeka to proceed immediately to that point. Commander McLean, who is the senior officer present, evidently decided to go himself and leave the Topeka to protect American interests at Puerto Cabello. It is probable that the Cincinnati already has arrived at Barcelona, but that fact may not be known officially here for several days, as Minister Bowen cabled the state department from Caracas today that the cable from Caracas to Barcelona again had been cut by the revolutionists. On Monday he reported that this cable had been cut, but presumably it had been repaired in the interim, and his last dispatch indicates that the connection again has been lost.

NEWS NOT CONFIRMED.

Neither the state nor the navy department has received confirmation of the press dispatches from Port of Spain, which were conveyed there from Barcelona by boat, of the extent of the fighting at Barcelona and of the report that the American, Italian and Dutch consulates had been pillaged. The officials of the navy department are confident that Commander McLean, with the Cincinnati, will be able to take care of American interests there. Owing to the general disturbed condition of affairs all along the line of the Venezuelan coast and the appeals of Minister Bowen for warships, the question whether our naval force in those waters is sufficient to take care of the existing situation and to meet future contingencies has been canvassed. For the present it has been decided that it is unnecessary to send an additional vessel.

THREE SHIPS NEAR.

We now have three ships at the three critical points—the Cincinnati at Barcelona, the Topeka at Puerto Cabello, where the Germans already have landed a force, and the Marietta at the mouth of the Orinoco, which has been declared blockaded by the Castro government.

The question of affording an asylum to President Castro aboard the American warships in case he should be obliged to flee from the country and should have no other means of escape, has not been seriously considered by the state department, as it is not believed that his condition at present is desperate enough to make such a move imperative. Besides, it is reported through the press dispatches that he has a vessel at La Guaira, upon which he can embark for France if the necessity should arise.

LYNCHED THE WRONG MAN.

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 13.—Henry Lancaster, the negro in jail at Parsons, W. Va., in connection with the murder of Chief of Police F. H. Wilmoth, at Womelsdorf, W. Va., now says that Clements and Carroll, the two negroes lynched, were the wrong men and that the murderer was James Black. The two men lynched were in a house at the time, away from the scene of the crime. Lancaster was being placed under arrest by Wilmoth, when the latter was shot from ambush.

GRANTS ASSAILED

RESOLUTION TO TEST VALIDITY OF FRANCHISES.

AIMED AT TRACTION COMPANY

INTERESTING SESSION OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

At the regular meeting of the city council last night several more or less sensational episodes occurred. The market ordinance providing for the removal of the produce market from Harrison to Barr street was passed over the mayor's veto without a dissenting vote; a resolution to instruct the city attorney to test the validity of the Fort Wayne Traction company's perpetual franchise over certain streets was introduced and referred to the committee on franchises and judiciary by a vote that presents problems in analysis; the signed-up contract between the traction company and the board of works was referred to the franchise committee on a division; the plumbers' ordinance providing for a plumbing inspector was held up for the time being and Councilman Bauer and Clerk Schmidt indulged in a passage at arms on the proposition of passing remonstrances against the vacating of part of theCreighton avenue street car line, without reading.

ALL MEMBERS PRESENT.

For once, every member of the council was present when the roll was called, and after the preliminary routine Mayor Berghoff stated that he had declined to sign the ordinance providing for the removal of the produce market from Harrison to Barr street. He did not formally veto the measure, but stated that he would not sign the ordinance and that it was now up to the council. The ordinance was then passed by an unanimous vote.

The report of the board of works referring to the revised franchise for the Fort Wayne Traction company and providing for a revision of fares and for extensions was then introduced and read. The reading occupied over an hour. The terms of the new contract which was signed by the Fort Wayne Traction company and the board of works are identical with the contract agreed upon a week ago by the traction company and the board and special committee, with a few minor exceptions outlined in yesterday's Sentinel.

PROVISIONS OF FRANCHISE.

Generally the franchise provides for the extensions asked for on Huffman street; forthe construction of a line south on Broadway to a point near the St. Mary's river bridge; for a line east on Leith street to Lafayette, south to Pontiac and east to Walton avenue; for a line west on Dawson street from Calhoun to Hoagland avenue and south to Creighton, thence west to South Wayne avenue, thence south to a point opposite the organ factory, and for the construction of an extension of the Lewis street line by an undetermined route to the corner of Wabash avenue and Pioneer avenue, the route to be determined by the board of works and to be built at any time that the board sees fit to order its construction. The franchise provides for the paving of streets according to terms set out in franchises recently granted to interurban companies; provides for the use of tracks by interurban companies at theFortWayne Traction company's terms and eliminates all consideratons for reduced fares save that six tickets for a quarter and universal transfers will be given, the tickets to be on sale on the cars; the thirty-for-a-dollar tickets are not mentioned in the contract and no reference is made to any tickets whatever, save those to be sold at the rate of six for 25 cents.

The reading finished Ehrman moved to refer the franchise to the committee of the whole, the motion being amended by Hosey to refer it to the committee on contracts and franchises. The amendment carried.

TO TEST OLD FRANCHISES.

The bomb of the evening was then thrown by Councilmen Bauer and Baker in the form of a resolution reading as follows:

"Whereas, The Fort Wayne Traction company is occupying Calhoun and other streets in the city of Fort Wayne under and by virtue of ordinances of said city, which it claims grants to it a perpetual license and franchise to use said streets for street railroad purposes without compensation or the grading or paving of any portion of the same, and,

"Whereas, Ordinances so attempting to grant perpetual licenses and franchises to the use of streets are detrimental to the interests of the city and of doubtful validity, and by some courts held to be illegal and void;

"Therefore be it resolved by the common council of the city of Fort Wayne, That William H. Shambaugh, city attorney for the city of Fort Wayne be and he is hereby authorized and directed to commence legal proceedings against the Fort Wayne Traction company to determine the validity of all ordinances granting, or purporting to grant, perpetual right and use of any street in said city for street railroad purposes and the right to the use of said streets for street railroad purposes by the Fort Wayne Traction company, and to eject and prevent the use of said streets by the Fort Wayne Traction company and all persons and corporations claiming the right to use or using streets, or any of them, under such ordinances.

"J. J. Bauer.
"F. J. Baker."

MR. HOSEY SPEAKS.

Bauer promptly moved the adoption of the resolution and was seconded by Baker. Hosey took the floor and in a lengthy speech, stated that he was not satisfied to put the council on record in adopting a resolution of that kind without having time to consider it. He said that steam railway and other corporations had rights which were practically perpetual and he did not understand why the Fort Wayne Traction company should be singled out as the particular corporation against which the test of validity should be made. He suggested that it would cost the city many thousands of dollars to carry the suit through all the courts to the one of final resort and that if there was a disposition to attack franchises, all franchises not limited should be included in the resolution; anyway, he wanted time to think the matter over and he thought that everybody did. He therefore moved to amend by referring to the committees on contracts and franchises and judiciary.

THE VOTE IN DETAIL.

Bauer called for the ayes and noes and the vote resulted as follows:

Nays—Baker, Bauer, Borkenstein, Ehrman, Gerding, Meier and Zurbuch. Ayes—Baade, Figel, Foellinger, Glenn, Gombert, Griebel, Hench, Hosey, Lennon, Miller, O'Ryan, Scheid and Sordelet.

Of those who opposed the adoption of the resolution, Hench, Gombert and Glenn are on the committee on rules and Hench and Greibel are on the judiciary committee; those favoring the resolution were Bauer and Meier, of the rules committee, and Ehrman, of the judiciary committee. Advocates of the resolution after the vote, were free to express themselves of the opinion that the resolution is hopelessly pigeon-holed.

REMONSTRANCES READ.

This episode was followed by the reading of a remonstrance signed by Henry Keplinger and 281 others, protesting against the removal of any part of the Fort Wayne Traction company's tracks from Creighton avenue, as contemplated by the new franchise. The remonstrance was referred to the committee on contracts and franchises, after which Clerk Schmidt said that there were several other remonstrances which he did not think it necessary to read and that they might go with the balance. This brought Bauer to his feet. He said that he was tired of hearing of documents filed with the council being arbitrarily disposed of; that sometimes such documents never again saw the light of day; that he wanted the remonstrances read and made part of the record. The clerk then proceeded to read the other remonstrances interpolating occasionally with ironical inflections as he referred to Mr. Bauer; they were signed by A. L. Hadley and "some others," G. B. Andrews and "some others" and August C. Becker and "some others." Councilman Lennon arose to say that he knew of another lengthy remonstrance which would be submitted today and would have been submitted last night if his constituents had known that the matter would be presented last night.

THE PLUMBERS' ORDINANCE.

The plumbers' inspector ordinance was next brought up on third reading for final passage, but action was postponed until next meeting in order that the members of the council could have an opportunity to inform themselves more fully on its provisions. Inasmuch as the ordinance has been before the council only about a year and has been printed only two or three times, the advisability of taking time to consider it was readily accepted.

Other routine matters were disposed of. A resolution to open Laselle street to the first alley east of John street was referred to the finance committee. The committee on parks was asked to visit Swinney park with a view of providing means for the levelling of the hill at the east end of the park, facing College street; the report of the treasurer of the school board was referred to the committee on education; Councilmen Bauer, Scheid, Hosey, Ehrman and Zurbach were appointed a committee to attend the annual meeting of the League of American Municipalities to be held in Grand Rapids, week after next, and then after the referring of regular reports to the appropriate committees the council adjourned.

FEAST OF THE ASSUMPTION.

The feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary will be celebrated in the Catholic churches of the city on Friday. At the Cathedral there will be services at 5:30, 7 and 8:30 and high mass at 9 o'clock a. m., and vespers at 7:30 p. m.

NEWS IN POLICE CIRCLES

THE EVIL DISPOSED GIVE THE OFFICERS A REST.

Nothing Doing in Police Court—Dr. Stemen's Gold-Headed Cane Reported Stolen.

The tough element of the city gave the police officers the opportunity of taking a much-needed rest last night and in consequence no arrests were made. Judge Dreibelbiss appeared at police court at the usual hour and felt much relieved when he found that there was nothing doing in his baliwick.

Mrs. Dr. Macbeth reported to the police last evening that her father, Dr. C. B. Stemen, is shy about one gold-headed cane. The doctor attended church night before last and deposited his cane along with umbrellas and other traps near the door, but when he started to leave the edifice after the services the cane was gone. Dr. Stemen is charitable enough to believe that the thief thought he was stealing only an umbrella when he made away with the cane, which is a valuable piece of furniture, presented to him by his children and is inscribed with the word "Father." As another indication of his charitable nature, Dr. Stemen refuses to say at which particular church he was despoiled of his staff.

The proprietress of the peanut stand at 335 East Wayne street mourns the theft of a penny peanut salesman, which was taken from in front of her establishment last night.

The patrol wagon was called to the Ross house last night at 12:30 to take David Dalling, who was seriously ill, to St. Joseph hospital.

Mrs. Runde, of 217 Dawson street, has a circus-day reminiscence in the shape of a recollection that she no longer has the watch which she wore down town on Monday afternoon. She is of the opinion that she lost it on the street. Miss Nelson, of 2122 Broadway, also reports the loss of a gold stick pin on the same day.

A lap robe was stolen from Rippe's Broadway livery barn last night.

Clarence Thomas, aged fourteen, living at 1302 Calhoun street, has been missing since Monday. His father thinks he ran away with the circus.

Martin Kamp, a plumber employed by Zimmerley & Co., was set upon and beaten last night by two men at the corner of Clinton and Jefferson streets. No report of the matter was made to the police, but an effort is being made to connect the assault with the recent troubles in the plumbers' union. Kamp was not much hurt and the animus of the assault is denied by the plumbers.

Eli Eckenberger, living at 309 Grand street, has filed a complaint at police headquarters accusing Mike Lynch (colored) with having stolen a coat from him. Lynch was employed by the Barber Asphalt company and is supposed to have gone to Benton Harbor.

Officer Bobby Dickson was off his beat this afternoon, which was covered by Officer Collins. Bobby was trying to nest himself among the Eagles and reports from the aerie are that Bobby is getting about everything that the grandmaster of initiation has in stock.

QUAY TO HELP END STRIKE.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 12.—Senator Quay says he is willing to do all in his power to end the strike of the anthracite coal miners. George Llewellyn, of the Citizens' alliance, of Wilkesbarre, called upon the senator and asked the latter to use his good offices in an endeavor to end the strike. Senator Quay, after his talk with Mr. Llewellyn, said:

"I am ready to do anything in my power to bring about a settlement of the strike in the anthracite region."

The senator said he deeply regretted the present differences and that he was willing to meet the miners, operators, or both, if it would aid in restoring industrial peace. Any suggestions, he said, that may be made by Chairman Llewellyn will be promptly taken under consideration.

FREED BY JUDGE

GAYNOR AND GREENE GIVEN THEIR LIBERTY.

BOTH RELEASED FROM JAIL

UNITED STATES LOSES ITS EXTRADITION SUIT.

FAULTS IN THE CHARGES

JUDGE CARON AT QUEBEC IN IMPORTANT RULING.

Quebec, Aug. 13.—Judge Caron, of the superior court, today released Captain Greene and Colonel Gaynor, the American contractors, who are wanted in the United States for the alleged frauds against the federal government involving hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Judge Caron based his decision in the case upon the absence of dates on the warrants under which the prisoners were first arrested in Quebec; discrepancies in the charges on which due bills were obtained against the prisoners in the United States and discrepancies between those charges and the charges made in the application for extradition.

The prisoners were at once released and received the congratulations of their friends and the court adjourned.

Mr. McMaster, counsel for the United States government, was asked whether the prosecution intended to take any further action looking to the extradition of Colonel Gaynor and Captain Greene. Mr. McMaster replied that he was unable to speak positively on the subject until after a conference with Messrs. Erwin and Stewart, which is proceeding this afternoon at the Chateau Frontenac.

There was a large attendance of both legal luminaries and spectators. Mrs. Gaynor, accompanied by a number of ladies, was present during the delivery of the judgment. Gaynor and Greene came into court with Sheriff Langelier.

Judge Caron ascended the bench at 10:30 and began the reading of the very lengthy notes preceding his judgment.

With regard to the attacks made upon himself he was sure that the American government authorities and their lawyers could have had no hands in them. The notice to the American government's lawyers to Jailer Valee to attend to delivery of Judge Andrews' judgment was then quoted and Valee's compliance therein noted. That judgment ipso facto dispossessed Judge Andrews of the prisoners and under the circumstances he (Judge Caron) was quite justified in his subsequent issue of writs of habeas corpus addressed to Jailer Valee after he had taken possession of the prisoners following Judge Andrews' pronouncement.

IN JUSTICES' COURTS.

This afternoon at France's court Paul Weber will be examined as to sanity by a jury. He has already been declared insane, but the authorities at the Richmond asylum refused to accept him because he is subject to epileptic fits. If declared insane by the jury today he will be given into the custody of the sheriff until the convening of the circuit court, when another examination will be made and his disposition will permanently be made. The unfortunate young man is of good family and his relatives are able and entirely willing to take care of him, but as the case stands at present there is absolutely no one in authority to undertake his control, in case force should be found necessary. For this reason only the proceedings of today are being taken.

The final inning in the Hiser-Craig paternity suit will be played in France's court today. Justice France has announced that he did not think the case was entirely within his jurisdiction and that he would refer the matter over to the circuit court.

Edward Seidel this morning filed an action against Wolff Brothers, charging obstruction of the public highway. The offense alleged consists in maintaining objectionable posts on the sidewalk to support an advertising balcony; in placing and maintaining boxes on the sidewalk, and in projecting showcases beyond the limits designated by the ordinances. The warrants were served this morning, but the hearing of the case was continued until the return of one of the defendants from New York.

EATS CAKE AND ITS BRIDE.

Kokomo, Ind., Aug. 13.—Two months ago William Richardson saw a recipe for angel food cake in a city paper given by Miss Lida Beadle, of Lockbridge, Ill. Richardson, a wealthy young farmer of this place, tried the recipe and liked it. He wrote to Miss Beadle and in return got a sample of the cake. Photographs were exchanged and Sunday Richardson went to Lockbridge, returning yesterday with his chosen cook. They were married here last evening by Rev. Mr. Choate. Richardson owns a large farm. He is twenty-eight, she twenty-three years of age. Angel food cake is their honeymoon menu. She found his heart by answering his stomach.

Out Lots
I now offer the 120 acres on Walton avenue immediately south of the Lutheran college land, price $24,000 for the entire tract, $200 per acre, which will retail out at $400 per acre. Good opportunity to double your money. Terms easy, small payment down, long time on remainder. When we cleared off the very heavy timber on this rich land, many years ago, 900 thrifty young shade trees were left for outlot purposes, all of which are still there and growing. The population of Fort Wayne is steadily increasing and a still more rapid growth is now about to develop.

SUSPICION
Leads to the Real Cause.
The question of coffee disease or Postum health becomes of the greatest importance when we are thrown on our own resources. Many a woman when suddenly left without means of support can make a comfortable living if health remains.
A brave little woman out in Barnes, Kansas, says, "I feel that I owe you a letter for the good Postum Coffee has done me. For years I was a great sufferer with nervousness without ever suspecting the cause. Two years ago I came down with nervous prostration. My work was light, but I could not do it, I could not even sew or read.
"My sleep was broken and unrefreshing; I suffered intensely and it seemed only a matter of time till I must lose my reason.
"My mental distress was as great as my physical, when one day a friend brought me a trial of Postum Coffee and urged me to use it, instead of coffee for a few days, saying that Postum had cured her of liver trouble and sick headaches. I replied that I thought I could not give up coffee, I had always used it as a stimulant; however, the Postum Food Coffee proved to be pleasing to the taste and I used it and was surprised to see that I was resting and getting better.
"My husband bought several packages and insisted on me using it altogether. Gradually, but not the less surely, I fully recovered. I never used coffee afterward, and when I was left a widow a year later I was able to open a dressmaking shop and support myself and little girls." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

tal. The s re bench of the tion is no bad place for a judge who holds that the common people have rights paramount to the rights of capital.

President Jacob Gould Schurman, of Cornell university, who was a member of the first Philippine commission, was probably right when he stated in an address the other day that no matter what was done in Luzon and some others of the Philippine islands, the situation in Mindanoa presented special difficulties, and that force would be the governing power there indefinitely. Every few days comes the news that a party of Americans has been ambushed by a party of the warlike Moros. The result probably will be that sooner or later important military operations will be necessary in that island. It is no difficult matter to subsidize the sultans and dattos, but that hardly guarantees the kind of peace desired. Mindanoa is probably the richest of all the Philippine group in natural resources and considerable fighting will doubtless have to open the way to their development.

Those members of the city council who composed the majority that refused to be hustled into snap judgment on the passage of a resolution purposing, ostensibly, to require the city attorney to begin suit to abate the old franchises held by the Fort Wayne traction company deserve credit for their display of good sense and mental balance. If such a course is to be pursued by this city it is a matter to be thought over calmly and decided upon with deliberation. Such a suit would involve the city in the gravest and most important litigation this municipality has ever engaged in. That councilmen should think of going ahead precipitately on such a course without deliberation or counsel is astounding. It would mean the opening of a tremendous fight on an untried issue of law. If there is to be an effort made to abrogate the grants held by the traction company let it be initiated in a sensible manner. There is no occasion for the city council to go off half-cocked on a matter so serious. The fact probably is, however, that the resolution had for its purpose the creation of another obstacle to passage of the ordinance approving the contract entered into between the city and the traction company providing for extensions, lower fares and other advantages to the public. If the validity of the traction company's present franchises is to be tested there is ample time to go about it in orderly and well-considered manner. And that is evidently the belief of a majority of the members of the council.

FEAR ANOTHER EXPLOSION

TRAIN LOAD OF OIL WRECKED NEAR ALLEGHENY.

Benzine, Gasoline and Kerosene Is Exposed to Fire—Great Care Taken for Safety.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—Sharpsburg, a suburb of Allegheny, is excited today over the wreck of a West Penn freight train of thirty cars, loaded with benzine, gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oil and fears are entertained of another catastrophe, such as was visited on Sheridan, Pa., a few months ago, when 200 or more people were killed and injured by an explosion following a similar wreck.

Where the wreck occurred a tank car, containing 5,000 gallons of benzine, broke and the fluid ran out, forming in pools along the tracks. There are over 150,000 gallons of inflammable material on the train and the trainmen are keeping people away from the wreck. Should a spark fall from a passing engine and ignite the benzine, the results would be terrible and the engineers have been warned to be careful while passing the scene of the accident. No one was hurt in the wreck.

MANY WERE INCINERATED.

Paris, Aug. 13.—An official telegram from Cape Haytien says that very many persons were incinerated during the burning of Petit Goave on Saturday last. The telegram adds that the blockade of Cape Haytien by the Firminist gunboat Crete-A-Pierrot has not been recognized by the American government.

SHOT BY MINISTER

OLD MYSTERY CLEARED UP BY INDIANA PREACHER.

CONFESSES TO A KILLING

SLEW A WOMAN WHILE SHOOTING AT A MARK.

THE TITHERS AT WINONA

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 13.—A report from Diamond, a mining town in Parke county, is to the effect that Rev. Charles Hill, formerly of that place and now at a mining town in Clay county, has caused a sensation by confessing that he fired the shot that killed Mrs. Smith, a tragedy that had been a mystery for fifteen years.

The aged widow lived with her son at Benwood. On the day she was killed she had gone to the house of a family named Shingdecker to get a bucket of water. As she reached for the bucket she staggered back into the house, saying, "I am shot," dropped to the floor and expired.

It was learned that some boys in the neighborhood were firing at a mark and Tom Llewellyn and Ed Tool were arrested, but the bullet which killed Mrs. Smith was too large for either of the guns the boys were using. They were released, but ever since many persons have believed that one of the boys had fired the fatal shot. Many persons suspected the son, alleging as a motive that he would inherit some property.

The tragedy had been all but forgotten in late years. Now Mr. Hill says, that he and William Trager were shooting at a mark a long distance from the Shingdecker house and that a shot fired by himself in the direction of the house was the one which caused the woman's death.

Mr. Hill was ordained as a minister of the Congregational church at Diamond five years ago. Since then he has been the pastor of churches at Diamond, Coal Bluff, Perth and Cardonia, all mining towns. He has many friends and has been prominent in Odd Fellowship. His friends are astounded, as none believed him to be a man who would carry such a secret.

TITHERS AT WINONA LAKE.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 13.—The national tithers' convention opened at Winona yesterday. The welcoming address was given by Thomas Kane, of Chicago, who was chosen to preside during the conference. Rev. F. O. Ballard, of Indianapolis, whose signature appeared among twelve others from various parts of the country to the call for the first national gathering, outlined the objects of the meeting. He stated it was an inaugural effort toward getting old churches throughout the country to adopt a tithing system or Wesleyan chapel movement. If the system is adopted, the speaker said, there would be plenty of money to evangelize the world on a scale far exceeding the dream of the most ardent Christian worker and foreign mission advocate. Interesting addresses yesterday afternoon were made by Rev. E. C. Hay, of Chicago, and Mrs. Frank F. McClea, of Indianapolis, the latter talking on the third crisis of missions. Delegates are present from all sections of the country. The denominations most numerously reported are the Baptist, Presbyterian, Christian, Methodist Episcopal, United Brethren, Progressive Brethren and Congregational.

NO CLUE TO ROBBERS.

Valparaiso, Ind., Aug. 13.—Although every available police officer in this city is working on the case, not a clew has yet been turned up that promises to lead to the capture of the robbers who looted the residence of Dr. A. A. Stoneburner in broad daylight Monday afternoon, securing $7,000 in cash, jewelry and valuable papers and leaving the servant girl gagged and bound in the bath tub.

Miss Hart, the domestic thus harshly treated, is still in a serious condition and is unable to give any coherent account of the mysterious affair. Physicians say that she will undoubtedly recover from her injuries. The officers yesterday arrested fourteen men, one of whom is a negro, and jailed them on suspicion of being connected with the affair. Several of the fellows had firearms and burglars' tools on them when searched. There is nothing to directly connect any of them with the crime.

BATTLE IN A TENT.

Morristown, Ind., Aug. 13.—William Powers, living a quarter of a mile south of here, was yesterday shot and seriously wounded by Henry Gordon, a wealthy farmer. Powers, who lives on Gordon's farm, went home drunk and began cutting down a tent, under which lay Mr. Gordon and Mr. William Russell. When he was asked to desist he drew a knife and stabbed Russell in the abdomen and Gordon in the leg. Gordon, who started to the house to procure a gun, was followed by Powers, who, on reaching the door, began to break it in. Gordon fired at him, striking him in the leg, arm and abdomen. Russell is resting easy and it is thought he will recover if no complications arise. Powers' wounds are more serious and it is feared he will die.

LIVELY FAMILY MIXUP.

Nashville, Ind., Aug. 13.—Roscoe Karst, the eighteen-year-old son of a general merchant at Morgantown, a village in the southeast corner of Morgan county, was here last night, and officers are said to be on their way here to take him back.

It is said the boy was found by his mother in a saloon, and that before she took her son away she smashed the big bar mirror and all the glasses she could reach and drove all the habitues out of the place. Young Karst was taken home and later, it is alleged, drove the family out of the house with a butcher knife. Later his father caught him and gave him a terrible beating. The boy then went across the street and broke the windows by throwing stones, and later fled to Nashville.

AGED PRIEST BADLY HURT.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 13.—Rev. Father Lucas, aged seventy-four, chaplain of the Catholic hospital at Lafayette, lies at Holy Family hospital in this city in a serious condition as the result of injuries received while in a Lake Shore caboose at this point. He was standing in the aisle, having taken passage on the local freight to go to Otis, when some cars were "kicked" into the caboose. The venerable priest was thrown against the seats, his head being badly injured, but his recovery is expected.

BABE PLAYS WITH MATCHES.

Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 13.—The two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Voris Underwood, south of the city, played with a box of matches yesterday afternoon and when discovered its dress was in flames. The baby was horribly burned about the face and arms and will die.

ANDREWS TALKS MARRIAGE.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—E. Benjamin Andrews, chancellor of the University of Nebraska, in a lecture upon "The Foes of Marriage" at the University of Chicago declared that the American divorce laws are so loose that they are a curse, both upon parents and their children. Prof. Andrews also claimed that a bachelor has no place in the social scale, and to marry a consumptive is a crime. Advice to persons intending marriage was plentiful in Dr. Andrews' lecture. "Hasty marriages do more evil to the marriage relation than anything else," he declared. "Early marriages ought to be discouraged. No one should marry before the age of twenty-one—twenty-five is the best age."

SENATORS GO TO HAWAII.

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—United States Senator J. R. Burton, of Kansas, chairman of the sub-committee of the senate that has been instructed to visit Hawaii and inquire into ex-Queen Liliuokalani's claims to the crown lands, has arrived and expects to sail for Honolulu on the next steamer. Senator Burton expects to spend four or five weeks in Hawaii in company with Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, and Senator Foster, of Washington. They will make a thorough investigation of affairs and conditions in the island, and among other things, will inquire into the crown land question.

BROUGHT IN EXCURSION.

The Fort Wayne and Southwestern electric line brought in an excursion of about eighty people from Roanoke and intermediate points this morning to spend the day at Robison park. The excursion was under the auspices of the U. B. Sunday school at Roanoke, and preparations had been made for a much larger crowd. Threatening weather, however, kept many away. Tickets were sold direct to the park, and the interurban passengers transferred to the city traction line at Columbia and Calhoun streets.

KILLED BY MOROS

AN AMERICAN OUTPOST SURPRISED BY NATIVES.

ATTACKING PARTY ARMED WITH SWORDS AND SPEARS.

CAPTURE OF MANILA IS DULY CELEBRATED.

Manila, Aug. 13.—A small party of Moros surprised an outpost of the Twenty-seventh infantry at Camp Vicars yesterday. Sergeant Foley and Private Carey were killed and Private Van Dorn was severely wounded. The Moros, who numbered only a dozen, were armed with spears and swords. The morning was dark and foggy. The attacking party crawled to within a few feet of the sentinels and then sprang upon them suddenly. The entire outpost rushed to the relief of the sentinels, but they were too late and the Moros escaped, although possibly a few of them were wounded. The American sentinels were terribly cut by the swords and spears.

The attacking Moros were all from Bacolod and the occurrence probably will result in a move against that town, which has a strong fort and other defences.

WOUNDED BY LADRONES.

Constabulary Inspector William Schermerhorn, whose home was in Seattle, Wash., was mortally wounded in a recent fight with Ladrones at Iligan, Mindanao.

The fourth anniversary of the capture of the city of Manila, which was surrendered to the American forces on Aug. 13, 1898, was observed as a general holiday.

ELKS PARADE IN SALT LAKE

SPLENDID DISPLAY MADE BY THE ORDER.

Thousands of the Antlered Brethren in Line—G. P. Cronk, of Omaha, Grand Exalted Ruler.

Salt Lake, Utah, Aug. 13.—The features of today, the second of the annual Elks' reunion, were the parade of uniformed bodies of Elks in competitive drill and the selection of the place for the next annual reunion. For the competitive drill $1,750 in prizes had been offered, the determining points being general appearance and bearing, beauty and originality of costumes and number in line. Special prizes also were offered for the best marching bands, and the result was a parde that, for beauty and originality in the uniforms displayed, the numbers in line and the military precision with which they executed the drills, has seldom been equalled by parades of its kind. Most of the marching clubs were clad in the natty uniform of white and purple of the Elks, but many original uniforms also were shown.

The parade was reviewed by Colonel Bubb, of the Twenty-second U. S. infantry, and the prizes were awarded during the afternoon.

The grand lodge late yesterday afternoon elected by acclamation three officers for the ensuing term as follows:

Grand exalted ruler, George P. Cronk, Omaha, Neb.

Grand leading knight, W. B. Brock, Lexington, Ky.

Grand loyal knight, Judge J. C. Pickens, Denver, Col.

For grand secretary, George Reynolds, Saginaw, Mich.

For grand treasurer, Ed Orris, Meadville, Pa.

For grand lecturing knight, H. A. Coleman, Milwaukee.

For grand trustee, J. D. O'Shea.

DIED A HORRIBLE DEATH.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 13.—Mrs. Vincent Markel died this morning after four hours of the most terrible agony. Rising at an early hour to heat some milk for her six weeks' old baby, she in some way tipped over an alcohol lamp, igniting a gallon can filled with alcohol, which exploded and set the entire room on fire and burned her body in a frightful manner. Her husband died less than two months ago and her baby was born since his death. Three children, all under five years of age, are made orphans by her death.

STRIKE FOR NOVEL CAUSE.

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 13.—Sixty-five miners employed in the Middleridge coal mines, near Coal Creek, are on a strike because the company refuses to permit an official to withhold 10 per cent. of every union miner's wages, to be given to the anthracite coal strikers in Pennsylvania.

BISHOP HANDY SAYS

"I take great pleasure in acknowledging the curative effects of Peruna. At the solicitation of a friend I used your remedy and cheerfully recommend your Peruna to all who want a good tonic and a safe cure for catarrh."—JAMES A. HANDY.

Prominent members of the clergy are giving Peruna their unqualified endorsement. These men find Peruna especially adapted to preserve them from catarrh of the vocal organs which has always been the bane of public speakers, and general catarrhal debility incident to the sedentary life of the clergyman. Among the recent utterances of noted clergymen on the curative virtues of Peruna is the above one from Bishop James A. Handy, D. D., of Baltimore.

OTHER NOTABLE CURES.

A Husband Escaped the Pangs of Catarrh of the Lungs.

Most Cases of Incipient Consumption are Catarrh.

Edward Stevens.

Mrs. Edward Stevens of Carthage, N. Y., writes as follows:

"I now take pleasure in notifying you that my husband has entirely recovered from catarrh. He is a well man today, thanks to you and Peruna. He took six bottles of your medicine as directed, and it proved to be just the thing for him. His appetite is good and every thing he eats seems to agree with him. His cough has left him and he is gaining in flesh, and seems to be well every way."—MRS. EDWARD STEVENS.

Any internal remedy that will cure catarrh in one location will cure it in any other location. This is why Peruna has become so justly famous in the cure of catarrhal diseases. It cures catarrh wherever located. Its cures remain. Peruna does not palliate; it cures.

Mrs. Frederick Williams, President of the South Side Ladies' Aid Society of Chicago, Ill., writes the following words of praise for Peruna from 973 Cuyler avenue, Chicago, Ill.:

"My home is never without Peruna, for I have found during the past six years that there is no remedy that will at once alleviate suffering and actually cure, as Peruna does. Four bottles completely cured me of catarrh of the head of several years' standing, and if my husband feels badly, or either of us catch cold, we at once take Peruna, and in a day or two it has thrown the sickness out of the system."—Mrs. Frederick Williams.

Mrs. W. A. Allison, of 759 Sheffield avenue, Chicago, Ill., is the Assistant Matron of the People's Hospital. She has the following to say about Peruna:

Mrs. W. A. Allison.

"I have had frequent opportunities to observe the wonderful curative effects of Peruna especially on persons suffering with a conjested condition of the head, lungs, and stomach, generally called catarrh. It alleviates pain and soreness, increases the appetite and so tones up the entire system that the patient quickly regains strength and health."—Mrs. W. A. Allison.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

WEALTHY FARMER KEEPS LITTLE ONE FOR BOARD BILL.

Porter County Man Refuses to Restore Nephew to His Grief-Stricken Parents.

Valparaiso, Ind., Aug. 13.—Little Wilson Huffman, aged four years and pretty as a picture, is being held as collateral for a board bill, and war, in which he is the bone of contention, has just been transferred to the Porter superior court here. On the one side are Morgan and Laura Huffman, parents of the baby, and well-to do residents of Kouts, this county. On the opposite side is Samuel Hoffman, a wealthy farmer of Boone Grove, also in Porter county, and an uncle of the youngster.

A month ago Mrs. Laura Huffman was compelled to go to a hospital in Chicago for medical treatment. She placed her child in the care of Samuel Hoffman to be kept during her absence. The uncle became very fond of the pretty youngster in the few weeks he lived beneath his uncle's roof, and when the mother came home Sunday and called for her child he refused to give it up. To the passionate entreaties of the frantic mother the uncle turned a deaf ear, putting forth the argument that he has a lien on the child for its board bill. The parents are wild, and have filed a suit for habeas corpus to regain possession of little Wilson. Judge Tuthill will hear the case in chambers this week.

CHILD BADLY SCALDED.

Irma, the three-year-old daughter of Patrol Driver Joseph Doyle, living on Schick street, was badly scalded while playing about the kitchen yesterday afternoon. The little one accidentally upset a vessel of boiling water and her shoulders and breast were badly scalded. Dr. E J. McOscar dressed the little one's injuries.

PLANS OF AMERICAN STEEL AND WIRE COMPANY.

Emergency Hospitals to Be Established on Grounds of Each of Twenty-two Plants.

Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—It is stated here that a hospital for the treatment of emergency cases will be established on the grounds of each of the twenty-two plants of the American Steel and Wire company. The plans for the buildings, which will be as nearly uniform as conditions will permit, are being prepared by a Philadelphia architect, and the total cost to the company of buildings and equipment will not fall short of $300,000.

The determination of the company to establish a hospital at each of its plants was arrived at after a year's experiment with a temporary emergency hospital, erected for the company in Allentown, Pa. Little was said of the new movement at the time the Allentown hospital was put into service, and few persons outside of the officials were aware of the company's intentions. It did not require a full year to prove the value of such an institution, either in point of bodily comfort to the unfortunate iron workers, who were forced to enter it for treatment, or in point of ultimate expense to the corporation. For several months the company has been shaping its plans for hospitals at all its plants, and it is calculated that within the next six months all will be ready to receive patients.

Each hospital will be of plain brick construction, two stories in height, with baths, sitting rooms, library, dining room and sleeping apartments for the nurses, will have quarters for six beds, that number being figured as the maximum of cases that may need attention at the same time.

A corps of six nurses and two druggists and thorough ambulance service will be requisite for each hospital, in addition to the resident physician.

BALDWIN EXPLAINS.

Tromsoe, Norway, Aug. 13.—Evelyn B. Baldwin and several members of the crew of the America have made statements before a notary public regarding the dispute between Mr. Baldwin and Captain Johanssen, of the America. According to Mr. Baldwin's statement Captain Johanssen refused to obey the orders of the ice-pilot and that necessitated his removal from the command. Baldwin also says Captain Johanssen left the vessel at Honingsvaag without Baldwin's knowledge or consent. The relations between Baldwin and the ice-pilot were always of the best, the statements assert, and it is added that while the death of half the dogs, from worms, hindered the party from reaching as far north as intended, Baldwin is confident that within twelve months the America will reach the intended latitude, en route to the north pole. The consulate at Christiania, to which Captain Johanssen complained, has referred him to the consulate at Bergen.

A Weak Stomach

Indigestion is often caused by overeating. An eminent authority says the harm done thus exceeds that from the excessive use of alcohol. Eat all the good food you want but don't overload the stomach. A weak stomach may refuse to digest what you eat. Then you need a good digestant like Kodol, which digests your food without the stomach's aid. This rest and the wholesome tonics Kodol contains soon restore health. Dieting unnecessary. Kodol quickly relieves the feeling of fulness and bloating from which some people suffer after meals. Absolutely cures indigestion.

LARGEST IN STATE

FORT WAYNE LODGE, B. R. T., HAS 222 MEMBERS.

WRECK SCENE IS A HOODOO

ACCIDENTS WERE FREQUENT THERE YEARS AGO.

ARGUS AND MENTONE PEOPLE OUT FOR PLEASURE.

The largest lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in Indiana and one of the most energetic and hustling bodies of men in the United States is Fort Wayne lodge No. 136. Ever since the establishment of the brotherhood Indianapolis has borne the distinction of having the largest lodge in the state, but last Sunday she was compelled to hand over that honor to Fort Wayne. Three initiations were made then, bringing the total membership of the local lodge up to 220, two more than the membership of the Indianapolis lodge. Tonight the lodge will hold a special meeting to initiate two more applicants who cannot be in attendance at the meeting next Sunday. This will give the lodge a membership of 222. The members do not propose to rest here; they will endeavor to reach the 300 mark by the holidays. The new names to the roll are W. H. Hamilton and J. S. DeWitt, of the Pittsburg, and B. F. Rose, of the Lake Shore.

THE WINONA WRECK.

The wreck crews are still at Winona, picking up the wrecked cars and their cargoes and repairing damages to the tracks. One of the engines, No. 114, was damaged more extensively than at first supposed. Her entire left side is deranged, including broken cylinder, frame, side rods and valve gearing. No. 344, the other engine in the wreck, was not so badly injured. It was taken to Warsaw, on its own wheels yesterday and sidetracked, awaiting an opportunity to come into the shops. Eight of the sixteen cars were totally destroyed and of the others four are battered and twisted out of shape badly. They are steel cars. The scene of the wreck seems to have been the scene of other disasters, some of which resulted in loss of life. Concerning it the Warsaw Times says: "What was originally known as the gravel pit, just east of town and near what is now Winona station, seems to be an unfortunate place for railroad wrecks. We cannot remember just how many have occurred there or in that immediate vicinity, but even early in the history of the old Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, as the road was known in early days, we remember several mishaps, more or less destructive, while on the other hand there have been several bad wrecks involving loss of life. Fortunately, in the one that occurred there Monday night no one was seriously hurt, but it is easy to see how great the loss of life might have been had what is known as the Winona 'dummy'—the train running between Warsaw and Winona during the summer season—been crowded to its fullest capacity, as it very often is. Although there was no loss of life and no one seemed injured, the destruction of property was great and involved the wrecking of a large number of freight cars, while the accident has added another to the long list that has occurred within a couple of miles of track of that locality. If railroad men were as superstitious as sailors on the 'briny deep,' long since they would have declared that place as 'hoodooed.'"

SEVERAL EXCURSIONS.

FRANK MORGAN INJURED.

Frank Morgan, the son of Passenger Conductor Joseph Morgan, of the Pittsburg, was injured in the back last evening and his bicycle was broken by being run over by one of the 'Bus barn hacks. The accident happened on Calhoun street, just as the driver turned his horses into the Pennsylvania driveway of the depot, and seems to have been due to a misunderstanding. The young man thought the hack was going to cross the tracks, otherwise he could have turned aside and avoided a collision. The driver, while he does not admit entire responsibility for the accident, has made amends by paying the cost of repairing the wheel, an arrangement that is entirely satisfactory, it is said, to young Morgan. The latter's injuries are not of a serious character.

HAD A SPECIAL MEETING.

There was a special meeting of Division No. 12, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, last Saturday for the purpose of receiving petitions. Major Wash. Haverstick, a former member of the division, was in attendance at the meeting and was given a great reception from his old comrades. Major Haverstick is the general inspector of supplies for public buildings under the supervision of the United States treasury department and his visit here at this time is to inspect the postoffice building and make note of the manner in which supplies are used there. He finds everything in good shape and his report will say that the government's interests in Fort Wayne are well looked after and that the postoffice building is in good condition. Major Haverstick was once a resident of Fort Wayne, being employed on the Nickel Plate as an engineer. He ran a construction train during the building of the road and later presided at the throttle of a passenger engine between this city and Bellevue. He now resides in Washington. Mrs. Haverstick met the major here and they are now the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Teagarden, 405 West Superior street. There will be a meeting of division 12 next Sunday, when some applicants will be initiated. At the close of business a smoker will take place and it is the wish of the officers that there be a big attendance.

THE UNFORTUNATES.

John Mars, machinist at the Wabash roundhouse, had a knee hurt yesterday. He was taking down a side rod, when the bar he was handling slipped and struck him. He will be off duty several days at least.

H. F. Kraft, a machinist, got some emery in one of his eyes yesterday while grinding up a tool at the Wabash shops.

C. P. Wise, a teamster at the Pittsburg shops, had a thumb mashed by a misdirected blow of a hammer yesterday. He will be off duty awhile.

M. Ault, a machinist at the Kerr Murray works, and F. H. Drissell, a truck repairer at the Pittsburg shops, each had a finger mashed yesterday. A casting fell on the digit of Mr. Ault and Mr. Drissell hit his finger with a hammer.

President W. H. Canniff, of the Nickel Plate, fell while walking on the shore of Canoe lake, in Canada, and fractured one of the bones of his left ankle. The accident will cripple him for several weeks.

COMMUTATION RATES.

The Sentinel is informed that the Wabash will put commutation rates and tickets in service between this city and Peru, effective at Wabash, Huntington and all other stations. Col. Thompson was asked some time ago to lay the matter before the management of the road and the proposition has been accepted. The only question of doubt is the time at which the rate will become effective and the price at which tickets will be sold. The Wabash, with its many trains, believes it can successfully compete with the electric line in local travel and it proposes to make the attempt.

COST OF LOCOMOTIVES.

According to the statements of superintendents of motive power, the cost of locomotives has increased in the last few years 40 per cent. This is one of the results of the large business and the urgent demand for motive power. An engine that could, three years ago, be bought for $10,000 now costs $16,000 if equipped with modern appliances, and railroad officials declare that until the present demand subsides the prevailing high prices will continue.

BASE BALL

It remained for Boston to administer to Pittsburg the most humiliating defeat of the season yesterday. The score stood 11 to 0 and the error sheet and batting record of the Pittsburgers looked as though they had been trying to get onto a few too many curves in a basement or two on Tremont street the night before; their hits numbered only 6 and the errors showed up in the 5 row. None of the other three games played presented any unusual features. The aggregate attendance was 9,693. In the American league only one game, and that one not scheduled, was played at Cleveland with the Baltimore team and Cleveland won out easily. The boys evidently simply wanted to be sociable and took the same train last night for Baltimore, where they play today. Cleveland has now won 10 out of the last dozen games played and the fans are giving the club splendid support, 2,646 people going through the stile yesterday. In the American association a very humdrum record was made. Louisville won as usual; Toledo lost as usual, only more so; Indianapolis got pushed one notch further away from the pennant, and worst of all, Columbus was beaten by Minneapolis. It looks now as though Columbus will have to brace up if she wants to stay in the second division after standing for a knock-down by the genial Mr. Wilmot's aggregation of misfits at Minneapolis. The American association attendance yesterday was 5,657, Louisville being high and Toledo low—jack and game were not out. The results are given below:

PETER POWER MOVES AGAIN.

New York, Aug. 13.—Peter Power, under sentence of thirty days in jail for contempt of court in connection with the Northern Pacific merger case, has disappeared from Montreal and gone toward Quebec, according to a Montreal dispatch to the Press, whether to visit the ancient capital or to board the Beaver line mail steamship Lake Erie, which sails for Liverpool at 4 p. m. Thursday, is not known. It is possible, of course, he may go to New York, but if he is going there he is taking a round-about course. When seen Mr. Power said: "I have no idea of returning to New York in the immediate future, but there is no reason why I should not do so. I mean to stay here a few days more."

LEDOCHOWSKI'S WILL.

A painting of great value is left to the pope and the secretary of the former prefect of the propaganda inherits the cardinal's silver service and a life annuity. The fortune left by the defunct prelate is estimated at one million lire ($200,000).

PALACE NOT TO BE SOLD.

Rome, Aug. 13.—Recently published statements that the famous Borghese palace was to be sold at auction are authoritatively denied by the legal representatives of the Borghese family. On January 24 it was announced that the Italian government had purchased the Borghese art gallery for $800,000, the sale being made by Prince Borghese because of financial difficulties. In November, 1901, Prince Borghese offered to donate to the Italian nation all of his paintings except Raphael's "Sacred and Profane Love" if he were allowed to sell that picture abroad. It was said he had been offered $1,000,000 for this painting. The government refused permission to sell it abroad.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—After an early show of firmness on strong Liverpool cables grains slipped back to an easy position. September wheat started ¼c to ⅛c up at 69¼c to 69⅛c, sold at 69⅜c and declined to 68¾c. The weather was not as wet as had been predicted, the southwest was moving wheat liberally and generally receipts were larger than expected. Early trade was not heavy. Local receipts were 291 cars, 10 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 105 cars, making a total for the three points of 396 cars against 449 last week and 395 a year ago. The harvests in the spring wheat country are completed in the southern half of the belt and are now well under way in the central portion.

Heavy selling by leading elevators both of September and December wheat continued to be a bearish factor until September went down to 68¼@68⅛c. Then a strong cash demand sent prices up 1c and September closed strong 1⅛@1¼c higher at 70⅛@70¼c.

Corn receipts today were bullishly low at 24 cars. The cash demand also was improved and cables were firm. This started September corn ⅛c to ⅜c up at 52⅜c to 52⅝c. Selling set in and on the wheat dip September corn fell back to 51¾c.

September corn broke to 51⅜c on the early selling, but wheat strength brought a rally and September closed firm ⅛c up at 52⅜c.

Oats showed good strength during the early trading. Receipts today were low at 189 cars and the reports from the country had it that the farmers were not letting go of their oats so readily as was expected. September opened ⅛c to ⅜@½c up at 30⅛@30¼c, to 30½c and sold to 30⅝c.

Provisions opened quiet and easier. Hogs were in moderate supply and prices lower. There was some covering by traders which had oversold, but little effect was noticed. September pork opened 5c down at $16.25; September lard 2½c up at $10.57½, and September ribs 5c up at $9.80, but dipped to $9.72½.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 13.—Prices started upwards with some show of vigor in the opening dealings. There were 2,500 shares of Manhattan sold at 136 to 135¼, compared with 134 last night. St. Paul gained 1⅜, but ran off ½, and there were gains of about a point in Brooklyn Transit, Baltimore and Ohio and Cleveland, C., C. & St. Louis. A number of the grangers and Pacifics showed gains of as much as ½. There were only a few unimportant losses outside of a decline of ¾ in Amalgamated.

Realizing orders met the strong opening advances, but other stocks showed considerable strength. St. Paul reacted a point while Illinois Central, Hocking Valley, Des Moines and Fort Dodge, United States Express and Pacific Coast gained about as much. Colorado Fuel opened 3 points higher at 91¼. Norfolk and Western was actively bought later and touched 70⅜, but the general trading was languid.

Trans-continental stocks weakened when Rock Island declined 3¼. Heaviness also developed at other points, but there was a mixture of strength which made the dealings irregular. Colorado Fuel, Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville preferred and Pacific Coast fell off a point and Des Moines and Fort Dodge preferred sold 4 points below the previous sale with a rally of 9½. The lead stocks rose strongly, 1¾ for the common and 2½ for the preferred. An upward movement in the Wabash stocks led to advances in other Goulds, the Wabashes, Missouri Pacific and Wheeling and Lake Erie first preferred rising 1 to 1½. The grangers generally hardened in sympathy. United States Express rose 8¼ in all and American Express 4¾. Pittsburg, C., C. & St. Louis, the Iowa Central stocks, Erie second preferred, United States Reduction, Sloss-Sheffield Steel and General Chemical rose a point or more.

Bonds were steady.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR ASSAULT

GOTTLIEB HEGER SUES HENRY HOLMAN FOR $2,500.

Alleges That He Suffered Great Bodily Harm—News About the Court House.

Margaret Dittoe sues Emma H. Fleming on account, demanding $900.

Gottlieb Heger has filed a suit in the superior court against Henry Holman, alleging damages and demanding $2,500 as a salve. Heger is a young man and he and the defendant have had trouble. On August 4 the trouble arrived at an acute stage and the result was that Holman assaulted Heger. The complaint alleges that he seized him by the throat and choked him with much and undue violence; so violently in fact that a bone with an unpronounceable name was broken and muscles known intimately by medical students were lacerated. The plaintiff states that by reason of the injuries he received at the hands of Holman he will have to undergo a heroic surgical operation to be relieved and that for all this he is entitled to at least $2,500 and other proper relief.

The superior court will be in session tomorrow and for that matter was in session a few minutes yesterday afternoon. Not much of a session, but just long enough to grant Joseph Martin a divorce from Allie J. Martin, the complaint having been filed just a few minutes previously.

The county commissioners were in session this morning for the transaction of a few items of very ordinary routine business. The next session will be held on Saturday.

James Morris, sent over from police court yesterday, was today released, the docket having been stayed to insure the payment of the judgment against him.

William Miles, the man who attempted suicide at Columbia City last week, and who has since been confined in the county jail, has been declared insane by a commission.

Ellis Smith, the colored gentleman who was sent over from police court yesterday morning for being too handy with his razor, was released today. An indulgent friend signed his bond at the municipal court and Mr. Smith's troubles are supposed to be over, temporarily at least.

After much delay, caused by the cool weather, the bathing season is now fully open all along the Atlantic coast. VARIOUS COMMITTEES

TO OFFICIATE AT COURT HOUSE DEDICATION.

County Commissioners Have No Word from President and Details Move Slowly.

The county commissioners this morning began the work of formulating various committees to officiate in connection with the dedication of the Allen county court house, but the list is not yet completed, and will not be given out until something definite can be fixed regarding the date of the ceremony. There will be an executive committee, a transportation committee, a committee on invitation and a committee on reception, with possibly one or two others.

The commissioners are handicapped in proceeding with arrangements for the big event for the reason that no decisive information has yet been received regarding the coming of the president, who was invited some weeks ago. The board has signified its willingness to fix the date of the dedication to suit the president's convenience, but beyond the newspaper information that President Roosevelt would spend the hour from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m., on September 23, in Fort Wayne, the commissioners are not advised.

Until this is received, the date will not be determined. The hour indicated is not one which would have been chosen by the commissioners, and it is regarded as quite impossible for the dedication ceremony to be held at such an hour. It was suggested this morning, however, that if it shall prove impossible to secure President Roosevelt's presence in Fort Wayne earlier in the day, a public reception to the president at the court house would be entirely appropriate as the closing feature of the dedication day program.

WILL HAVE LIVELY DAY.

The president's itinerary through Indiana, as now arranged, provides for a very lively day. The train will leave Detroit on September 22 and will arrive at Logansport at 6 o'clock the following morning. The stop at Logansport will be very short. Later in the day, however, the train will again touch Logansport for a longer stay. Leaving Logansport the morning of the 23rd the train will proceed to Indianapolis over the Pennsylvania road, arriving there about 8 a. m. The president and party will remain in Indianapolis until 11:30 a. m., leaving at that hour for Muncie over the Big Four. Arriving there at 12:45, the party will remain until 1:15.

From Muncie the train will proceed to Kokomo over the Lake Erie and Western, being scheduled to arrive there at 3 p. m. A stay of a half hour will be made at Kokomo, and at 3:30 the train will leave over the Pennsylvania for Logansport. Arriving there at 4:15, the party will remain in Logansport for thirty minutes, leaving at 4:45 by way of the Vandalia. The train is scheduled to arrive at Columbia City at 5:50 and will leave there at 6 o'clock for Fort Wayne. The arrangement is to arrive at Fort Wayne at 6:30 o'clock, stop an hour and leave at 7:30 for Chicago.

DEATH'S SUMMONS IS SUDDEN

FRANK J. SPRECHT, AGED 68, DIES FROM APOPLEXY.

Julius Mason, Well Known Young Farmer, Succumbs to Stomach Trouble—Mortuary Matters.

Frank J. Sprecht, a retired farmer, sixty-eight years of age, died very suddenly from apoplexy at 2 o'clock this morning at his home, 60 Glasgow avenue, death ensuing within a few minutes after he had been stricken by the disease.

Shortly before 2 o'clock a son, John Sprecht, heard an unusual noise in his father's room, the sound resembling that of one breathing with extreme difficulty. He hurried to his father's bedside and found him unconscious. Dr. J. Simon was hurriedly summoned, but his efforts to restore the stricken man were futile.

Mr. Sprecht was a native of Baden, Germany, but had resided in America many years. He retired from farming some years ago and had been living a retired life in this city. Mrs. Sprecht died some time ago. There are two children—John Sprecht and Mrs. May Richards, both of this city.

The family formerly resided in Noble county, where Mr. Sprecht still owned a farm. It is probable that the remains will be shipped to Laotto for interment.

MASON.

Julius Mason, thirty-five years of age, died at 3 o'clock this morning at the home of his father, John B. Mason, in Perry township, nine miles north of Fort Wayne. Death was due to stomach trouble and it followed an illness of several months.

It is said the disease from which Mr. Mason died was attributable to an accidental injury received while at a social gathering some months ago. At this time he was accidentally struck in the side and from the injury an abscess developed, which terminated in his death.

The young man was unmarried. He was a prominent young farmer of that vicinity and was widely known. The surviving relatives include the father, two brothers and three sisters—John N. Mason, Mrs. Frank Huguenard, Mrs. Adolph Grosjean, Joseph A. Mason and Miss Adell Mason. Joseph N. Mason, circuit court bailiff, of this city, is a cousin of the deceased.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the residence and at 10 o'clock from St. Vincent's Catholic church at Academie.

SCROFULA

I bequeath to my children Scrofula with all its attendant horrors, humiliation and suffering. This is a strange legacy to leave to posterity; a heavy burden to place upon the shoulders of the young.

This treacherous disease dwarfs the body and hinders the growth and development of the faculties, and the child born of blood poison, or scrofula-tainted parentage, is poorly equipped for life's duties.

Scrofula is a disease with numerous and varied symptoms; enlarged glands or tumors about the neck and armpits, catarrh of the head, weak eyes and dreadful skin eruptions upon different parts of the body show the presence of tubercular or scrofulous matter in the blood. This dangerous and stealthy disease entrenches itself securely in the system and attacks the bones and tissues, destroys the red corpuscles of the blood, resulting in white swelling, a pallid, waxy appearance of the skin, loss of strength and a gradual wasting away of the body.

S. S. S. combines both purifying and tonic properties, and is guaranteed entirely vegetable, making it the ideal remedy in all scrofulous affections. It purifies the deteriorated blood, makes it rich and strong and a complete and permanent cure is soon effected. S. S. S. improves the digestion and assimilation of food, restores the lost properties to the blood and quickens the circulation, bringing a healthy color to the skin and vigor to the weak and emaciated body.

BARTHOLIN MURDER MYSTERY GROWS DEEPER.

BELIEF GROWS THAT BODY BURIED WAS NOT OF HER.

MAN THOUGHT TO BE MURDERER AT JOPLIN, MO.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Mystery surrounding the Bartholin murder case baffles the Chicago police. Feeling is growing stronger that the body of the young woman found last Thursday and buried Monday as that of Minnie Mitchell was not that of the young woman. Coroner Traeger today was asked to exhume the body, but he declined to disinter it. He said the body was so decomposed that such action would be of little avail in settling doubts as to identity. The coroner's physician and other well known medical men, however, state in positive terms that eight days' exposure couldn't have effected such a change in a body. Working on this theory, the police have sent out tracers to find Wm. J. Bartholin and his fiancee together alive. Efforts also are being made to identify the supposed Mitchell body as some one of numerous other women who have been missing. The Mitchell family has taken no steps to clear up the mystery about the body, apparently being satisfied that the clothing scattered about the field where it was found was sufficient identification.

Oscar Thompson, one of Mrs. Bartholin's roomers, is still retained by the police and today was once more put through the "sweating" process to induce him to tell the police something definite that will lead to a solution of the two murders. He maintained he knew nothing. The police have received word from Denver that M. L. R. Edwards, another of the roomers at the Calumet avenue death house, would return to Chicago as soon as the transportation forwarded to him today by Chief of Police O'Neil reached him.

TRACE OF BARTHOLIN.

Joplin, Mo., Aug. 13.—William J. Bartholin, wanted in Chicago in connection with the Bartholin-Mitchell murders, is believed to have been in Joplin Monday night in company with a man who answers the description of Harry Church, a former boarder at the Bartholin home in Chicago. The man believed to have been Bartholin stopped at the Forney house Monday night, and from pictures received today by the police and from descriptions of the man Jibb Forney, proprietor of the hotel, is positive that the stranger was Bartholin. The man was accompanied by another stranger who fits the descriptions of Church. The second man did not stop at the hotel, but joined his companion at the Forney house before daylight Tuesday, when the two left hastily. Since then no trace has been found of the men so far.

According to J. M. Brooks, owner of the hotel Royal, at Guthrie, Okla., and the statement of the day and night clerks at the hotel, Bartholin stopped in Guthrie all day Sunday, disappearing Sunday evening. It would have been easy for him to have made the journey to Joplin, which is about 200 miles distant, by Monday.

DIG UP AN OLD TAX CLAIM

UNCLE SAM WANTS $4,000 FROM FORT WAYNE GAS COMPANY.

Special Enactment, Now Repealed, of Which Nobody Here Had Any Information.

Uncle Sam wants the sum of $4,000 from the Fort Wayne Gas company, and when the bill arrived a few days ago it occasioned considerable surprise in the local offices of that company, for nobody connected with the corporation was aware of the existence of any such liability.

The item is a memento of the war with Spain, and the bill extends backward for the term of four years. It appears that in the war revenue act passed by congress in 1898 was a provision, evidently framed up to catch the Standard Oil company, provided that pipe line companies whose receipts reached or exceeded the sum of $250,000 annually should pay a special tax.

The gas company officials state that they were unaware of the existence of any such law, and if the revenue agents knew of it they at least made no attempt to collect from the Fort Wayne company until a short time ago. The law went out of effect July 1 of the present year, but the revenue department is now insinuating that it would like to have payment for the entire four years, the item amounting in round numbers to $4,000.

Further than this, they ask the company to sign a waiver of rights by the statute of limitations. The case is regarded as a very unusual one and has been submitted to the company's attorneys.

HARVESTER FIRMS IN TRUST

COMPANY WITH $120,000,000 CAPITAL CHARTERED.

McCormick and Deering Companies, of Chicago, Reported to Be in the Merger.

New York, Aug. 13.—The incorporators of the International Harvester company, articles of incorporation for which were filed yesterday in Jersey City, today made public a statement which says in part:

"The International Harvester company has been organized under the laws of New Jersey with a capital stock of $120,000,000, to manufacture and sell harvesting machinery. It has purchased the property and business of the following manufacturers: The McCormick Harvesting Machine Co., Deering Harvesting Co., Piano Manufacturing Co., Warder, Bushnell & Glessner Co., (Champion); Milwaukee Harvesting Co. The company is capitalized upon an exceptionally conservative basis. Of its assets $80,000,000 are in cash working capital. The company will require no financing and there will be no offer of its stock to the public, all the cash required having been provided by its stockholders."

After alluding to the advance in prices of raw material and the possible consequent advance in the price of harvesting machinery unless economies in existing conditions of manufacture could be accomplished, the statement continues:

"The manufacturers realize that their welfare and the interests of the farmers are identical. An advance in the price of agricultural machinery would injure the farmers and react upon the manufacturers. But on the other hand, if existing conditions continued, an advance in prices would be inevitable. It thus became necessary that either the prices should be advanced or that substantial economies should be effected in the manufacture and distribution of agricultural machinery. The management of the company will be in charge of gentlemen who have for years been identified with the business. The company will start with ample manufacturing facilities. It has five fully equipped manufacturing plants in the United States and one plant in process of construction in Canada."

The officers of the company are as follows:

ORDERS SALE OF RAILROAD.

Columbus, O., Aug. 13.—Judge Thompson, of the United States court, made an order for the sale of the Columbus, Sandusky and Hocking railroad at the court house here on September 24. It is the only direct competitor of the Toledo and Ohio Central and Hocking Valley Coal roads controlled by the Morgan interests and it is expected that the Gould's, Morgans and the Pennsylvania interests will vie with each other for the property. The upset price is $2,700,000.

The Home Missionary society of St. John's Lutheran church will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. John Seelig, 920 Lake avenue.

Louis Diether has begun the construction of a handsome residence at Creighton and Fairfield avenues.

EAGLES IN TOWN

SPECIAL TRAIN ARRIVES AT 3 O'CLOCK.

FORT WAYNE MEMBERSHIP IS ABOVE 250.

AFTERNOON CEREMONIES AT ELKS' LODGE ROOMS.

Fort Wayne Aerie, Fraternal Order of Eagles, with a membership of more than 250, was duly instituted at the Elks' lodge rooms in the Lau building late this afternoon. The ceremony is under direction of W. E. Edwards, of Anderson, state organizer for the order, and the exercises were participated in by several hundred members of the order from various cities of the state.

The largest delegation of visitors to reach the city was that which arrived in a special train on the Lake Erie and Western railroad shortly after 3 o'clock this afternoon. It brought several hundred enthusiastic members of the fraternity from Marion, Elwood, Alexandria, Anderson, Muncie, Hartford City and other points, with bands from Muncie, Marion and Hartford City.

At the depot the incoming delegation was greeted by the big contingent of candidates who are to be admitted to membership this afternoon. The Fort Wayne gentlemen had gathered at the lodge rooms early in the afternoon, passed through the preliminary steps for admission into the fraternity, and then marched in a body to the Lake Erie depot to formally welcome their guests. With little delay the procession was reformed and the line of march to the lodge rooms begun.

Drapers and decorators had completed the special decorations in the lodge rooms, flowers, flags and bunting combining to add largely to the beauty of the rooms. The work of instituting the Fort Wayne aerie proceeded without loss of time, and the Muncie degree staff then took up the herculean task of conferring the degree upon more than 260 candidates. The list is the largest ever admitted at the institution of an aerie, and the degree work will hardly be completed before 9 o'clock this evening.

A BANQUET TONIGHT.

A banquet at the Fort Wayne club is to be the closing feature of the day's program. Immense tables are to be spread in the ball room and covers are laid for more than three hundred guests. Elaborate decorations in the red, white and blue of the order are present in profusion, and the menu is to be a splendid one. Major G. Will Wilson has been chosen as toastmaster, and there will be a lively program of responses.

The fraternity was organized but four years ago at Seattle, Wash., by about twenty-five kindred spirits, and was originally known as the "Order of Good Things." From this small beginning it has evolved into a widely known fraternity. Its objects are purely social and fraternal in character, and its motto is "Liberty, Truth, Justice and Equality." Each aerie selects and pays a physician who renders his services to members of the fraternity without expense to the individual, and sick and death benefits are often paid. The organization today is a notable addition to fraternal circles in Fort Wayne.

TRAFFIC SYSTEM IS LIKELY

SOUTHWESTERN AND BIG FOUR MAY GET TOGETHER.

Rumor That Indianapolis Tickets are to Be Sold by the Fort Wayne Interurban Line.

It is quite probable that through tickets will be sold from Fort Wayne and intermediate places on the Fort Wayne and Southwestern traction line to Indianapolis, by way of the Big Four, says the Wabash Plain Dealer. If this is done it will be the first time in the history of electric cars that they have been recognized enough by steam roads to make joint tickets. A plan was on foot by the trolley company and the Pennsylvania at Fort Wayne, but fell through. Today fifteen or twenty came in and took the Big Four. Yesterday another crowd came up and went east on the trolley.

General Manager Nelson, of the traction line, stated this afternoon that while the work train is on this end of the line cars will be run each two hours, beginning at 7:30 a. m. and continuing until 9:30 p. m.

The first car of freight came in today on the traction line, from Fort Wayne to Wabash. The receipts Sunday between Huntington and Wabash were $314, which means about 1,500 passengers, according to Mr. Nelson. The 1:30 car today brought in forty people.

SLEW HIS DRUNKEN FATHER.

Ottumwa, Iowa, Aug. 13.—J. H. Sims, a wealthy farmer, was shot and killed by his son John today while endeavoring to murder his wife with a butcher knife. The dead man was intoxicated and made a vicious attack upon his wife for a fancied wrong and the son interfered just in time to save her life.

RAIN STOPS PAVING WORK

BUCHANAN STREET WOULD BE COMPLETED OTHERWISE.

Maiden Lane Now Ready for Asphalt Surfacing—Main Street Work is Dragging.

It was expected that the Buchanan street pavement would be completed this afternoon, but the rain this morning interfered and the completion of the job will be delayed until tomorrow. On Maiden Lane the concreting has all been completed and the surfacing will be completed within a few days. During the past week the Barber company has had its repair gang out during odd moments and the result is that all the asphalt intersections of the Southwestern road have been repaired and there now remains less than a week's job of repair work on the various asphalt streets in the city.

On the West Main street paving contract things have not been moving so smoothly. In spite of the assurance of Contractor Moellering that he had all his material on the ground or actually in sight, The Sentinel learns from an indisputable source that the "nose brick" to be used in the construction of the pavement did not arrive until yesterday. Ground in the street was broken on July 24, since which time the south half of the very important thoroughfare has been out of business. The residents along the line of the street are inclined to say unkind things, based on the fact that no concreting is being done on the street and that the old foundation under the block pavement is being used. Under and between the street car tracks concrete is being placed, but that is a private contract entirely separate from the street paving contract. It was expected that the work of paving would be commenced today, but the rain interfered here the same as in other public work.

Master Mechanic Dontenwill, of the Holly Manufacturing company, engaged in putting in the new engines and pumps at station No. 2, says that he expects to have the new machine running perfectly within two weeks. By that time the danger of failure of water supply for this year will be over and then the waterworks trustees can sit down at their leisure and figure out how much the Holly company owes the city, at the rate of $25 per day from June 18.

QUIET AT SHENANDOAH.

Shenandoah, Pa., Aug. 13.—The provost guard of two companies, which has been kept on constant duty since the troops were called here, was reduced to one company today, the soldiers at the Pennsylvania railroad station having been withdrawn. The troops were placed at that point at the request of the borough officials on account of the lawlessness that had prevailed. The company stationed at the Reading railroad station, the scene of the riot, will be kept there for some time.

General Gobin has not sent troops into the Catawissa valley, where the farmers were being robbed of crops and poultry and it is not likely that any will be ordered there unless the depredations in that district should be repeated. The valley covers a large stretch of farming country and it would be a considerable drain on the force now in camp to properly patrol it.

STEBBINGS HELD FOR MURDER.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Walter L. Stebbings, who on Saturday stabbed to death Walter A. Scott, president of the Illinois Wire company, in the latter's office in the Monadnock building, was held to the grand jury today by the coroner's jury.

A MIMIC MURDER

LEADS WOMAN TO DISCLOSE SLAYER OF HUSBAND.

CLEVELAND MAN SLAIN WHILE WALKING WITH WIFE.

WOMAN MAKES A CONFESSION

IN HYSTERICS SHE NAMES THE MURDERER.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 13.—Mrs. Ignatz Wiurchowski has made a written confession to the police that the man who shot and killed her husband Sunday night was Charles Janaski, a former boarder at the Wiurchowski home and who is alleged to be infatuated with Mrs. Wiurchowski.

Mrs. Wiurchowski and her husband were on their way home late Sunday night, when a man rushed from the bushes and killed Wiurchowski instantly.

Mrs. Wiurchowski told the police that it was a robber that committed the crime.

Since the commission of the murder Mrs. Wiurchowski and James Janaski have been under arrest. Last night two of the city detectives went through the crime in mimic as nearly as possible from Mrs. Wiurchowski's description. One detective acted as escort for Mrs. Wiurchowski, while the other rushed at them from the bushes. When the revolver was pointed at the detective's head the woman went into hysterics and cried out:

"My God, it's Charles Janaski."

THE MAN CONFESSES.

At noon Charles Janaski, the man accused by Mrs. Wiurchowski with the murder of her husband, confessed to having committed the crime and implicates Mrs. Wiurchowski. He states that they had gone so far as to decide what to do with Wiurchowski's life insurance. The charge of murder has been placed against Janaski and Mrs. Wiurchowski.

BUSY DAY FOR THE PYTHIANS

SUPREME LODGE CONVENES IN SAN FRANCISCO.

Chief Event Was the Grand Parade of the Order—Many Uniformed Bodies in Line.

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—This was another busy day for the Knights of Pythias. At 9 a. m. the Pythian Sisterhood held its second session at Elks' hall. There was a review of the Uniform Rank and competitive drills in the pavilion at 9:30 a. m., and at the same hour the supreme lodge convened at the Palace hotel. The imperial palace of the Knights of Khorassan held a session at Pythian castle at 10 a. m., and the supreme temple of the Rathbone Sisters assembled at Native Sons' hall at the same time. The chief event of the day was the grand parade, which moved at 3 p. m. and traversed the principal streets of the city. Twenty-five brigades of the Uniform Rank and thousands of other Knights were in line.

In the evening there will be a grand musical concert in the pavilion and a banquet to the visiting Rathbone Sisters.

Brig. Gen. Logan, of Louisville, Ky., who has just arrived, opened the Kentucky headquarters and will begin a campaign to get the next supreme convention and encampment for Louisville.

Gen. H. C. Winsor, of Massachusetts, has established headquarters and today began the organization of his following from New England.

The second annual convention of the Pythian Educational association was called to order at the Palace hotel today. The session may be extended to Thursday. Routine business and the discussion of various matters of interest will occupy the time of the convention. About twenty fraternal papers are represented.

The report of R. V. L. White, supreme keeper of records and seal, showed that the total number of subordinate lodges December 31, 1901, was 7,002, the net gain during the year being 142 lodges. The net gain in 1900 and 1901 combined was 262 lodges and 47,632 members. He said that a per capita tax of 6 cents per annum will produce sufficient revenue to meet all requirements. The states having over 10,000 members are as follows: California, 11,604; Illinois, 44,103; Indiana, 42,937; Iowa, 26,852; Kansas, 11,961; Maine, 13,101; Massachusetts, 17,188; Michigan, 13,411; Missouri, 21,048; New Jersey, 13,239; New York, 20,276; Ohio, 60,115; Pennsylvania, 42,108; Texas, 16,554.

The report of the board of control, endowment rank, showed that during the last two fiscal years 19,347 applications were considered and 1,579 death claims, amounting to $3,089,977, were paid. Since the organization of the rank 9,001 death claims, aggregating $17,636,462, have been paid. The receipts were: In 1901, $1,581,173; 1902, $1,975,077; the disbursements were, 1901, $1,554,337; 1902, $2,010,388. The resources of March 31, 1902, were $223,401, exclusive of a monthly payment due April 1 of $150,793; the liabilities were $256,254. There were unpaid March 31, 1902, 114 claims, aggregating $250,000.

CINCINNATI AT BARCELONA

CRUISER GOES TO SCENE OF DISTURBANCE.

No Confirmation Received of Report of Looting by Revolutionists in Barcelona.

Washington, Aug. 13. Over night the navy department received word that the Cincinnati had sailed yesterday from Puerto Cabello for Barcelona, under the instructions cabled yesterday to Commander McLean, directing either the Cincinnati or Topeka to proceed immediately to that point. Commander McLean, who is the senior officer present, evidently decided to go himself and leave the Topeka to protect American interests at Puerto Cabello. It is probable that the Cincinnati already has arrived at Barcelona, but that fact may not be known officially here for several days, as Minister Bowen cabled the state department from Caracas today that the cable from Caracas to Barcelona again had been cut by the revolutionists. On Monday he reported that this cable had been cut, but presumably it had been repaired in the interim, and his last dispatch indicates that the connection again has been lost.

NEWS NOT CONFIRMED.

Neither the state nor the navy department has received confirmation of the press dispatches from Port of Spain, which were conveyed there from Barcelona by boat, of the extent of the fighting at Barcelona and of the report that the American, Italian and Dutch consulates had been pillaged. The officials of the navy department are confident that Commander McLean, with the Cincinnati, will be able to take care of American interests there. Owing to the general disturbed condition of affairs all along the line of the Venezuelan coast and the appeals of Minister Bowen for warships, the question whether our naval force in those waters is sufficient to take care of the existing situation and to meet future contingencies has been canvassed. For the present it has been decided that it is unnecessary to send an additional vessel.

THREE SHIPS NEAR.

We now have three ships at the three critical points—the Cincinnati at Barcelona, the Topeka at Puerto Cabello, where the Germans already have landed a force, and the Marietta at the mouth of the Orinoco, which has been declared blockaded by the Castro government.

The question of affording an asylum to President Castro aboard the American warships in case he should be obliged to flee from the country and should have no other means of escape, has not been seriously considered by the state department, as it is not believed that his condition at present is desperate enough to make such a move imperative. Besides, it is reported through the press dispatches that he has a vessel at La Guaira, upon which he can embark for France if the necessity should arise.

LYNCHED THE WRONG MAN.

Cumberland, Md., Aug. 13.—Henry Lancaster, the negro in jail at Parsons, W. Va., in connection with the murder of Chief of Police F. H. Wilmoth, at Womelsdorf, W. Va., now says that Clements and Carroll, the two negroes lynched, were the wrong men and that the murderer was James Black. The two men lynched were in a house at the time, away from the scene of the crime. Lancaster was being placed under arrest by Wilmoth, when the latter was shot from ambush.

FOUR LIVES LOST

TUGBOAT BLOWS UP IN NEW YORK HARBOR.

BUT TWO ABOARD ESCAPE

BOAT BROKEN IN TWO AMIDSHIPS BY THE EXPLOSION.

WRECK WENT DOWN AT ONCE

NEAR-BY VESSEL RESCUES TWO OF THE CREW.

New York, Aug. 13.—The boiler of the tug Jacob Kuper blew up today near St. George's, Staten Island. Four of the crew were killed or drowned. Two men were picked up alive by the Staten Island ferryboat Castleton and brought to this city.

The tug sank almost immediately and later a quantity of wreckage and clothing and the name board came ashore with the ebb tide along Staten Island. The owners of the tug are G. D. Kuper & Bros.

The tug was towing a lighter loaded with cotton from Brooklyn to Staten Island. The Staten Island ferryboat Castleton was near the scene of the explosion when it occurred.

Captain Braisted, of the ferryboat, says the explosion and the sinking of the tug were almost simultaneous. The tug seemed to break in two amidships. The Castleton was at once stopped and boats were lowered. Only one man was picked up by the Castleton. His face was horribly burned and scalded. The other rescued man was picked up by a passing tugboat.

One of the men, a deckhand named Hanson, was taken to Smith infirmary and the other to the Marine hospital on Staten Island. Neither was able to give any account of the accident.

The lighthouse boat Daisy is at the place where the tug went down grappling for the bodies of the lost.

The Jacob Kuper was in charge of Captain Henry Lundberg. She was built at Charleston, S. C., in 1865. She was 96 feet long and was of 144 tons gross. She was originally named Bristol, but was chartered by the government and the name changed to Cheyenne, then back to Bristol and finally to Jacob Kuper.

There were eight men on the tug and all were blown into the water. Four were rescued. Three are injured badly and one at least is not expected to live. The tug boat sank immediately.

The dead:

Captain Harry Johnson, of South Brooklyn, who was temporarily in command of the tug; William Purdy, engineer; —— Lewis, the cook; Lawrence Hanson, deck hand.

The injured are:

Henry Nicholas, fireman, scalded; Lawrence Johnson, deck hand, condition serious; Christian Gregg, scalded; Edward Lane, slightly injured.

Captain Lundberg was not on board. The cause of the accident will probably never be known as Engineer Purdy is among the dead.

HAD A FOOT CRUSHED.

William F. Rodenbeck, a boilermaker, had his left foot crushed at the lower part of the instep, immediately behind the toes, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. A heavy channel iron fell upon the member. Dr. C. B. Steinen, who was called, made a hasty examination and ordered the patient removed to St. Joseph hospital. He believes the bones are broken.

RESOLUTION TO TEST VALIDITY OF FRANCHISES.

AIMED AT TRACTION COMPANY

INTERESTING SESSION OF THE CITY COUNCIL.

At the regular meeting of the city council last night several more or less sensational episodes occurred. The market ordinance providing for the removal of the produce market from Harrison to Barr street was passed over the mayor's veto without a dissenting vote; a resolution to instruct the city attorney to test the validity of the Fort Wayne Traction company's perpetual franchise over certain streets was introduced and referred to the committee on franchises and judiciary by a vote that presents problems in analysis; the signed-up contract between the traction company and the board of works was referred to the franchise committee on a division; the plumbers' ordinance providing for a plumbing inspector was held up for the time being and Councilman Bauer and Clerk Schmidt indulged in a passage at arms on the proposition of passing remonstrances against the vacating of part of theCreighton avenue street car line, without reading.

ALL MEMBERS PRESENT.

For once, every member of the council was present when the roll was called, and after the preliminary routine Mayor Bergdoll stated that he had declined to sign the ordinance providing for the removal of the produce market from Harrison to Barr street. He did not formally veto the measure, but stated that he would not sign the ordinance and that it was now up to the council. The ordinance was then passed by an unanimous vote.

The report of the board of works referring to the revised franchise for the Fort Wayne Traction company and providing for a revision of fares and for extensions was then introduced and read. The reading occupied over an hour. The terms of the new contract which was signed by the Fort Wayne Traction company and the board of works are identical with the contract agreed upon a week ago by the traction company and the board and special committee, with a few minor exceptions outlined in yesterday's Sentinel.

PROVISIONS OF FRANCHISE.

Generally the franchise provides for the extensions asked for on Huffman street; forthe construction of a line south on Broadway to a point near the St. Mary's river bridge; for a line east on Leith street to Lafayette, south to Pontiac and east to Walton avenue; for a line west on Dawson street from Calhoun to Hoagland avenue and south to Creighton, thence west to South Wayne avenue, thence south to a point opposite the organ factory, and for the construction of an extension of the Lewis street line by an undetermined route to the corner of Wabash avenue and Pioneer avenue, the route to be determined by the board of works and to be built at any time that the board sees fit to order its construction. The franchise provides for the paving of streets according to terms set out in franchises recently granted to interurban companies; provides for the use of tracks by interurban companies at theFort Wayne Traction company's terms and eliminates all considerations for reduced fares save that six tickets for a quarter and universal transfers will be given, the tickets to be on sale on the cars; the thirty-for-a-dollar tickets are not mentioned in the contract and no reference is made to any tickets whatever, save those to be sold at the rate of six for 25 cents.

The reading finished Ehrman moved to refer the franchise to the committee of the whole, the motion being amended by Hosey to refer it to the committee on contracts and franchises. The amendment carried.

TO TEST OLD FRANCHISES.

The bomb of the evening was then thrown by Councilmen Bauer and Baker in the form of a resolution reading as follows:

"Whereas, The Fort Wayne Traction company is occupying Calhoun and other streets in the city of Fort Wayne under and by virtue of ordinances of said city, which it claims grants to it a perpetual license and franchise to use said streets for street railroad purposes without compensation or the grading or paving of any portion of the same, and,

"Whereas, Ordinances so attempting to grant perpetual licenses and franchises to the use of streets are detrimental to the interests of the city and of doubtful validity, and by some courts held to be illegal and void;

"Therefore be it resolved by the common council of the city of Fort Wayne, That William H. Shambaugh, city attorney for the city of Fort Wayne be and he is hereby authorized and directed to commence legal proceedings against the Fort Wayne Traction company to determine the validity of all ordinances granting, or purporting to grant, perpetual right and use of any street in said city for street railroad purposes and the right to the use of said streets for street railroad purposes by the Fort Wayne Traction company, and to eject and prevent the use of said streets by the Fort Wayne Traction company and all persons and corporations claiming the right to use or using streets, or any of them, under such ordinances.

"J. J. Bauer.
"F. J. Baker."

MR. HOSEY SPEAKS.

Bauer promptly moved the adoption of the resolution and was seconded by Baker. Hosey took the floor and in a lengthy speech, stated that he was not satisfied to put the council on record in adopting a resolution of that kind without having time to consider it. He said that steam railway and other corporations had rights which were practically perpetual and he did not understand why the Fort Wayne Traction company should be singled out as the particular corporation against which the test of validity should be made. He suggested that it would cost the city many thousands of dollars to carry the suit through all the courts to the one of final resort and that if there was a disposition to attack franchises, all franchises not limited should be included in the resolution, anyway. he wanted time to think the matter over and he thought that everybody did. He therefore moved to amend by referring to the committees on contracts and franchises and judiciary.

THE VOTE IN DETAIL.

Bauer called for the ayes and noes and the vote resulted as follows:

Nays—Baker, Bauer, Borkenstein, Ehrman, Gerding, Meier and Zurbuch. Ayes—Baade, Figel, Foellinger, Glenn, Gombert, Griebel, Hanch, Hosey, Lennon, Miller, O'Ryan, Scheid and Sordelet.

Of those who opposed the adoption of the resolution, Hench, Gombert and Glenn are on the committee on rules and Hench and Griebel are on the judiciary committee; those favoring the resolution were Bauer and Meier, of the rules committee, and Ehrman, of the judiciary committee. Advocates of the resolution after the vote, were free to express themselves of the opinion that the resolution is hopelessly pigeon-holed.

REMONSTRANCES READ.

This episode was followed by the reading of a remonstrance signed by Harry Keplinger and 281 others, protesting against the removal of any part of the Fort Wayne Traction company's tracks from Creighton avenue, as contemplated by the new franchise. The remonstrance was referred to the committee on contracts and franchises, after which Clerk Schmidt said that there were several other remonstrances which he did not think it necessary to read and that they might go with the balance. This brought Bauer to his feet. He said that he was tired of hearing of documents filed with the council being arbitrarily disposed of; that sometimes such documents never again saw the light of day; that he wanted the remonstrances read and made part of the record. The clerk then proceeded to read the other remonstrances interpolating occasionally with ironical inflections as he referred to Mr. Bauer; they were signed by A. L. Hadley and "some others," G. B. Andrews and "some others" and August C. Becker and "some others." Councilman Lennon arose to say that he knew of another lengthy remonstrance which would be submitted today and would have been submitted last night if his constituents had known that the matter would be presented last night.

THE PLUMBERS' ORDINANCE.

The plumbers' inspector ordinance was next brought up on third reading for final passage, but action was postponed until next meeting in order that the members of the council could have an opportunity to inform themselves more fully on its provisions. Inasmuch as the ordinance has been before the council only about a year and has been printed only two or three times, the advisability of taking time to consider it was readily accepted.

Other routine matters were disposed of. A resolution to open Lasalle street to the first alley east of John street was referred to the finance committee. The committee on parks was asked to visit Swinney park with a view of providing means for the levelling of the hill at the east end of the park, facing College street; the report of the treasurer of the school board was referred to the committee on education; Councilmen Bauer, Scheid, Hosey, Ehrman and Zurbuch were appointed a committee to attend the annual meeting of the League of American Municipalities to be held in Grand Rapids, week after next, and then after the referring of regular reports to the appropriate committees the council adjourned.

FEAST OF THE ASSUMPTION.

The feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary will be celebrated in the Catholic churches of the city on Friday. At the Cathedral there will be services at 5:30, 7 and 8:30 and high mass at 9 o'clock a. m., and vespers at 7:30 p. m.

THE EVIL DISPOSED GIVE THE OFFICERS A REST.

Nothing Doing in Police Court—Dr. Stemen's Gold-Headed Cane Reported Stolen.

The tough element of the city gave the police officers the opportunity of taking a much-needed rest last night and in consequence no arrests were made. Judge Dreibelbiss appeared at police court at the usual hour and felt much relieved when he found that there was nothing doing in his bailiwick.

Mrs. Dr. Macbeth reported to the police last evening that her father, Dr. C. B. Stemen, is shy about one gold-headed cane. The doctor attended church night before last and deposited his cane along with umbrellas and other traps near the door, but when he started to leave the edifice after the services the cane was gone. Dr. Stemen is charitable enough to believe that the thief thought he was stealing only an umbrella when he made away with the cane, which is a valuable piece of furniture, presented to him by his children and is inscribed with the word "Father." As another indication of his charitable nature, Dr. Stemen refuses to say at which particular church he was despoiled of his staff.

The proprietress of the peanut stand at 335 East Wayne street mourns the theft of a penny peanut salesman, which was taken from in front of her establishment last night.

The patrol wagon was called to the Ross house last night at 12:30 to take David Dalling, who was seriously ill, to St. Joseph hospital.

Mrs. Runde, of 217 Dawson street, has a circus-day reminiscence in the shape of a recollection that she no longer has the watch which she wore down town on Monday afternoon. She is of the opinion that she lost it on the street. Miss Nelson, of 2122 Broadway, also reports the loss of a gold stick pin on the same day.

A lap robe was stolen from Rippe's Broadway livery barn last night.

Clarence Thomas, aged fourteen, living at 1302 Calhoun street, has been missing since Monday. His father thinks he ran away with the circus.

Martin Kamp, a plumber employed by Zimmerley & Co., was set upon and beaten last night by two men at the corner of Clinton and Jefferson streets. No report of the matter was made to the police, but an effort is being made to connect the assault with the recent troubles in the plumbers' union. Kamp was not much hurt and the animus of the assault is denied by the plumbers.

Eli Eckenberger, living at 309 Grand street, has filed a complaint at police headquarters accusing Mike Lynch (colored) with having stolen a coat from him. Lynch was employed by the Barber Asphalt company and is supposed to have gone to Benton Harbor.

Officer Bobby Dickson was off his beat this afternoon, which was covered by Officer Collins. Bobby was trying to nest himself among the Eagles and reports from the aerie are that Bobby is getting about everything that the grandmaster of initiation has in stock.

QUAY TO HELP END STRIKE.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 12.—Senator Quay says he is willing to do all in his power to end the strike of the anthracite coal miners. George Llewellyn, of the Citizens' alliance, of Wilkesbarre, called upon the senator and asked the latter to use his good offices in an endeavor to end the strike. Senator Quay, after his talk with Mr. Llewellyn, said:

"I am ready to do anything in my power to bring about a settlement of the strike in the anthracite region."

The senator said he deeply regretted the present differences and that he was willing to meet the miners, operators, or both, if it would aid in restoring industrial peace. Any suggestions, he said, that may be made by Chairman Llewellyn will be promptly taken under consideration.

FREED BY JUDGE

GAYNOR AND GREENE GIVEN THEIR LIBERTY.

JUDGE CARON AT QUEBEC IN IMPORTANT RULING.

Quebec, Aug. 13.—Judge Caron, of the superior court, today released Captain Greene and Colonel Gaynor, the American contractors, who are wanted in the United States for the alleged frauds against the federal government involving hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Judge Caron based his decision in the case upon the absence of dates on the warrants under which the prisoners were first arrested in Quebec; discrepancies in the charges on which due bills were obtained against the prisoners in the United States and discrepancies between those charges and the charges made in the application for extradition.

The prisoners were at once released and received the congratulations of their friends and the court adjourned.

Mr. McMaster, counsel for the United States government, was asked whether the prosecution intended to take any further action looking to the extradition of Colonel Gaynor and Captain Greene. Mr. McMaster replied that he was unable to speak positively on the subject until after a conference with Messrs. Erwin and Stewart, which is proceeding this afternoon at the Chateau Frontenac.

There was a large attendance of both legal luminaries and spectators. Mrs. Gaynor, accompanied by a number of ladies, was present during the delivery of the judgment. Gaynor and Greene came into court with Sheriff Langelier.

Judge Caron ascended the bench at 10:30 and began the reading of the very lengthy notes preceding his judgment.

With regard to the attacks made upon himself he was sure that the American government authorities and their lawyers could have had no hands in them. The notice to the American government's lawyers to Jailer Valee to attend to delivery of Judge Andrews' judgment was then quoted and Valee's compliance therein noted. That judgment ipso facto dispossessed Judge Andrews of the prisoners and under the circumstances he (Judge Caron) was quite justified in his subsequent issue of writs of habeas corpus addressed to Jailer Valee after he had taken possession of the prisoners following Judge Andrews' pronouncement.

IN JUSTICES' COURTS.

This afternoon at France's court Paul Weber will be examined as to sanity by a jury. He has already been declared insane, but the authorities at the Richmond asylum refused to accept him because he is subject to epileptic fits. If declared insane by the jury today he will be given into the custody of the sheriff until the convening of the circuit court, when another examination will be made and his disposition will permanently be made. The unfortunate young man is of good family and his relatives are able and entirely willing to take care of him, but as the case stands at present there is absolutely no one in authority to undertake his control, in case force should be found necessary. For this reason only the proceedings of today are being taken.

The final inning in the Hiser-Craig paternity suit will be played in France's court today. Justice France has announced that he did not think the case was entirely within his jurisdiction and that he would refer the matter over to the circuit court.

Edward Seidel this morning filed an action against Wolff Brothers, charging obstruction of the public highway. The offense alleged consists in maintaining objectionable posts on the sidewalk to support an advertising balcony; in placing and maintaining boxes on the sidewalk, and in projecting showcases beyond the limits designated by the ordinances. The warrants were served this morning, but the hearing of the case was continued until the return of one of the defendants from New York.

BATS CAKE AND GETS BRIDE.

Kokomo, Ind., Aug. 13.—Two months ago William Richardson saw a recipe for angel food cake in a city paper given by Miss Lida Beadle, of Lockbridge, Ill. Richardson, a wealthy young farmer of this place, tried the recipe and liked it. He wrote to Miss Beadle and in return got a sample of the cake. Photographs were exchanged and Sunday Richardson went to Lockbridge, returning yesterday with his chosen cook. They were married here last evening by Rev. Mr. Choate. Richardson owns a large farm. He is twenty-eight, she twenty-three years of age. Angel food cake is their honeymoon menu. She found his heart by answering his stomach.

Out Lots
I now offer the 120 acres on Walton avenue immediately south of the Lutheran college land, price $24,000 for the entire tract, $200 per acre, which will retail out at $400 per acre. Good opportunity to double your money. Terms easy, small payment down, long time on remainder. When we cleared off the very heavy timber on this rich land, many years ago, 900 thrifty young shade trees were left for outlot purposes, all of which are still there and growing. The population of Fort Wayne is steadily increasing and a still more rapid growth is now about to develop.

SUSPICION

Leads to the Real Cause.

The question of coffee disease or Postum health becomes of the greatest importance when we are thrown on our own resources. Many a woman when suddenly left without means of support can make a comfortable living if health remains.

A brave little woman out in Barnes, Kansas, says, "I feel that I owe you a letter for the good Postum Coffee has done me. For years I was a great sufferer with nervousness without ever suspecting the cause. Two years ago I came down with nervous prostration. My work was light, but I could not do it, I could not even sew or read.

"My sleep was broken and unrefreshing; I suffered intensely and it seemed only a matter of time till I must lose my reason.

"My mental distress was as great as my physical, when one day a friend brought me a trial of Postum Coffee and urged me to use it instead of coffee for a few days, saying that Postum had cured her of liver trouble and sick headaches. I replied that I thought I could not give up coffee, I had always used it as a stimulant; however, the Postum Food Coffee proved to be pleasing to the taste and I used it and was surprised to see that I was resting and getting better.

"My husband bought several packages and insisted on me using it altogether. Gradually, but not the less surely, I fully recovered. I never used coffee afterward, and when I was left a widow a year later I was able to open a dressmaking shop and support myself and little girls." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

When anthracite coal goes to ten dollars a ton, as it is likely to, the other side of the strike question will be more strenuously discussed.

General Grosvenor expresses satisfaction that this country has kept faith with Cuba, but at the same time he seems to be willing that we should make Cuba feel sorry we did so.

Senator Quay says he is willing to try to settle the anthracite strike in Pennsylvania. This is a strong peg on which to hang hope of peace. Senator Quay has been in the habit of doing about as he pleased in Pennsylvania and if he wants to end the strike, of course he can do it. The country awaits his effort.

Probably more of a sensation has been made of the incident of a red flag being displayed by a socialist street speaker in this city than the affair warrants. Doubtless the speaker had no intention of expressing sympathy with the doctrines of anarchy by displaying the color that has come to be emblematic of the hateful and hated creed of these iconoclasts. But good judgment, discretion and a sense of the fitness of things should have moved the orator to chose some other color for his oriflamme than the red the anarchists have made despised.

Judge Oliver Wendell Holmes, whom the president has just named for the United States supreme bench, has been a brave soldier, a good citizen and an able and spotless judge. To the people at large it does not cut much figure if it be true that certain corporation influences in Massachusetts have promoted his appointment to get him out of that state, where his position as chief justice of the commonwealth is thought to be inimical to the aggrandizement of capital. The supreme bench of the nation is no bad place for a judge who holds that the common people have rights paramount to the rights of capital.

President Jacob Gould Schurman, of Cornell university, who was a member of the first Philippine commission, was probably right when he stated in an address the other day that no matter what was done in Luzon and some others of the Philippine islands, the situation in Mindanao presented special difficulties, and that force would be the governing power there indefinitely. Every few days comes the news that a party of Americans has been ambushed by a party of the warlike Moros. The result probably will be that sooner or later important military operations will be necessary in that island. It is no difficult matter to subsidize the sultans and dattos, but that hardly guarantees the kind of peace desired. Mindanao is probably the richest of all the Philippine group in natural resources and considerable fighting will doubtless have to open the way to their development.

Those members of the city council who composed the majority that refused to be hustled into snap judgment on the passage of a resolution purposing, ostensibly, to require the city attorney to begin suit to abate the old franchises held by the Fort Wayne traction company deserve credit for their display of good sense and mental balance. If such a course is to be pursued by this city it is a matter to be thought over calmly and decided upon with deliberation. Such a suit would involve the city in the gravest and most important litigation this municipality has ever engaged in. That councilmen should think of going ahead precipitately on such a course without deliberation or counsel is astounding. It would mean the opening of a tremendous fight on an untried issue of law. If there is to be an effort made to abrogate the grants held by the traction company let it be initiated in a sensible manner. There is no occasion for the city council to go off half-cocked on a matter so serious. The fact probably is, however, that the resolution had for its purpose the creation of another obstacle to passage of the ordinance approving the contract entered into between the city and the traction company providing for extensions, lower fares and other advantages to the public. If the validity of the traction company's present franchises is to be tested there is ample time to go about it in orderly and well-considered manner. And that is evidently the belief of a majority of the members of the council.

TRAIN LOAD OF OIL WRECKED NEAR ALLEGHENY.

Benzine, Gasoline and Kerosene Is Exposed to Fire—Great Care Taken for Safety.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 13.—Sharpsburg, a suburb of Allegheny, is excited today over the wreck of a West Penn freight train of thirty cars, loaded with benzine, gasoline, kerosene and lubricating oil and fears are entertained of another catastrophe, such as was visited on Sheridan, Pa., a few months ago, when 200 or more people were killed and injured by an explosion following a similar wreck.

Where the wreck occurred a tank car, containing 8,000 gallons of benzine, broke and the fluid ran out, forming in pools along the tracks. There are over 150,000 gallons of inflammable material on the train and the trainmen are keeping people away from the wreck. Should a spark fall from a passing engine and ignite the benzine, the results would be terrible and the engineers have been warned to be careful while passing the scene of the accident. No one was hurt in the wreck.

SHOT BY MINISTER

OLD MYSTERY CLEARED UP BY INDIANA PREACHER.

CONFESSES TO A KILLING

SLEW A WOMAN WHILE SHOOTING AT A MARK.

THE TITHERS AT WINONA

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Terre Haute, Ind., Aug. 13.—A report from Diamond, a mining town in Parke county, is to the effect that Rev. Charles Hill, formerly of that place and now at a mining town in Clay county, has caused a sensation by confessing that he fired the shot that killed Mrs. Smith, a tragedy that had been a mystery for fifteen years.

The aged widow lived with her son at Benwood. On the day she was killed she had gone to the house of a family named Shingdecker to get a bucket of water. As she reached for the bucket she staggered back into the house, saying, "I am shot," dropped to the floor and expired.

It was learned that some boys in the neighborhood were firing at a mark and Tom Llewellyn and Ed Tool were arrested, but the bullet which killed Mrs. Smith was too large for either of the guns the boys were using. They were released, but ever since many persons have believed that one of the boys had fired the fatal shot. Many persons suspected the son, alleging as a motive that he would inherit some property.

The tragedy had been all but forgotten in late years. Now Mr. Hill says, that he and William Trager were shooting at a mark a long distance from the Shingdecker house and that a shot fired by himself in the direction of the house was the one which caused the woman's death.

Mr. Hill was ordained as a minister of the Congregational church at Diamond five years ago. Since then he has been the pastor of churches at Diamond, Coal Bluff, Perth and Cardonia, all mining towns. He has many friends and has been prominent in Odd Fellowship. His friends are astounded, as none believed him to be a man who would carry such a secret.

TITHERS AT WINONA LAKE.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 13.—The national Tithers' convention opened at Winona yesterday. The welcoming address was given by Thomas Kane, of Chicago, who was chosen to preside during the conference. Rev. F. O. Ballard, of Indianapolis, whose signature appeared among twelve others from various parts of the country to the call for the first national gathering, outlined the objects of the meeting. He stated it was an inaugural effort toward getting old churches throughout the country to adopt a tithing system or Wesleynn chapel movement. If the system is adopted, the speaker said, there would be plenty of money to evangelize the world on a scale far exceeding the dream of the most ardent Christian worker and foreign mission advocate. Interesting addresses yesterday afternoon were made by Rev. E. C. Hay, of Chicago, and Mrs. Frank F. McCrea, of Indianapolis, the latter talking on the third crisis of missions. Delegates are present from all sections of the country. The denominations most numerously reported are the Baptist, Presbyterian, Christian, Methodist Episcopal, United Brethren, Progressive Brethren and Congregational.

NO CLUE TO ROBBERS.

Valparaiso, Ind., Aug. 13.—Although every available police officer in this city is working on the case, not a clew has yet been turned up that promises to lead to the capture of the robbers who looted the residence of Dr. A. A. Stoneburner in broad daylight Monday afternoon, securing $7,000 in cash, jewelry and valuable papers and leaving the servant girl gagged and bound in the bath tub.

Miss Hart, the domestic thus harshly treated, is still in a serious condition and is unable to give any coherent account of the mysterious affair. Physicians say that she will undoubtedly recover from her injuries. The officers yesterday arrested fourteen men, one of whom is a negro, and jailed them on suspicion of being connected with the affair. Several of the fellows had firearms and burglars' tools on them when searched. There is nothing to directly connect any of them with the crime.

BATTLE IN A TENT.

Morristown, Ind., Aug. 13.—William Powers, living a quarter of a mile south of here, was yesterday shot and seriously wounded by Henry Gordon, a wealthy farmer. Powers, who lives on Gordon's farm, went home drunk and began cutting down a tent, under which lay Mr. Gordon and Mr. William Russell. When he was asked to desist he drew a knife and stabbed Russell in the abdomen and Gordon in the leg. Gordon, who started to the house to procure a gun, was followed by Powers, who, on reaching the door, began to break it in. Gordon fired at him, striking him in the leg, arm and abdomen. Russell is resting easy and it is thought he will recover if no complications arise. Powers' wounds are more serious and it is feared he will die.

LIVELY FAMILY MIXUP.

Nashville, Ind., Aug. 13.—Roscoe Karst, the eighteen-year-old son of a general merchant at Morgantown, a village in the southeast corner of Morgan county, was here last night, and officers are said to be on their way here to take him back.

It is said the boy was found by his mother in a saloon, and that before she took her son away she smashed the big bar mirror and all the glasses she could reach and drove all the habitues out of the place. Young Karst was taken home and later, it is alleged, drove the family out of the house with a butcher knife. Later his father caught him and gave him a terrible beating. The boy then went across the street and broke the windows by throwing stones, and later fled to Nashville.

AGED PRIEST BADLY HURT.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 13.—Rev. Father Lucas, aged seventy-four, chaplain of the Catholic hospital at Lafayette, lies at Holy Family hospital in this city in a serious condition as the result of injuries received while in a Lake Shore caboose at this point. He was standing in the aisle, having taken passage on the local freight to go to Otis, when some cars were "kicked" into the caboose. The venerable priest was thrown against the seats, his head being badly injured, but his recovery is expected.

BABE PLAYS WITH MATCHES.

Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 13.—The two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Voris Underwood, south of the city, played with a box of matches yesterday afternoon and when discovered its dress was in flames. The baby was horribly burned about the face and arms and will die.

ANDREWS TALKS MARRIAGE.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—E. Benjamin Andrews, chancellor of the University of Nebraska, in a lecture upon "The Foes of Marriage" at the University of Chicago declared that the American divorce laws are so loose that they are a curse, both upon parents and their children. Prof. Andrews also claimed that a bachelor has no place in the social scale, and to marry a consumptive is a crime. Advice to persons intending marriage was plentiful in Dr. Andrews' lecture. "Hasty marriages do more evil to the marriage relation than anything else," he declared. "Early marriages ought to be discouraged. No one should marry before the age of twenty-one—twenty-five is the best age."

SENATORS GO TO HAWAII.

San Francisco, Aug. 13.—United States Senator J. R. Burton, of Kansas, chairman of the sub-committee of the senate that has been instructed to visit Hawaii and inquire into ex-Queen Liliuokalani's claims to the crown lands, has arrived and expects to sail for Honolulu on the next steamer. Senator Burton expects to spend four or five weeks in Hawaii in company with Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, and Senator Foster, of Washington. They will make a thorough investigation of affairs and conditions in the island, and among other things, will inquire into the crown land question.

BROUGHT IN EXCURSION.

The Fort Wayne and Southwestern electric line brought in an excursion of about eighty people from Roanoke and intermediate points this morning to spend the day at Robison park. The excursion was under the auspices of the U. B. Sunday school at Roanoke, and preparations had been made for a much larger crowd. Threatening weather, however, kept many away. Tickets were sold direct to the park, and the interurban passengers transferred to the city traction line at Columbia and Calhoun streets.

KILLED BY MOROS

AN AMERICAN OUTPOST SURPRISED BY NATIVES.

ATTACKING PARTY ARMED WITH SWORDS AND SPEARS.

CAPTURE OF MANILA IS DULY CELEBRATED.

Manila, Aug. 13.—A small party of Moros surprised an outpost of the Twenty-seventh infantry at Camp Vicars yesterday. Sergeant Foley and Private Carey were killed and Private Van Dorn was severely wounded. The Moros, who numbered only a dozen, were armed with spears and swords. The morning was dark and foggy. The attacking party crawled to within a few feet of the sentinels and then sprang upon them suddenly. The entire outpost rushed to the relief of the sentinels, but they were too late and the Moros escaped, although possibly a few of them were wounded. The American sentinels were terribly cut by the swords and spears.

The attacking Moros were all from Bacolod and the occurrence probably will result in a move against that town, which has a strong fort and other defences.

WOUNDED BY LADRONES.

Constabulary Inspector William Schermerhorn, whose home was in Seattle, Wash., was mortally wounded in a recent fight with Ladrones at Iligan, Mindanao.

The fourth anniversary of the capture of the city of Manila, which was surrendered to the American forces on Aug. 13, 1898, was observed as a general holiday.

ELKS PARADE IN SALT LAKE

Thousands of the Antlered Brethren in Line—G. P. Cronk, of Omaha, Grand Exalted Ruler.

Salt Lake, Utah, Aug. 13.—The features of today, the second of the annual Elks' reunion, were the parade of uniformed bodies of Elks in competitive drill and the selection of the place for the next annual reunion. For the competitive drill $1,750 in prizes had been offered, the determining points being general appearance and bearing, beauty and originality of costumes and number in line. Special prizes also were offered for the best marching bands, and the result was a parde that, for beauty and originality in the uniforms displayed, the numbers in line and the military precision with which they executed the drills, has seldom been equalled by parades of its kind. Most of the marching clubs were clad in the natty uniform of white and purple of the Elks, but many original uniforms also were shown.

The parade was reviewed by Colonel Bubb, of the Twenty-second U. S. infantry, and the prizes were awarded during the afternoon.

The grand lodge late yesterday afternoon elected by acclamation three officers for the ensuing term as follows:

Grand exalted ruler, George P. Cronk, Omaha, Neb.

Grand leading knight, W. B. Brock, Lexington, Ky.

Grand loyal knight, Judge J. C. Pickens, Denver, Col.

For grand secretary, George Reynolds, Saginaw, Mich.

For grand treasurer, Ed Orris, Meadville, Pa.

For grand lecturing knight, H. A. Coleman, Milwaukee.

For grand trustee, J. D. O'Shea.

DIED A HORRIBLE DEATH.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 13.—Mrs. Vincent Markel died this morning after four hours of the most terrible agony. Rising at an early hour to heat some milk for her six weeks' old baby, she in some way tipped over an alcohol lamp, igniting a gallon can filled with alcohol, which exploded and set the entire room on fire and burned her body in a frightful manner. Her husband died less than two months ago and her baby was born since his death. Three children, all under five years of age, are made orphans by her death.

STRIKE FOR NOVEL CAUSE.

Knoxville, Tenn., Aug. 13.—Sixty-five miners employed in the Middleridge coal mines, near Coal Creek, are on a strike because the company refuses to permit an official to withhold 10 per cent. of every union miner's wages, to be given to the anthracite coal strikers in Pennsylvania.

BISHOP HANDY SAYS

"I take great pleasure in acknowledging the curative effects of Peruna. At the solicitation of a friend I used your remedy and cheerfully recommend your Peruna to all who want a good tonic and a safe cure for catarrh."—JAMES A. HANDY.

Prominent members of the clergy are giving Peruna their unqualified endorsement. These men find Peruna especially adapted to preserve them from catarrh of the vocal organs which has always been the bane of public speakers, and general catarrhal debility incident to the sedentary life of the clergyman. Among the recent utterances of noted clergymen on the curative virtues of Peruna is the above one from Bishop James A. Handy, D. D., of Baltimore.

OTHER NOTABLE CURES.

A Husband Escaped the Pangs of Catarrh of the Lungs.

Most Cases of Incipient Consumption are Catarrh.

Edward Stevens.

Mrs. Edward Stevens of Carthage, N. Y., writes as follows:

"I now take pleasure in notifying you that my husband has entirely recovered from catarrh. He is a well man today, thanks to you and Peruna. He took six bottles of your medicine as directed, and it proved to be just the thing for him. His appetite is good and every thing he eats seems to agree with him. His cough has left him and he is gaining in flesh, and seems to be well every way."—MRS. EDWARD STEVENS.

Any internal remedy that will cure catarrh in one location will cure it in any other location. This is why Peruna has become so justly famous in the cure of catarrhal diseases. It cures catarrh wherever located. Its cures remain, Peruna does not palliate; it cures.

Mrs. Frederick Williams, President of the South Side Ladies' Aid Society of Chicago, Ill., writes the following words of praise for Peruna from 973 Cuyler avenue, Chicago, Ill.:

"My home is never without Peruna, for I have found during the past six years that there is no remedy that will at once alleviate suffering and actually cure, as Peruna does. Four bottles completely cured me of catarrh of the head of several years' standing, and if my husband feels badly, or either of us catch cold, we at once take Peruna, and in a day or two it has thrown the sickness out of the system."—Mrs. Frederick Williams.

Mrs. W. A. Allison, of 740 Sheffield avenue, Chicago, Ill., is the Assistant Matron of the People's Hospital. She has the following to say about Peruna:

Mrs. W. A. Allison.

"I have had frequent opportunities to observe the wonderful curative effects of Peruna especially on persons suffering with a congested condition of the head, lungs and stomach, generally called catarrh. It alleviates pain and soreness, increases the appetite and so tones up the entire system that the patient quickly regains strength and health."—Mrs. W. A. Allison.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

WEALTHY FARMER KEEPS LITTLE ONE FOR BOARD BILL.

Porter County Man Refuses to Restore Nephew to His Grief-Stricken Parents.

Valparaiso, Ind., Aug. 13.—Little Wilson Huffman, aged four years and pretty as a picture, is being held as collateral for a board bill, and war, in which he is the bone of contention, has just been transferred to the Porter superior court here. On the one side are Morgan and Laura Huffman, parents of the baby, and well-to do residents of Kouts, this county. On the opposite side is Samuel Hoffman, a wealthy farmer of Boone Grove, also in Porter county, and an uncle of the youngster.

A month ago Mrs. Laura Huffman was compelled to go to a hospital in Chicago for medical treatment. She placed her child in the care of Samuel Hoffman to be kept during her absence. The uncle became very fond of the pretty youngster in the few weeks he lived beneath his uncle's roof, and when the mother came home Sunday and called for her child he refused to give it up. To the passionate entreaties of the frantic mother the uncle turned a deaf ear, putting forth the argument that he has a lien on the child for its board bill. The parents are wild, and have filed a suit for habeas corpus to regain possession of little Wilson. Judge Tuthill will hear the case in chambers this week.

CHILD BADLY SCALDED.

Irma, the three-year-old daughter of Patrol Driver Joseph Doyle, living on Schick street, was badly scalded while playing about the kitchen yesterday afternoon. The little one accidentally upset a vessel of boiling water and her shoulders and breast were badly scalded. Dr. E. J. McOscar dressed the little one's injuries.

PLANS OF AMERICAN STEEL AND WIRE COMPANY.

Emergency Hospitals to Be Established on Grounds of Each of Twenty-two Plants.

Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—It is stated here that a hospital for the treatment of emergency cases will be established on the grounds of each of the twenty-two plants of the American Steel and Wire company. The plans for the buildings, which will be as nearly uniform as conditions will permit, are being prepared by a Philadelphia architect, and the total cost to the company of buildings and equipment will not fall short of $300,000.

The determination of the company to establish a hospital at each of its plants was arrived at after a year's experiment with a temporary emergency hospital, erected for the company in Allentown, Pa. Little was said of the new movement at the time the Allentown hospital was put into service, and few persons outside of the officials were aware of the company's intentions. It did not require a full year to prove the value of such an institution, either in point of bodily comfort to the unfortunate iron workers, who were forced to enter it for treatment, or in point of ultimate expense to the corporation. For several months the company has been shaping its plans for hospitals at all its plants, and it is calculated that within the next six months all will be ready to receive patients.

Each hospital will be of plain brick construction, two stories in height, with baths, sitting rooms, library, dining room and sleeping apartments for the nurses, will have quarters for six beds, that number being figured as the maximum of cases that may need attention at the same time.

A corps of six nurses and two druggists and thorough ambulance service will be requisite for each hospital, in addition to the resident physician.

BALDWIN EXPLAINS.

Tromsoe, Norway, Aug. 13.—Evelyn B. Baldwin and several members of the crew of the America have made statements before a notary public regarding the dispute between Mr. Baldwin and Captain Johansen, of the America. According to Mr. Baldwin's statement Captain Johansen refused to obey the orders of the ice-pilot and that necessitated his removal from the command. Baldwin also says Captain Johansen left the vessel at Honningsvaag without Baldwin's knowledge or consent. The relations between Baldwin and the ice-pilot were always of the best, the statements assert, and it is added that while the death of half the dogs, from worms, hindered the party from reaching as far north as intended, Baldwin is confident that within twelve months the America will reach the intended latitude, en route to the north pole. The consulate at Christiania, to which Captain Johansen complained, has referred him to the consulate at Bergen.

BASE BALL

It remained for Boston to administer to Pittsburg the most humiliating defeat of the season yesterday. The score stood 11 to 0 and the error sheet and batting record of the Pittsburgers looked as though they had been trying to get onto a few too many curves in a basement or two on Tremont street the night before; their hits numbered only 6 and the errors showed up in the 5 row. None of the other three games played presented any unusual features. The aggregate attendance was 9,693. In the American league only one game, and that one not scheduled, was played at Cleveland with the Baltimore team and Cleveland won out easily. The boys evidently simply wanted to be sociable and took the same train last night for Baltimore, where they play today. Cleveland has now won 10 out of the last dozen games played and the fans are giving the club splendid support, 2,646 people going through the stile yesterday. In the American association a very humdrum record was made. Louisville won as usual; Toledo lost as usual, only more so; Indianapolis got pushed one notch further away from the pennant, and worst of all, Columbus was beaten by Minneapolis. It looks now as though Columbus will have to brace up if she wants to stay in the second division after standing for a knock-down by the genial Mr. Wilmot's aggregation of misfits at Minneapolis. The American association attendance yesterday was 5,657. Louisville being high and Toledo low—jack and game were not out. The results are given below:

PETER POWER MOVES AGAIN.

New York, Aug. 13.—Peter Power, under sentence of thirty days in jail for contempt of court in connection with the Northern Pacific merger case, has disappeared from Montreal and gone toward Quebec, according to a Montreal dispatch to the Press, whether to visit the ancient capital or to board the Beaver line mail steamship Lake Erie, which sails for Liverpool at 4 p. m. Thursday, is not known. It is possible, of course, he may go to New York, but if he is going there he is taking a roundabout course. When seen Mr. Power said: "I have no idea of returning to New York in the immediate future, but there is no reason why I should not do so. I mean to stay here a few days more."

LEDOCHOWSKI'S WILL.

New York, Aug. 13.—Cardinal Ledochowski's will has been opened and it is announced that he appoints as sole legatee his nephew, Count Ledochowski, a retired officer of the Austrian army, who resigned his commission as a protest against the practice of dueling in the army, cables the Herald's Rome correspondent. A painting of great value is left to the pope and the secretary of the former prefect of the propaganda inherits the cardinal's silver service and a life annuity. The fortune left by the defunct prelate is estimated at one million lire ($200,000).

PALACE NOT TO BE SOLD.

Rome, Aug. 13.—Recently published statements that the famous Borghese palace was to be sold at auction are authoritatively denied by the legal representatives of the Borghese family. On January 24 it was announced that the Italian government had purchased the Borghese art gallery for $800,000, the sale being made by Prince Borghese because of financial difficulties. In November, 1901, Prince Borghese offered to donate to the Italian nation all of his paintings except Raphael's "Sacred and Profane Love" if he were allowed to sell that picture abroad. It was said he had been offered $1,000,000 for this painting. The government refused permission to sell it abroad.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—After an early show of firmness on strong Liverpool cables grains slipped back to an easy position. September wheat started ¼c to ⅛c up at 69½c to 69⅝c, sold at 69⅝c and declined to 68¾c. The weather was not as wet as had been predicted, the southwest was moving wheat liberally and generally receipts were larger than expected. Early trade was not heavy. Local receipts were 291 cars, 10 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 105 cars, making a total for the three points of 396 cars against 449 last week and 395 a year ago. The harvests in the spring wheat country are completed in the southern half of the belt and are now well under way in the central portion.

Heavy selling by leading elevators both of September and December wheat continued to be a bearish factor until September went down to 68⅛@68¼c. Then a strong cash demand sent prices up 1c and September closed strong 1⅛@1¼c higher at 70⅛@70¼c.

Corn receipts today were bullishly low at 24 cars. The cash demand also was improved and cables were firm. This started September corn ⅛c to ¾c up at 52⅝c to 52¾c. Selling set in and on the wheat dip September corn fell back to 51¾c.

September corn broke to 51⅝c on the early selling, but wheat strength brought a rally and September closed firm ⅛c up at 52¾c.

Oats showed good strength during the early trading. Receipts today were low at 189 cars and the reports from the country had it that the farmers were not letting go of their oats so readily as was expected. September opened ⅛c to ¾@⅞c up at 30⅛@30¼c to 30½c and sold to 30⅞c.

Provisions opened quiet and easier. Hogs were in moderate supply and prices lower. There was some covering by traders which had oversold, but little effect was noticed. September pork opened 5c down at $16.25; September lard 2½c up at $10.57½, and September ribs 5c up at $9.80, but dipped to $9.72½.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, Aug. 13.—Prices started upwards with some show of vigor in the opening dealings. There were 2,500 shares of Manhattan sold at 136 to 135¼, compared with 134 last night. St. Paul gained 1⅝, but ran off ½, and there were gains of about a point in Brooklyn Transit, Baltimore and Ohio and Cleveland, C., C. & St. Louis. A number of the grangers and Pacifics showed gains of as much as ½. There were only a few unimportant losses outside of a decline of ⅝ in Amalgamated.

Realizing orders met the strong opening advances, but other stocks showed considerable strength. St. Paul reacted a point while Illinois Central, Hocking Valley, Des Moines and Fort Dodge, United States Express and Pacific Coast gained about as much. Colorado Fuel opened 6 points higher at 91¼. Norfolk and Western was actively bought later and touched 70⅝, but the general trading was languid.

Trans-continental stocks weakened when Rock Island declined 3½. Heaviness also developed at other points, but there was a mixture of strength which made the dealings irregular. Colorado Fuel, Chicago, Indianapolis and Louisville preferred and Pacific Coast fell off a point and Des Moines and Fort Dodge preferred sold 4 points below the previous sale with a rally of 9½. The lead stocks rose strongly, 1½ for the common and 2½ for the preferred. An upward movement in the Wabash stocks led to advances in other Goulds, the Wabashes, Missouri Pacific and Wheeling and Lake Erie first preferred rising 1 to 1½. The grangers generally hardened in sympathy. United States Express rose 8½ in all and American Express 4¾. Pittsburg, C., C. & St. Louis, the Iowa Central stocks, Erie second preferred, United States Reduction, Sloss-Sheffield Steel and General Chemical rose a point or more.

Bonds were steady.

ASKS DAMAGES FOR ASSAULT

GOTTLIEB HEGER SUES HENRY HOLMAN FOR $2,500.

Alleges That He Suffered Great Bodily Harm—News About the Court House.

Margaret Dittoe sues Emma H. Fleming on account, demanding $900.

Gottlieb Heger has filed a suit in the superior court against Henry Holman, alleging damages and demanding $2,500 as a salve. Heger is a young man and he and the defendant have had trouble. On August 4 the trouble arrived at an acute stage and the result was that Holman assaulted Heger. The complaint alleges that he seized him by the throat and choked him with much and undue violence; so violently in fact that a bone with an unpronounceable name was broken and muscles known intimately by medical students were lacerated. The plaintiff states that by reason of the injuries he received at the hands of Holman he will have to undergo a heroic surgical operation to be relieved and that for all this he is entitled to at least $2,500 and other proper relief.

The superior court will be in session tomorrow and for that matter was in session a few minutes yesterday afternoon. Not much of a session, but just long enough to grant Joseph Martin a divorce from Allie J. Martin, the complaint having been filed just a few minutes previously.

The county commissioners were in session this morning for the transaction of a few items of very ordinary routine business. The next session will be held on Saturday.

James Morris, sent over from police court yesterday, was today released, the docket having been stayed to insure the payment of the judgment against him.

William Miles, the man who attempted suicide at Columbia City last week, and who has since been confined in the county jail, has been declared insane by a commission.

Ellis Smith, the colored gentleman who was sent over from police court yesterday morning for being too handy with his razor, was released today. An indulgent friend signed his bond at the municipal court and Mr. Smith's troubles are supposed to be over, temporarily at least.

A Weak Stomach

Indigestion is often caused by overeating. An eminent authority says the harm done thus exceeds that from the excessive use of alcohol. Eat all the good food you want but don't overload the stomach. A weak stomach may refuse to digest what you eat. Then you need a good digestant like Kodol, which digests your food without the stomach's aid. This rest and the wholesome tonics Kodol contains soon restore health. Dieting unnecessary. Kodol quickly relieves the feeling of fulness and bloating from which some people suffer after meals. Absolutely cures indigestion.

LARGEST IN STATE

WRECK SCENE IS A HOODOO

ACCIDENTS WERE FREQUENT THERE YEARS AGO.

ARGUS AND MENTONE PEOPLE OUT FOR PLEASURE.

The largest lodge of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen in Indiana and one of the most energetic and hustling bodies of men in the United States is Fort Wayne lodge No. 136. Ever since the establishment of the brotherhood Indianapolis has borne the distinction of having the largest lodge in the state, but last Sunday she was compelled to hand over that honor to Fort Wayne. Three initiations were made then, bringing the total membership of the local lodge up to 220, two more than the membership of the Indianapolis lodge. Tonight the lodge will hold a special meeting to initiate two more applicants who cannot be in attendance at the meeting next Sunday. This will give the lodge a membership of 222. The members do not propose to rest here; they will endeavor to reach the 300 mark by the holidays. The new names to the roll are W. H. Hamilton and J. S. DeWitt, of the Pittsburg, and B. F. Rose, of the Lake Shore.

THE WINONA WRECK.

The wreck crews are still at Winona, picking up the wrecked cars and their cargoes and repairing damages to the tracks. One of the engines, No. 114, was damaged more extensively than at first supposed. Her entire left side is deranged, including broken cylinder, frame, side rods and valve gearing. No. 344, the other engine in the wreck, was not so badly injured. It was taken to Warsaw, on its own wheels yesterday and sidetracked, awaiting an opportunity to come into the shops. Eight of the sixteen cars were totally destroyed and of the others four are battered and twisted out of shape badly. They are steel cars. The scene of the wreck seems to have been the scene of other disasters, some of which resulted in loss of life. Concerning it the Warsaw Times says: "What was originally known as the gravel pit, just east of town and near what is now Winona station, seems to be an unfortunate place for railroad wrecks. We cannot remember just how many have occurred there or in that immediate vicinity, but even early in the history of the old Pittsburg, Fort Wayne and Chicago, as the road was known in early days, we remember several mishaps, more or less destructive, while on the other hand there have been several bad wrecks involving loss of life. Fortunately, in the one that occurred there Monday night no one was seriously hurt, but it is easy to see how great the loss of life might have been had what is known as the Winona 'dummy'—the train running between Warsaw and Winona during the summer season—been crowded to its fullest capacity, as it very often is. Although there was no loss of life and no one seemed injured, the destruction of property was great and involved the wrecking of a large number of freight cars, while the accident has added another to the long list that has occurred within a couple of miles of track of that locality. If railroad men were as superstitious as sailors on the 'briny deep,' long since they would have declared that place as 'hoodooed.'"

SEVERAL EXCURSIONS.

FRANK MORGAN INJURED.

Frank Morgan, the son of Passenger Conductor Joseph Morgan, of the Pittsburg, was injured in the back last evening and his bicycle was broken by being run over by one of the 'Bus barn hacks. The accident happened on Calhoun street, just as the driver turned his horses into the Pennsylvania driveway of the depot, and seems to have been due to a misunderstanding. The young man thought the hack was going to cross the tracks, otherwise he could have turned aside and avoided a collision. The driver, while he does not admit entire responsibility for the accident, has made amends by paying the cost of repairing the wheel, an arrangement that is entirely satisfactory, it is said, to young Morgan. The latter's injuries are not of a serious character.

HAD A SPECIAL MEETING.

There was a special meeting of Division No. 12, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, last Saturday for the purpose of receiving petitions. Major Wash. Haverstick, a former member of the division, was in attendance at the meeting and was given a great reception from his old comrades. Major Haverstick is the general inspector of supplies for public buildings under the supervision of the United States treasury department and his visit here at this time is to inspect the postoffice building and make note of the manner in which supplies are used there. He finds everything in good shape and his report will say that the government's interests in Fort Wayne are well looked after and that the postoffice building is in good condition. Major Haverstick was once a resident of Fort Wayne, being employed on the Nickel Plate as an engineer. He ran a construction train during the building of the road and later presided at the throttle of a passenger engine between this city and Bellevue. He now resides in Washington. Mrs. Haverstick met the major here and they are now the guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. Teagarden, 405 West Superior street. There will be a meeting of division 12 next Sunday, when some applicants will be initiated. At the close of business a smoker will take place and it is the wish of the officers that there be a big attendance.

THE UNFORTUNATES.

John Mars, machinist at the Wabash roundhouse, had a knee hurt yesterday. He was taking down a side rod, when the bar he was handling slipped and struck him. He will be off duty several days at least.

H. F. Kraft, a machinist, got some emery in one of his eyes yesterday while grinding up a tool at the Wabash shops.

C. P. Wise, a teamster at the Pittsburg shops, had a thumb mashed by a misdirected blow of a hammer yesterday. He will be off duty awhile.

M. Ault, a machinist at the Kerr Murray works, and F. H. Drissell, a truck repairer at the Pittsburg shops, each had a finger mashed yesterday. A casting fell on the digit of Mr. Ault and Mr. Drissell hit his finger with a hammer.

President W. H. Canniff, of the Nickel Plate, fell while walking on the shore of Canoe lake, in Canada, and fractured one of the bones of his left ankle. The accident will cripple him for several weeks.

COMMUTATION RATES.

The Sentinel is informed that the Wabash will put commutation rates and tickets in service between this city and Peru, effective at Wabash, Huntington and all other stations. Col. Thompson was asked some time ago to lay the matter before the management of the road and the proposition has been accepted. The only question of doubt is the time at which the rate will become effective and the price at which tickets will be sold. The Wabash, with its many trains, believes it can successfully compete with the electric line in local travel and it proposes to make the attempt.

COST OF LOCOMOTIVES.

According to the statements of superintendents of motive power, the cost of locomotives has increased in the last few years 40 per cent. This is one of the results of the large business and the urgent demand for motive power. An engine that could, three years ago, be bought for $10,000 now costs $16,000 if equipped with modern appliances, and railroad officials declare that until the present demand subsides the prevailing high prices will continue.

ANOTHER ADDITION TO FORCE.

The Electric works, which has been hiring men daily for several weeks, made an addition to its meter force this morning, when it gave John Schreiber, Fred Berdelman and Adam Brehm positions in that department. When the new machinery, mentioned elsewhere, is in position the company will be able to make still greater additions to its force of workmen.

NED KRETSINGER RETURNS.

Ned Kretsinger, son of Foreman J. R. Kretsinger, of the Pittsburg planing mills, has returned home, much to the delight of his parents. Ned has been with the Wallace circus ever since he left the city, several months ago. He has tired of a showman's life and is home to stay, he says. The young fellow is a good violinist.

MACHINERY ARRIVES.

Five carloads of machinery for equipping the new part of the Electric works arrived yesterday afternoon and is being unloaded today. It will be installed as rapidly as possible, for it is badly needed. The Sentinel described the most important pieces of this machinery some weeks ago, when the order for it was placed with the toolmakers.

PENNSYLVANIA PAY DAY.

The schedule of the Pennsylvania pay car was posted upon the various bulletin boards yesterday. The car will arrive here next Monday evening and remain until Wednesday morning, paying the shopmen on Tuesday.

FIREMAN MARTENS AROUND.

Fireman Fred Martens, who was injured by jumping from the cab of an engine at Winona last Monday night, was around this morning, slightly disfigured, though little the worse for the accident. He will be able to report for duty in a few days.

INDUSTRIAL NOTES.

R. J. Fisher went to Grand Rapids this afternoon on business for the Base works.

Contractor Philip Reese commenced building a house on South Hanna street this morning.

Boilermaker Henry Koopman, of the Wabash, is still off duty. He has been sick two weeks.

A hot box on the engine hauling Pennsylvania train 28 yesterday was responsible for a delay of one hour and twenty minutes in reaching this city.

Foreman H. T. Hogan, of the Pittsburg machine shop, went down to Winona yesterday to investigate the wrecked engines, which will soon be in his shop for repairs.

The Chicago Great Western will soon be the best equipped road as to power in the west. During the last six months it has placed orders for sixty-three powerful locomotives.

John Horstman, of the winding room of the Electric works, has taken a four weeks' leave of absence, which he will spend in rest. For the past three months Mr. Horstman has worked almost incessantly.

Some of the shipments from the Electric works today were a 300-light generator to Chambersburg, Pa., a 120-light generator to Des Moines Canning company, Webster City, Iowa, and a motor to Streator, Ill.

Matt Baches, boiler foreman of the Pennsylvania shops at Allegheny, is taking his annual vacation, which he will spend with his Fort Wayne friends. Mr. Baches is an old Fort Wayne boy, being employed for many years in the Pennsylvania shops here.

Charles J. Moses, of the Baltimore and Ohio shops at Garrett, was in the city yesterday calling upon his old friends. He was formerly employed in the Electric works.

Edgar Szink, who had a back injured, and John Moring, who was sick, resumed their respective positions at the Pittsburg smith shop this morning, after an absence of a week each.

Pittsburg engine 715G has been equipped for the water purifying process and is now out being tested. If the tests prove the method to be what is claimed for it, it will be adopted by the company.

Misses Olla and Hazel Houder, daughters of Nickel Plate Conductor M. R. Houder, have returned to Academic to prepare for the fall school term, after a vacation tour of the prominent cities in the state.

Bellevue Gazette: "Mrs. Jack Straub and little son went to Fort Wayne, Ind., this morning in which city they will make their future home. Mr. Straub has been employed there for several months past."

A couple of photographs of the wreck scene at Winona have been taken for the Pennsylvania officials. They show the wreck as it appeared immediately after the collision and as it appeared after the siding had been cleared of wreckage.

Since August 1 the Baltimore and Ohio has placed orders for fifty-one passenger coaches. Twenty-five will be wide vestibuled for through service. The passenger business of the line has so increased that it is short of passenger equipment.

James Ashwell, well known in the mechanical departments of the Pennsylvania, died on Sunday at Cleveland. For years he was superintendent of the boiler shops of the Cleveland and Pittsburg road. He was 81 years old and retired from the service of the Pennsylvania some years ago, but took great interest in the affairs of his line until quite recently.

NAME VARIOUS COMMITTEES

County Commissioners Have No Word from President and Details Move Slowly.

The county commissioners this morning began the work of formulating various committees to officiate in connection with the dedication of the Allen county court house, but the list is not yet completed, and will not be given out until something definite can be fixed regarding the date of the ceremony. There will be an executive committee, a transportation committee, a committee on invitation and a committee on reception, with possibly one or two others.

The commissioners are handicapped in proceeding with arrangements for the big event for the reason that no decisive information has yet been received regarding the coming of the president, who was invited some weeks ago. The board has signified its willingness to fix the date of the dedication to suit the president's convenience, but beyond the newspaper information that President Roosevelt would spend the hour from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m., on September 23, in Fort Wayne, the commissioners are not advised.

Until this is received, the date will not be determined. The hour indicated is not one which would have been chosen by the commissioners, and it is regarded as quite impossible for the dedication ceremony to be held at such an hour. It was suggested this morning, however, that if it shall prove impossible to secure President Roosevelt's presence in Fort Wayne earlier in the day, a public reception to the president at the court house would be entirely appropriate as the closing feature of the dedication day program.

WILL HAVE LIVELY DAY.

The president's itinerary through Indiana, as now arranged, provides for a very lively day. The train will leave Detroit on September 22 and will arrive at Logansport at 6 o'clock the following morning. The stop at Logansport will be very short. Later in the day, however, the train will again touch Logansport for a longer stay. Leaving Logansport the morning of the 23rd the train will proceed to Indianapolis over the Pennsylvania road, arriving there about 8 a. m. The president and party will remain in Indianapolis until 11:30 a. m., leaving at that hour for Muncie over the Big Four. Arriving there at 12:45, the party will remain until 1:15.

From Muncie the train will proceed to Kokomo over the Lake Erie and Western, being scheduled to arrive there at 3 p. m. A stay of a half hour will be made at Kokomo, and at 3:30 the train will leave over the Pennsylvania for Logansport. Arriving there at 4:15, the party will remain in Logansport for thirty minutes, leaving at 4:45 by way of the Vandalia. The train is scheduled to arrive at Columbia City at 5:50 and will leave there at 6 o'clock for Fort Wayne. The arrangement is to arrive at Fort Wayne at 6:30 o'clock, stop an hour and leave at 7:30 for Chicago.

DEATH'S SUMMONS IS SUDDEN

FRANK J. SPRECHT, AGED 68, DIES FROM APOPLEXY.

Julius Mason, Well Known Young Farmer, Succumbs to Stomach Trouble—Mortuary Matters.

Frank J. Sprecht, a retired farmer, sixty-eight years of age, died very suddenly from apoplexy at 2 o'clock this morning at his home, 60 Glasgow avenue, death ensuing within a few minutes after he had been stricken by the disease.

Shortly before 2 o'clock a son, John Sprecht, heard an unusual noise in his father's room, the sound resembling that of one breathing with extreme difficulty. He hurried to his father's bedside and found him unconscious. Dr. J. Simon was hurriedly summoned, but his efforts to restore the stricken man were futile.

Mr. Sprecht was a native of Baden, Germany, but had resided in America many years. He retired from farming some years ago and had been living a retired life in this city. Mrs. Sprecht died some time ago. There are two children—John Sprecht and Mrs. May Richards, both of this city.

The family formerly resided in Noble county, where Mr. Sprecht still owned a farm. It is probable that the remains will be shipped to Laotto for interment.

MASON.

Julius Mason, thirty-five years of age, died at 3 o'clock this morning at the home of his father, John B. Mason, in Perry township, nine miles north of Fort Wayne. Death was due to stomach trouble and it followed an illness of several months.

It is said the disease from which Mr. Mason died was attributable to an accidental injury received while at a social gathering some months ago. At this time he was accidentally struck in the side and from the injury an abscess developed, which terminated in his death.

The young man was unmarried. He was a prominent young farmer of that vicinity and was widely known. The surviving relatives include the father, two brothers and three sisters—John N. Mason, Mrs. Frank Huguenard, Mrs. Adolph Grosjean, Joseph A. Mason and Miss Adell Mason. Joseph N. Mason, circuit court bailiff, of this city, is a cousin of the deceased.

Funeral services will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock from the residence and at 10 o'clock from St. Vincent's Catholic church at Academie.

SCROFULA

I bequeath to my children Scrofula with all its attendant horrors, humiliation and suffering. This is a strange legacy to leave to posterity; a heavy burden to place upon the shoulders of the young.

This treacherous disease dwarfs the body and hinders the growth and development of the faculties, and the child born of blood poison, or scrofula-tainted parentage, is poorly equipped for life's duties.

Scrofula is a disease with numerous and varied symptoms; enlarged glands or tumors about the neck and armpits, catarrh of the head, weak eyes and dreadful skin eruptions upon different parts of the body show the presence of tubercular or scrofulous matter in the blood. This dangerous and stealthy disease entrenches itself securely in the system and attacks the bones and tissues, destroys the red corpuscles of the blood, resulting in white swelling, a pallid, waxy appearance of the skin, loss of strength and a gradual wasting away of the body.

S. S. S. combines both purifying and tonic properties, and is guaranteed entirely vegetable, making it the ideal remedy in all scrofulous affections. It purifies the deteriorated blood, makes it rich and strong and a complete and permanent cure is soon effected. S. S. S. improves the digestion and assimilation of food, restores the lost properties to the blood and quickens the circulation, bringing a healthy color to the skin and vigor to the weak and emaciated body.

EDWARD IS CROWNED

Magnificent Ceremony Enacted in London and Edward Receives Symbol of Power.

MONARCH STANDS THE ORDEAL WELL

London, Aug. 9.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra were crowned in Westminster abbey shortly after noon today. Though the ceremony was bereft of some of the elaboration and pageantry originally contemplated, it lacked little in the way of spectacular perfection. The whole ceremonial was of a magnificently decorative character and presented a constantly changing panorama around the two central figures enthroned in their robes of velvet, ermine and cloth of gold, amidst the distinguished assemblage of actors, the fulfillment of whose various roles necessitated constant movement. Each stage of the ceremony, with its old world usages, furnished its quota of interest, while the interior of the noble church, filled as it was with officiating prelates in vari-colored capes, with princes and diplomats, officers in gold-laced uniforms; with heralds, pursuivants and other officers of state in medierval costumes; with peers and peeresses in rich robes; with oriental potentates in many-hued raiment; with men of all types and all shades of complexion from distant points of the new crowned monarch's empire; with its dazzling display of jewels and wealth of color, presented a picture which in its combined brilliancy and distinction has seldom been excelled.

START OF PROCESSION.

As the hour appointed for the departure of the royal procession approached the excitement about Buckingham palace was most marked. Punctual to time, the advance guard of the royal cavalcade issued from the archway, the horses of the troopers curvetting nervously as they faced the wall of humanity that cheered their coming. Shortly afterwards came the prince and princess of Wales' procession, and, finally, within a few minutes, their majesties' state coach appeared at the gateway and the king and queen smiled and bowed in response to the mighty roar of cheers that dwarfed all previous welcomes. The scene in the vicinity was remarkable. On the roof of the palace were perched a number of fashionably dressed ladies, members of the household, and their cheers, with the fluttering of their handkerchiefs as the king and queen entered the royal coach, gave the signal for the deafening plaudits of the populace which greeted their majesties as they emerged from the gates. The ovation was taken up by the crowds which thronged the Mall and was repeatedly acknowledged by the occupants of the state coach.

KING LOOKED PALE.

The king looked pale and rather fine drawn and was by no means as brown and robust as previous reports had led one to expect, and while punctiliously bowing from side to side, he did so with a gravity very unusual to him. He seemed to sit rather far back in the carriage and moved his body very little. His curious crimson robes and cap, the maintenance of which, simply a band of ermine with a crimson velvet top, doubtless gave him the unusual appearance. The queen, beside him, was radiant. She never looked better. The cheers which greeted the pair were loud and unmistakably genuine, and very different from the perfunctory applause which usually greets the appearance of members of the royal family.

The three processions to the abbey were carried out according to program and the only striking features of the first two were the gorgeous state carriages and the beautiful trappings and horses.

ENTHUSIASM FOR KING.

The crowd paid but little attention to the occupants of the vehicles. In the last carriage of the first procession sat Prince Henry of Prussia on the back seat, but he was so occupied with talking to the duke of Sparta that he seemed not to notice the crowd. The prince of Wales also seemed very indifferent and stolid, but the princess of Wales bowed and smiled constantly. It was not till the king's procession came that there was any show of enthusiasm. Lord Kitchener, Admiral Seymour and General Gaselee, as they rode together, of course, came in for much attention, but they all seemed to look straight ahead and pay little attention to the people along the route. Lord Kitchener, in the resplendent full dress uniform of a general, also looked unfamiliar and many persons did not recognize him. The Indians were undoubtedly the most picturesque feature of the procession, while the state coach of the king, drawn by the fat Hanovarian horses, which figured in all the late Queen Victoria's processions, seemed much more like fairyland than usual.

PROCESSION A TRIUMPH.

The progress of the royal cortege was marked by no special incident, with the exception of an accident to Lord Edward Pelham-Clinton, one of the grooms in waiting. It was a continued triumph and reached its climax on the arrival at the abbey, where there was a scene of unparallelled enthusiasm, which did not cease until their majesties disappeared in the annex.

The accident to Lord Pelham-Clinton created considerable excitement in the Mall. The groom in waiting, in a closed carriage, was passing York steps, when his conveyance collided with another royal carriage going at high speed in an opposite direction. The horses fell and there appeared to be a bad mix-up. The police extricated the teams with some difficulty and Lord Pelham-Clinton, who was only slightly hurt, proceeded.

SCENES AT THE ABBEY.

In Westminster Abbey the doors of that edifice were scarcely opened and the gold sticks and ushers had barely found their stations before the seats began to fill. Peers and peeresses swept up the Nave, their scarlet and ermine making vivid contrasts with the deep blue of the carpet. As they arrived before the thrones they separated, the peers going to the right and the peeresses to the left.

By 10 o'clock the interior of the Abbey presented a blaze of color. Along the nave, which was lined by grenadiers every chair was taken up by high officers of the army and navy and others in equally handsome equipment.

On top of the arch separating the nave from the chancel sat the surpliced orchestra. In stalls within, with the other ambassadors, were the United States ambassador, Joseph H. Choate, and Mrs. Choate, and many officials.

After 10 o'clock the organ and band played, while the spectators, many of whom showed signs of sleepiness, chatted or swept with their glasses what portions of the Abbey they could see from their seats.

THE SERVICE BEGINS.

The service commenced with the reconsecration of the regalia. The processin of the clergy with the regalia then proceeded from the altar to the annex, all present standing up and the choir singing, "Oh, God, Our Help in Ages Past." Preceding the regalia came the boys of Westminster Abbey, followed by the children of the chapel royal and the choir in royal uniforms.

The duke of Connaught took his place beside the prince of Wales in the Abbey as the procession entered, bowing as he passed the prince.

The archbishop of Canterbury took his seat in front of the coronation chair and the earl of Halsbury, the lord high chancellor, seated himself by his side. Several minutes elapsed, however, before the king and queen came in sight of those gathered about the throne. Suddenly "Vivat Alexandra!" was shouted by the boys of Westminster, and the queen walking slowly to the left of the throne gained her chair and knelt at a silken prie dieu, her magnificent train of cloth-of-gold being lifted out of the way by six scarlet-coated pages.

THE KING A BIT LATE.

Two or three minutes later came the hoarse cry from the Westminster boys of "Vivat Rex Edwardus," with blasts from trumpets. Yet there was another wait. "What has become of the king?" was asked by people who were shut off from sight of the nave. The queen waited patiently, the organ ceased and then resumed, there was another fanfare of trumpets, another chorus of "vivats" and King Edward appeared and walked to his chair in front of the throne, bowing to the queen as he passed, and then knelt down in prayer. After removing his somewhat unbecoming cap, his majesty stood up and the archbishop of Canterbury in a trembling voice read the recognition, beginning: "Sirs, I here present unto you King Edward, the undoubted king of this realm," etc.

THE KING ACCLAIMED.

Then there was a hoarse shout and the blending of the choir and the people, women and men, in the cry, "God save King Edward." Several times this was repeated and the abbey rang with loud fanfares.

Again the king and queen knelt and the archbishop of Canterbury walked to the altar and commenced the communion. While the gospel was being read the king stood erect, supported on each side by the bishops in their heavily embroidered copes. During the singing of the creed all the members of the royal family turned eastward. Both King Edward and Queen Alexandra followed the service carefully, frequently looking at the copies of the service which they held in their hands.

EDWARD TAKES THE OATH.

The administration of the oath followed. Standing before the king's chair the archbishop asked: "Sir, is your majesty willing to take the oath?" The king answered in firm, strong tones: "I am willing," etc., his replies being easily heard high up in the triforium near the roof. Then the inkstand was brought and the king signed the oath. He did not advance to the altar, but sat in the chair he had occupied since the service began. While the choir

KING EDWARD VII. OF GREAT BRITAIN.

AT CELLAR GRAVE

BARTHOLIN SEEN WHERE HIS MOTHER WAS BURIED.

IMPORTANT FACT DEVELOPED

MURDERER SURPRISED BY A REAL ESTATE AGENT.

CHICAGO MYSTERY UNSOLVED

TWO MEN WANTED BY POLICE ARE HEARD FROM.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—An important development in the Bartholin-Mitchell murder mystery was made today when it was discovered that Bartholin had been surprised July 30, while standing at the cellar grave of his murdered mother, by a real estate agent.

Peter VanVlissingen, who holds a mortgage on Mrs. Bartholin's home, and who sent his agent to the Calumet property to appraise it the afternoon of July 30, furnished the police with the information about Bartholin working on the grave of his mother.

The agent called and rang the front door bell repeatedly. No one answered and he went to the rear of the house and looked through a basement window. There he saw a man standing in one corner looking at the floor, apparently absorbed in thought.

Suddenly the man in the basement looked up and saw the agent peering in. A moment later Bartholin came to the rear door and asked the agent what he wanted. The latter replied that he wanted to see Mrs. Bartholin.

Bartholin told the agent his mother was in Milwaukee and she would not return for several days. Shortly after this conversation he was seen to leave the house and the same evening he called at Minnie Mitchell's home. The couple left together and the girl did not return.

Inspector Hunt, when shown the Toledo interview with E. O. Hunter, said that Oscar Thompson, a former lodger in the house, and who is now under arrest, denied having told Hunter that William had left the city to be married.

The inspector further stated that Hunter will be brought to this city, together with Milton L. Edwards, another roomer in the Bartholin house, who is now in Denver.

POLICE WORKING HARD.

Chicago, Aug. 11.—Developments today in the mysterious murders of Minnie Mitchell and Mrs. Anne Bartholin, led the police to double their efforts to locate William J. Bartholin, respectively fiancee and son of the two women. At the inquest over the body of the older woman, which was found Saturday night crammed into a hole in the cement floor of the Bartholin home, neighbors readily identified the corpse as that of Mrs. Bartholin. The burial today of Minnie Mitchell by her family removed all doubt in the public mind that the body found in the field at Seventy-fourth and State streets last week was that of the young woman who was last seen with Bartholin. Complete hearing over Mrs. Bartholin's body was postponed by the coroner until August 21, in the hope that additional clews to the murders may be obtained.

Today it developed that young Bartholin had quarreled with his mother just before she disappeared, over the question of bringing his prospective wife to live at his mother's home.

FEARED FOR HIS LIFE.

Denver, Col., Aug. 11.—Milton L. R. Edwards, who formerly roomed at the home of Mrs. Anne Bartholin, in Chicago, and for whom the police of that city have been looking in order to learn what he may know concerning the murder of Mrs. Bartholin and Miss Minnie Mitchell, is now in Denver. To a representative of the Associated Press this morning he made the following statement:

"I left the home of Mrs. Bartholin on the night of the 31st of July. On the 1st of August I slept in a hotel down town, fearing that my life was in jeopardy, and, as I remember it, left on the 2d of August. On the 31st of July I had gone to a room not my own, in order to get where it was cooler. About 2 or 3 o'clock in the morning I was awakened by a cat jumping on the windowsill. This incident called my attention to the fact that the screen had been taken out and on lighting the gas and making a further examination I discovered that the screen in that window was the only one missing. As the next day was pay-day, I was fearful all the rest of the night and I am now fully convinced that had I slept there another night I should have been murdered in cold blood.

"Mrs. Bartholin hadn't been at the house for perhaps fifteen days before I left. William Bartholin, contrary to his custom, stayed about the house most of his time and whatever I broached the subject of the welfare of his mother or her whereabouts he would immediately change the subject. On that same night Mrs. Mitchell, the mother of the murdered girl, and her daughter-in-law, were callers at the house and they wanted to know about William, who had not been seen for several days, and where Mrs. Bartholin was. At that time I told them of what I feared, and advised them to get a detective on the trail of Bartholin.

"I did not know Bartholin very well, because he was rather uncommunicative. He was, in fact, more repellant than anything else, and so far as I know had no large following of friends. I know of no motive that could have prompted the commission of the crime."

O. E. HUNTER'S STORY.

Toledo, Aug. 11.—O. E. Hunter, a former roomer with Mrs. Anne Bartholin, found murdered in Chicago, is now in this city. He talks in a straightforward manner concerning his seven months' tenancy of the Bartholin house. He left Chicago on Friday, Aug. 1, coming here in response to a letter from his brother, ex-County Treasurer Samuel A. Hunter. His story is this:

"To the best of my recollection, the last time I saw Mrs. Bartholin was on July 4, when I paid her my rent. I hardly ever saw her except on pay-day. I often met young Bartholin at the cigar store on the corner of Forty-third and Calumet, whose proprietor is my nephew. He appeared to be a popular young fellow, well esteemed in the neighborhood. Mrs. Bartholin disappeared on July 8, and two or three days after that he met Will, the son, and asked where his mother was, as his (Hunter's) bed had not been made. Young Bartholin said she had gone to Michigan, and that he would see that the room was attended to regularly, which was done. July 28 was my next meeting with Bartholin, who said his mother had not yet returned; that the gas bill was due, and requested some money. I paid him $2. This was the last I saw of Bartholin.

"On July 31 a Mr. Thompson, who had been rooming in the house for seventeen years, notified me that Will had gone away to get married; that as nothing had been heard of the old lady, he would close up the house and requested me to get another room. I left the next day for Toledo.

"The relations between Mrs. Bartholin and her son appeared all right during the time I was in the house, and I never heard Will speak of Minnie Mitchell, also supposed to have been murdered by him."

BRICK WORK IS COMPLETED.

Fred Pohlmeyer & Co., of this city, have just completed the brick work upon the new German Lutheran church at Friedham, Adams county, and have returned to Fort Wayne. The church is a very beautiful structure and it is said it will be the largest country church in the state. Something like $15,000 is to be expended in the building, which will be dedicated in November.

WIN GREAT VICTORY

Haytien Rebels Under General Nord Defeat Goverment Army and Inflict Heavy Loss.

WILL ATTACK CAPE HAYTIEN NEXT

Cape Haytien, Hayti, Aug. 9.—Gen. Albert Salnave, commandant of the Artibonite Firminist troops, has completely defeated the army of the provisional government under Gen. Alexis Nord at Limbe, capturing General Nord's cannons and munitions of war. Many of General Nord's soldiers were killed and a great number taken prisoners. General Salnave continues his march on Cape Haytien, an attack on which is hourly expected.

The gunboat Crete-A-Pierrot, which is in the Firminist service, debarked troops and marines yesterday afternoon and during the night at various points near this city and cruised around outside the harbor. The residents here are much frightened, fearing a bombardment of the town, but the foreign colony is calm, thanks to the protection afforded by the presence of the United States gunboat Machias, Commander McCrea having taken all measures necessary to protect as much as possible the lives and property of foreigners here.

CABLEGRAM FROM M'CREA.

Washington, Aug. 9.—The navy department this morning received the following cablegram from Commander McCrea, of the gunboat Machias, dated Cape Haytien, Aug. 9:

"Haytien gunboat landed force at Cape Haytien on Friday afternoon. An engagement is hourly expected. (Will be) Ready to land."

Commander McCrea is under general instructions to protect American interests and in addition yesterday received special instructions to prevent the cutting of the cable of the United States and Haytien company. This is not a French company, as referred to yesterday, but is purely an American company, being part of the Commercial company's system. Commander McCrea will confine himself strictly to that mission and will not take sides either for or against the de facto government. Great confidence is reposed in the ability and cool-headedness of Commander McCrea and no fresh instructions were considered necessary. The Machias has a complement of about 130 men including a marine guard of 12, and could land a force of about 50 men all told. A Colt rapid-fire gun, which she has aboard, could be sent ashore with a landing party. The Machias has eight 4-inch guns in her main battery, four 6-pounders and two 1-pounders in her secondary battery, all rapid-fire, and under the threats of these guns it is quite unlikely that either the Haytien gunboat or General Firmin's force ashore would care to make an issue.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Darling today sent the following cablegram to Commander McCrea, of the Machias:

"Your actions are approved. Cutting cable or interference with other than Haytien interests not to be permitted."

QUEEN ALEXANDRA OF GREAT BRITAIN.

OUTLOOK WAS NEVER BETTER

ALLEN COUNTY DEMOCRATS HOLD A CONFERENCE.

Candidates and Committeemen Discuss Political Situation With Much Enthusiasm.

Nominees upon the Allen county democratic ticket gathered at the city hall at 10 o'clock Saturday for a heart-to-heart conference over the political outlook. The situation was freely discussed in every phase, and it is the consensus of opinion among those who have kept in touch with sentiment in every portion of the county that the outlook is most hopeful.

The meeting was called by Chairman Scherer and every candidate upon the county ticket was present, together with many of the central committeemen. Very nearly every candidate participated in the discussion, outlining conditions as he had found them in his own canvass, and making suggestions as to plans for the future. A spirit of marked enthusiasm pervaded the gathering, and the outlook has imparted an unusual confidence in the magnitude of the triumph which is to come in November.

TO PLAN FOR CAMPAIGN.

The county central committee went into session at the city hall at 2:30 o'clock that afternoon to take up the preliminary work of planning for the coming campaign, and it is probable that much important business will be disposed of today. Chairman Scherer is in favor of opening headquarters immediately, though it is not likely that the formal opening of campaign activities will occur until September.

Changes in places of residence by a number of members upon the central committee has resulted in a few vacancies in that body, and these will be filled by appointment today.

District Chairman Fleming was present at the meeting that afternoon and took an active part in the formulation of plans for the county campaign.

IT STARTED TROUBLE.

When Fred G. Strickland, a socialist speaker who was delivering an address from the Berry street front of the court house Saturday evening, displayed a red pennant in connection with the American flag, it angered several in his audience and came near causing trouble. The affair appears to have been the development of what started as a joke on a strenuous American. Several old soldiers resented the presence of the pennant, insisting that it was the banner of anarchy. Strickland's friends, however, deny that it was raised with any anarchistic spirit, and that the pennant was no more the banner of anarchy than is the auctioneer's flag. They regard the use of this particular color by Strickland in his pennant as injudicious and a violation of public custom, but insist that no views could be more radically opposed to anarchy than are those of the socialists.

The bans of marriage of Miss Jennie O'Brien and Roy Trainer were called at the Cathedral yesterday for the first time.

sang "Come, Holy Ghost, Our Souls Inspire," the king remained seated and the queen stood up.

After the archbishop's annointing prayer a gold canopy was brought over the king's chair and his majesty divested himself of his outer robe and then walked to the ancient chair, while the choir sang Zadok's anthem. The anointing ceremony was scarcely seen, owing to the canopy. The spectators were just able to discern the archbishop of Canterbury's motions.

THE PRAYERS ARE READ.

After the prayer the king donned the colobium sindonis, then resumed his seat, and from a scarlet silken roll, on which the prayers were printed in large type and which was held by the dean of Westminster, the archbishop read the prayers and delivered the sword to the king, who did not go to the altar, the sword being taken to him by the dean of Westminster while his majesty remained standing. The armilla and the orb were then delivered to the king, according to the program. When the king held out his hand for the ring the archbishop of Canterbury had difficulty in finding it, but finally, with trembling hands, he placed it on the tip of his majesty's finger, reading the prayer simultaneously, the king himself completing the process of putting on the ring as he withdrew his hand.

CROWN HARD TO PLACE.

Later the archbishop had similar difficulty, owing to near-sightedness, in placing the crown on the king's head. In fact, the choir started "God save the king" while the archbishop of Canterbury was still striving to place the crown on the ruler's head and a great shout went up and the electric lights were turned on.

As the acclamations died away, the clanging of the joy-bells, the noise of guns and the shouting of the people outside penetrated into the abbey, where the king still sat motionless, his dazzling crown on his head and his sceptre held firmly in his hand.

RECEIVES BENEDICTION.

After singing "Be Strong and Play the Man," and the Bible having been presented, the king advanced and knelt while he received the benediction. He then walked to the great throne, where he stood on the dais for the first time, surrounded by nobles. The archbishop of Canterbury followed, the king being obliged to stand while awaiting the arrival of the archbishop. Having placed the king into his new throne, the archbishop knelt and paid homage, the aged prelate scarcely being able to rise until the king assisted him and himself raised the archbishop's hand from the steps of the throne. The archbishop, who seemed to be in a faint, had to practically be carried to the altar. The incident created considerable excitement and several prelates rushed forward to help the primate.

EMBRACES HEIR APPARENT.

The next person to pay homage to his majesty was the prince of Wales, who knelt until King Edward held out his hand, which he kissed, after touching the crown as a sign of fealty. The prince of Wales then started to return to his seat, when the king drew him back and put his arms around him and kissed him. After this the king once more gave the prince his hand, this time to shake, and the hearty vigor of King Edward's grasp showed that his hand at any rate had not lost its strength.

The duke of Norfolk (as earl marshal), accompanied by representatives of each grade of the nobility, red the oath beginning: "I, duke or earl, etc., do become your liege man of life and limb," etc. The respective representatives next touched the crown and kissed the king's cheek, the duke of Norfolk being the only peer to read the oath. This portion of the service was considerably shortened.

THE QUEEN IS CROWNED.

The queen then arose and, accompanied by her entourage, proceeded to the altar steps, where, under a pall of cloth-of-gold, she was quickly crowned by the archbishop of York, supported by the bishops. She was then led to the throne beside that in which the king sat, and her enthronization was accomplished The queen bowed to King Edward, and both walked to the altar and received the communion, after delivering their crowns to the lord great chamberlain and another officer appointed to hold them. The pages, while their majesties knelt, still held the queen's magnificent long train, with the rest of the nobles present kneeling.

IMPRESSIVE SPECTACLE.

The whole spectacle was most impressive and was made more brilliant owing to the electric light.

By a great effort the archbishop of Canterbury was enabled to conclude the service and the king and queen repaired to St. Edward's chapel. Neither of their majesties returned to their thrones after the communion, but remained at the altar. The service, which was completed with the singing of the te deum, was brought to a close without a hitch. The king exhibited no outward traces of fatigue.

turn to the place was marked by scenes of enthusiasm similar to those which greeted their progress to the Abbey, the more circuitous route through club land and Constitution hill giving the hundreds of thousands of persons occupying the stands, windows and roofs an opportunity of greeting the new-crowned king and his consort before they re-entered Buckingham Palace, which they did in the midst of remarkable scenes of enthusiasm, the entire crowd from Constitution hill downwards joining in singing the national anthem.

BORE CEREMONY WELL.

Shortly after the return of the king and queen to the palace it was officially announced from there that the king had borne the ceremony well and that he had suffered in no way from fatigue, and this was confirmed by the presence of the king himself when, in response to the repeated plaudits of the crowds, his majesty, accompanied by the queen, appeared on the balcony in their robes and crowns. The faces of both were suffused with smiles as they bowed repeatedly their recognition of the warmth of the applause.

OBSERVED IN COLONIES.

While the coronation was being solemnized in London, celebrations and rejoicings were carried out throughout the colonies, numerous cablegrams to the king conveyed the congratulations of representative bodies everywhere, salutes were fired and church services were held. Australia confined itself to religious services, having spent all the money gathered for the postponed event of June 26 for charities. Similar services were held by the British communities in all the European capitals and chief cities of the continent.

The congratulations of European sovereigns also poured in. Soon after the king's return to the palace the pope sent him an especially cordial message.

CEREMONY IN BERLIN.

Berlin, Aug. 9.—The American and British residents here joined in a special service at the English church, almost identical with the service at Westminster Abbey. Among those present were Prince Frederick Leopold, representing Emperor William; Dr. Von Muehlberg, under secretary of the foreign office, and J. B. Jackson, first secretary of the American embassy. The church was magnificently decorated by the emperor's gardeners.

WARRANTS FOR STRIKERS.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Aug. 9.—Warrants have been issued for the arrest of thirty-one striking miners at Kingston, Luzerne borough, and Edwardsville, charged with rioting while doing picket duty in the vicinity of the Woodward breaker of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company's colliery. It is alleged that the strikers intimidated men who wanted to go to work and turned them back by force. National Board Member John Fallon claims that there was no intimidation, neither was force used.

The following strike notice for the week has been issued from headquarters:

"The anthracite region is as firm as Gibraltar. No desertions, no weakening, no grumbling.

"West Virginia situation unchanged and the strikers are firm and orderly."

A NARROW ESCAPE.

Frederick Rosselot, living at 1512 North Harrison street, had a very narrow escape from serious injury and possible death last Friday afternoon. Mr. Rosselot was crossing the Lake Shore tracks at Fourth street, passing close to the end of a string of cars which were standing almost on the crossing, when the switch engine "kicked" suddenly, and Mr. Rosselot was knocked down, falling in such a manner that his legs lay across the track within a few inches of the wheel. Mr. Rosselot had sufficent presence of mind to grasp the brake beam of the car and push himself off the track, otherwise his legs would have been crushed off. The car wheel inflicted an abrasion from Mr. Rosselot's knee downward and the injury will confine him to his home for several days.

SCALDED BY HOT COFFEE.

Miss Agnes Jamey, of 1337 Green street, was painfully scalded while preparing the evening meal last evening. While she was pouring coffee her little brother, who was playing about the room, collided with her, and the coffee was upset. She was painfully scalded about the upper part of the body.

REV. J. H. BATHE RETURNS.

Rev. J. H. Bathe arrived home Friday after a visit of three months in Germany. Rev. Bathe visited his old home and also several of the larger cities of Europe and returned much improved in health. Father Bathe celebrated mass in the Cathedral this morning.

LIKE FORT WAYNE

BEN HUR HEADQUARTERS ARE TO BE CHANGED.

TO LEAVE CRAWFORDSVILLE

SUMMIT CITY IS VIEWED WITH MUCH FAVOR.

INDIANAPOLIS IS AT WORK

SPLENDID BUILDING WILL BE BUILT IN CITY CHOSEN.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 9.—L. C. Mullins, deputy supreme chief of the Tribe of Ben Hur, residing in this city, says that there is large probability of the home office or headquarters of the order being moved from Crawfordsville to some other city, and that Fort Wayne has received favorable consideration.

Personally he favors Indianapolis and has planned to organize a business men's lodge to aid in the effort to bring about the change. But he says Fort Wayne, Terre Haute and Evansville have also brought so much pressure to bear, that it is not improbable, if a change is made, that one of them will get the headquarters.

Crawfordsville gets about $400,000 a year from the main office, that amount being paid out there for printing and other expenses. But the county board of review of Montgomery county has insisted this year in assessing the money and property of the order for taxation, while the supreme officers have appealed the assessment to the state board of tax commissioners, holding that the order is a charitable institution within the meaning of the statute and that its property is therefore not taxable. This action has increased the desire of the supreme officers to move. They are, however, cramped for room in their present building and it is their desire to construct a building to cost at least $100,000 either in Crawfordsville or in the city which they may select for their home.

HIGH COURT SESSION HERE

FORESTERS WILL HOLD IT IN FEBRUARY.

Prominent Fraternity Men Already Indicate Their Intention of Coming.

Preparations are already under way for a notable fraternal gathering to be held in Fort Wayne several months hence. It is the high court session of the Independent Order of Foresters, which will be held in this city in February, delegates from every court of the order in Indiana coming for a four days' session.

Members are highly gratified over the fact that many prominent men are already indicating their intention to be present. This morning W. S. Wells, who is deputy high chief ranger for the Fourth district, was notified that Dr. Oronhyatekha, of Toronto, supreme chief ranger and former president of the national fraternal congress, would surely be here. Dr. Oronhyatekha is one of the most eminent men in fraternal circles. He is a Mohawk Indian of rare culture and intelligence, and very active in the work of the Foresters. Elliott Stevenson, of Detroit, supreme councilor of the order, will also be present.

WABASH LINE OPENED.

The new Wabash line of the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company was formally thrown open to service Sunday and the opening day attracted a very large business. The eighteen miles between Huntington and Wabash are now made in fifty minutes, but when the track is in better shape this time will be materially shortened. At present passengers transfer from car to car at Huntington.

WHO IS SHE?

The management of the fall festival association announced today that there would be an automobile booth in League park along with the other attractions and that the prettiest girl in Fort Wayne had been secured to preside over the booth. The management refused to divulge the young lady's name, but said that they had a surprise in store. The Covert motorette, which is to be given away on the last day of the festival, arrived today and will be on the streets for a few days. It will be on exhibition for a time in the windows of Soliday, Hite & Co. and will be placed in the automobile booth when the festival opens.

IMPROVEMENTS AT CONCORDIA.

Concordia college hospital, which was partially built last year, will be completed before the opening of the college this fall, and Architect J. M. E. Reidel is now making drawings for the completion of the structure. The first floor was finished last year. The second floor to be finished this summer will contain sick rooms, disinfecting room, bath rooms and quarters for nurses. Architect Riedel is also making drawings for a handsome brick residence for Prof. Dorn, to be built on the college grounds. The house will be the property of the college.

WERE MARRIED SATURDAY.

Clifton Perry, a teamster for the Withington Handle company, and Miss Jennie Kaylor, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Kaylor, were united in marriage Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. The ceremony was performed in the new home the young people had already furnished at 43 Chestnut street, in the extreme east end of the city, and Rev. M. C. Cooper was the officiating clergyman.

CHICAGO POLICEMEN SLAIN

OFFICERS DIE IN BATTLE WITH ROBBERS.

Fight Occurred at Dawn Between the Patrolmen and a Gang of Desperate Thieves.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Officers Timothy Devine and Charles T. Pennell, patrolmen of the Chicago police department, were killed here early today in a revolver battle with what is supposed to have been a gang of thugs. Much mystery surrounds the shooting, for both men died before an adequate account of the shooting could be obtained, Devine in the ambulance on the way to the hospital and Pennell on the operating table while surgeons were probing for bullets.

The fight occurred just before dawn near Jackson boulevard and Ashland avenue, in the aristocratic section of the west side. The fusilade of shots aroused the entire neighborhood. Citizens who heard the dying policemen groan rushed to their assistance and saw men running away. Officer Pennell heroically staggered a hundred feet to a patrol box and sent in an alarm for assistance. At once the police set a dragnet for all suspicious characters and soon had six men in custody. Before Pennell died he was able to gasp out a few words about "robbers," giving descriptions of two men.

SURE CURE FOR BOILS.

New York, Aug. 11.—Dr. Doyen, of Paris, has demonstrated that the inflamed tumors designated under the names of boils or furuncles and anthrax may be successfully submitted to the serum treatment, says the Paris correspondent of the Herald. The doctor has brought to the notice of the academy of medicine an albuminous liquid which, administered in doses of five to ten cubic centimeters, is efficacious against the staphylococcus microbe, which engenders those affections. The serum employed has such a powerful effect that in two or three hours after the injection all pain caused by the inflammation ceases. The results vary a little according to the manner in which the injection is made and the amount of decayed tissue in the center of the eruption. The largest carbuncles cure without any incision or cauterization, yielding to a simple emollient and aseptic dressing. The injections, about two hundred in number, made by Dr. Doyen, and fully specified by him, have never produced an abscess.

HEAVIEST IN YEARS

C. S. Bash, of S. Bash & Co., stated to a Sentinel representative today that oats now being brought to the Fort Wayne market average 38 pounds to the bushel, 10 pounds heavier than the average weight per bushel of last year's crop. The standard weight is 32 pounds, six pounds under the local average. The wet weather of the past few months, which was responsible for the loss of a large part of the oats crop, was responsible for the increase in weight of that part which escaped destruction. Mr. Bash states that the average of the 1902 yield is the best in twenty-five years.

TAKES POSITION AT MUNCIE.

Miss Artena M. Chapin, daughter of Judge and Mrs. A. A. Chapin, arrived in the city Saturday from Prout's Neck, Me., where she had been enjoying an outing. On September 1 Miss Chapin will take charge of the Muncie City library. She has for several years been connected with the office of the state librarian at Indianapolis, and is regarded as one of the most competent librarians in Indiana.

The engagement is announced of Miss Louise Fischer, of Toledo, and John Reidmiller, of this city. The groom is connected with the Centlivre brewery and is very well known here.

TO LAND TROOPS

GERMANY WILL PUT FORCE ON VENEZUELAN SOIL.

INTERESTS NEED PROTECTION

UNITED STATES ORDERS WARSHIP TO PORTO CABELLO.

A CRISIS HAS BEEN REACHED

DE FACTO BLOCKADE OF CAPE HAYTIEN DECLARED.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Minister Bowen, at Caracas, today advised the state department that the Germans intend to land a naval force at Porto Cabello to protect German interests there which are threatened by the uprising now in progress. The minister advised that we follow suit. After a conference between the officials of the state and navy departments, instructions were cabled to Commander Nichols, of the Topeka, to proceed from La Guaria to Porto Cabello and to land a naval force in case of attack. The Topeka has already left for Porto Cabello.

The Topeka will probably reach Porto Cabello, which is only a short sail from La Guaira, some time today. The trouble at Porto Cabello grows out of the uprising which has convulsed Venezuela for some time. It is directed against President Castro and has kept the country in a state of ferment for many months. Minister Bowen recently sent word that President Castro was leaving for the front with the expectation of fighting a decisive battle with the insurgents. The latter have been gathering strength at Porto Cabello. Our consul at that point sent word recently that the lives of some of the American residents, including members of his family, were imperiled and two of the ladies of the consul's family were taken away in a government ship. Since then there has been no word of a critical condition of affairs, but the advices of today indicate that a crisis has been reached.

MONROE DOCTRINE SAFE.

There appears to be no question as to the right of the German naval forces to land for the protection of German interests. It in no way involves the Monroe doctrine. Germany has been keeping a close watch on Venzuela for some months and at one time contemplated taking a Venezuelan port in order to compel the payment of certain German claims. It was in that connection that the German ambassador at Washington, Dr. Von Holleben, made inquiry of President Roosevelt and the state department as to whether such a move by Germany, for the sole purpose of collecting a claim and not for the purpose of territorial expansion, would meet with any disfavor by the American government. The response of the United States left Germany free to act, as the assurance that no territorial extension was intended removed the case from the operation of the Monroe doctrine. The present landing of a German force has no connection with Germany's former move against Venezuela, although the assurances heretofore given by Germany serve in the present case to show that there is no ulterior purpose behind the protection of German interests at Porto Cabello.

REBELS CUT THE CABLE.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Minister Bowen has cabled the state department from Caracas, Venezuela, that the revolutionists have cut the cable at Barcelona.

Minister Bowen says the cable was cut immediately after the receipt of a message stating that the revolutionists were entering the city.

The state department today received a cablegram from Consul Gottschalk, of Bluefields, saying that Dr. Russell Wilson is safe at Bocas Del Torro and also that his mother will leave for the United States very soon. The state department has never received any information from Nicaragua that Dr. Wilson had been under arrest there. The dispatch of Consul Gottschalk is interpreted as confirmatory of that of Dr. Wilson's brother in an Ohio dispatch printed this morning to the effect that his brother has not been under arrest.

THE HAYTIEN REBELLION.

Washington, Aug. 11.—Commander McCrea, of the gunboat Machias, today cabled the navy department that a de facto blockade had been established by the insurgents at Cape Haytien. The Machias is at her anchorage.

Minister Powell has cabled the state department from Cape Haytien that the provisional (Vasquesz) government of Hayti has notified the United States legation that Gonaives, Port De Paix, Petit Goave and St. Marc provinces are in rebellion. The government troops captured Petit Goave after strong resistance in which many lives were lost. Firmin's troops in retreating from the place set fire to and destroyed the town.

BLAZE IN BARBER SHOP.

Prompt discovery of a fire in the basement of the Ehrman barber shop, on West Main street, shortly after 9 o'clock a. m. Monday enabled the force of workmen there to extinguish the blaze without calling out the department. The trouble arose from a water heater, but the loss will be very small. The floor was burned somewhat and the smoke-filled wainscoating gave out the impression that the fire was much more extensive than examination proved it to be.

DR. GEORGE AND C. W. GEBHART ON BRIEF VISIT.

Promoters of Fort Wayne-Dayton Line Say Project Is Moving Along Nicely.

After a hurried visit to Fort Wayne in the interest of the proposed Fort Wayne, Dayton and Cincinnati electric line, President S. F. George and Secretary C. W. Gebhart, both of Dayton, Ohio, left last Monday for Chicago.

Dr. George and Mr. Gebhart arrived Sunday, bringing with them a large assortment of maps, drawings elevations and other memoranda covering the proposed line from Dayton to the point where it intersects the Fort Wayne and Southwestern interurban line and the Lake Erie and Western railroad near Fort Wayne. The visit to Fort Wayne at this time was for the purpose of having a conference with Mayor Berghoff over the completion of details for this end of the road. The officers were guests at the New Aveline hotel.

Before leaving for Chicago Monday Dr. George stated that everything was moving along favorably, and that he would leave in a few days for New York to complete arrangements for beginning the work of construction. Since Dr. George's last visit to Fort Wayne he has launched a project to connect Warsaw, Goshen, Elkhart, South Bend and Michigan City by electric line, and from the latter city to operate a line of steamers to Chicago. The plan now contemplates the construction of a road from Fort Wayne to Warsaw to connect up the two systems.

Dr. George says that Chief Engineer W. S. Smith, of Toledo, will be in Fort Wayne within a short time, and the surveys will then be completed. Among the gentlemen who met Dr. George in Fort Wayne this morning were several members of the Poe Commercial club including Peter Dodane, Preston Chapman, C. F. Heyde, F. M. Chapman and Harry Carl. Citizens of Poe are much interested in securing the line, and will hold a meeting on Tuesday to make arrangements for beginning the work of final survey. They will also lend assistance in getting the work of grading under way.

HE WAS MADE A MISSIONARY

REV. W. NAUMANN IS TO LEAVE FOR INDIA.

Impressive Ordination Service at St. Paul's Lutheran Church Sunday Evening.

A great congregation, that packed St. Paul's Lutheran church to the doors Sunday evening, witnessed the ordination of Rev. W. Naumann, of Cecil, Wis., as a missionary to India. It was an impressive service, and the occasion was a notable one.

All the German Lutheran ministers of the city occupied places upon the platform and the ordination was performed by Prof. F. Zucker, of this city, while Rev. Otto Hanzer, of St. Louis, preached the sermon. Rev. Naumann is a graduate of Concordia college, in this city, and has been in the ministry for the past four or five years. He is sent to India as a missionary by the Missouri synod of the German Evangelical Lutheran church and expects to leave in a few days to take up his arduous labors in oriental fields.

MR. RANDALL IS GRANDPA.

A telegram from New York on Saturday announced the birth of a baby son to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sawyer, of that city. Mrs. Sawyer will be remembered as formerly Miss Louise Randall, a daughter of P. A. Randall, of this city.

ACCIDENT AT THE CIRCUS.

During the performance of the Wallace circus at 3 o'clock last Monday Charles Sweeney, the equestrian director, was kicked in the face by an over-zealous horse. Sweeney was badly stunned and knocked to the ground, but was assisted from the ring and the performance proceeded. The injuries are painful, but not believed to be serious. One ear is cut and there are two gashes in his face. He was hurried to a physician to have the wounds dressed.

TWO FILE PETITIONS.

Theo. C. Cressly, a blacksmith at Spencerville, DeKalb county, has filed in the federal court in this city a petition in voluntary bankruptcy. Mr. Cressly's liabilities are $3,596.49 and his assets $3,188.31. D. D. Moody, of Auburn, is his attorney.

Eugene A. Carver, of Angola, a hardware merchant, has also filed a voluntary petition. Mr. Carver's liabilities are $8,748.24 and his assets $3,632.15. Best, Bratton & Yotter, of Angola, are his attorneys.

FLOOD OPENS MANY GRAVES

CLOUDBURST DEVASTATES A CEMETERY.

Many Graves Washed Open and Bodies Carried Away by the Rush of Waters.

Madison, N. J., Aug. 11.—The cloudburst last night caused devastation in Hillside cemetery. About seventy-five caskets were uncovered by the rushing waters and many of them were swept from the graves in which they had lain. The cemetery is situated partly on a hill, but a brook and ravine traverse the other portion of it. The water backed up and swept across the lower part of the cemetery. For a distance of about 400 feet the torrent carried everything before it and for a width of fifty feet the graves were washed out. Today coffins were found strewn about in all directions. Some of the bodies were found a mile from the cemetery and it is believed that others were washed into the Passaic river. Up to 10:30 o'clock forty bodies had been recovered.

The Lackawanna tracks were badly washed out between Madison and Chatham, and there were no trains west this morning.

BANK BUILDING SCORCHED.

New York, Aug. 11.—The New York bank building at the corner of Wall and William street, was damaged by fire to the extent of $50,000 early today. The first floor, basement and a portion of the top floor is occupied by the bank. The remainder of the building is used as offices. The fire started in a lawyer's office on the third floor. Several other offices on that floor were damaged and the top floor was almost burned out. The bank portion of the building down stairs and the safety deposit vaults were deluged with water.

WRECK ON PENNSYLVANIA.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 11.—The first section of the express train on the Pennsylvania railroad, which left shortly before mid-night, ran into the side of an eastbound freight train near Dock street tower, in this city, this morning. Seven freight cars were broken and burned, but the Pullman sleepers composing the train, were unbroken. No passengers were hurt. The fireman and engineer also escaped. Most of the wrecked cars were box cars loaded with grain and burned readily.

JAP BABE BORN HERE.

A tiny Japanese babe first saw the light of day in Fort Wayne Sunday, the birth of the lusty youngster occurring shortly after the arrival of the Wallace circus train. The parents are members of the Sachi troupe of performers and the little one's arrival was the occasion of much rejoicing among the other members of the troupe. The company was seen at Robison park a year ago.

MADE A QUICK TRIP.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meyer and little son made a trip to Toledo Saturday in Mr. Meyer's automobile, a four-horse-power Oldsmobile. The start was made at 6 a. m. and the trip was made in nine hours and twenty minutes, including stops. The distance by road is about 115 miles. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer expect to spend several days in Toledo.

A horse attached to one of William Doehrmann's delivery wagons ran away at noon today. The animal became frightened while the driver was delivering goods at a house on Division street and ran north on Comparet street, where it attempted to turn into the alley leading to the Doehrmann barn, but fell. Quickly scrambling to its feet, the animal started to running again, but fell a second time when it tried to turn west on Wayne street. This discouraged the horse, and he remained quiet until unhitched from the vehicle. The animal was pretty badly skinned about the legs, but otherwise there was no damage.

WEDNESDAY, AUG. 13, 1902.

Tracy has killed himself, and if May Yohe will subside for a time the country may enter upon enjoyment of a period of repose.

The wind engineer ought to consult his calendar and get understanding of the fact that we are in the midst of dog days. This sort of weather is harder on men and dogs than August heat.

All things considered, it may be well for the Haytian rebel, Admiral Killick, to cut that cable. It could easily be mended and the cutting would furnish opportunity for the United States to mend affairs in the Haytian republic.

An astronomer at Berkeley, Cal., announces that he recently discovered a couple of hundred double stars. We do not know anything about the habits of this astronomer, but we suppose he could have discovered a few double moons at the same time if he had tried.

A Chicago man has captured a mosquito an inch long. The insect had pink eyes, woolly hair and a proboscis like a baby elephant. A less formidable mosquito would have little chance with some of the pachadermatous denizens of that region. Nature breeds right up to her own purposes in all things.

Attorney General Knox, when speaking of the trouble he had with a trio of bibulous millionaires in an Atlantic City cafe, rather proudly called attention to the fact that he was in no wise disfigured. Here is hoping the same may be said at the conclusion of his set-to with the beef trust and the railway merger.

Col. W. J. Bryan has taken occasion to announce that he was misquoted as to a declaration that he would not again be a candidate for the presidency. He says that if the party again calls him he cannot well refuse. It is well enough, of course, to have Colonel Bryan's own word for this, but at the same time the party has not doubted that it could depend upon him if emergency arose.

A dispatch from Atlantic, N. J., gives details of a riotous affair in a cafe in that city, during which Attorney General Knox was assaulted by one of the members of the Cramp shipbuilding firm, who with two other men was imbibing wine at a hot rate. The cause of the encounter is reported to have been the anger of one of the party, a trust magnate, who felt it incumbent upon him to punish the attorney general for his opposition to the trusts. The attorney general's assailant must have been much more than half-seas over if he was in such muddled state of mind as to fancy there has so far been anything in Mr. Knox's attitude toward the trusts that constitutes a sufficient casus belli. Mr. Knox admits that there was trouble, but pronounces as absurd the story that it grew out of the trust question. On the whole, his denial is extremely reasonable, altogether of probable truth.

Many recent rumors variously connecting and divorcing Col. W. J. Bryan and the democratic nomination for the presidency in 1904 have moved the Nebraska leader to make an unequivocal statement that he is not and does not intend to be a candidate for the next nomination. Colonel Bryan declares himself well satisfied to perform his duties as a private citizen and as a journalist and says he shall continue to advocate in politics what he thinks is right and oppose what he thinks is wrong. He further says he does not wish to be understood as having taken resolve never to be a presidential candidate again, but desires merely to clear up the situation of 1904 as it relates to himself. At the same time it is easy to understand that Mr. Bryan will have a deal to do with the selection of the next democratic candidate, though there has never been distinct intimation as to who his choice may be.

The county fair proposition appears to be contagious. Now Wabash is trying to organize one.

The immigration and contract labor laws are sufficient to keep out of this country the class of foreigners responsible for most of the rioting and disorder in the mine region. If the facts could be got at it would doubtless be found that the primary cause of the trouble that calls out the troops in Pennsylvania is traceable to the mine operators, who contrive violations of the immigration and labor laws.

The wisdom of short political campaigns is being practically and advantageously demonstrated in Indiana this year. So far it has been as quiet as a year of no elections. There has been no political disturbance and none is likely for several weeks. Doubtless there will be some compensating strenuosity when the steam is turned on, but it will not last long, and business will not specially suffer.

Senator Hanna is now at great pains to explain that his announcement of purpose to retire from politics at the end of his present term was only a joke. The senator appears somewhat irritated that his joke is taken seriously. He is not the first man to become so profoundly jocose that his jest has no froth, and the cream of this one seems to be that the senator has almost been taken at his word.

Edward VII. is neither more nor less a king than before the crown was ceremoniously placed upon his brow. But the thing is a traditional necessity and the British are to be congratulated that the affair has come off so well. The king himself deserves praise for his fortitude and firmness in submitting to the ordeal while yet weak from sickness and is entitled to a vacation and some relief from the autocracy of his medical attendants. He has earned the right to eat something he likes.

Any proper encouragement the city of Fort Wayne can extend to the promoters of the proposed Fort Wayne and Goshen electric line should not be withheld. We do not know how definite the prospect is for the building of that line, but a survey is in progress, and if the present promoters do not construct the road, others in time will. It is really one of the best interurban projects ever considered in connection with Fort Wayne, and would be of vast benefit to the business of this community and a boon to the people of the region through which it is to pass. Of interurban projects there is seemingly no end, but this is one which ought by every means to be encouraged.

Up in Laporte county, the other day, it was found that a woman whose husband had threatened to kill her was missing. At once the neighborhood jumped to the conclusion the man had made good his bloody threat and there was immediate clamor for his life. But for the coolness and courage of the village marshal of Westville there would have been another Indiana lynching to record—a lynching of peculiar horrors, for the man had not slain his wife at all. She was finally found in Chicago and has been returned to her home. The fellows who were promoting the hanging bee owe Marshal Warnecke, of Westville, Laporte county, Ind., a vote of thanks, a loving cup, a healthy boom for a higher office and eternal gratitude. He saved them from the commission of an atrocious, cold-blooded and groundless murder.

The Sentinel has just placed an order with the Goss printing press company, of Chicago, for a new press. This press will be one of that company's most modern and latest improved fast-running stereotyped-form presses, with a capacity of 25,000 complete papers per hour. Three years ago this spring The Sentinel installed a Cox duplex press with a capacity of 5,500 papers per hour. Much larger and still rapidly increasing circulation, together with growth of advertising business and The Sentinel's steadfast purpose to make improvement the order, have made the purchase of a new press of greater speed and capacity for any number of pages a necessity. The new Goss press, one of the finest examples of modern newspaper press making, has therefore been purchased and it will be installed and the first edition of The Sentinel printed from it December 1st. That is some months away, but it is not untimely to issue a first invitation to all readers of The Sentinel and the public generally to call, when the new press is installed, and see the perfections of modern newspaper machinery.

According to all accounts the recently issued republican campaign text book is intensely apologetic—to the people for not being stronger "agin" the trusts and to the trusts for seeming to be "agin" them at all.

Some excitement has been caused in Washington by the unearthing of a skeleton in the course of an excavation made in connection with improvements at the white house. There is no reason to suppose the closet of the executive mansion may not have had its skeleton as well as any other old manse.

A wealthy American is detained by the authorities in London because he declared he was going forth with his automobile to run down and kill all the pedestrians who came in his way. He is thought to be insane, though if he had set out to mow down pedestrians without saying anything about it, it would have been accepted as a matter of course and his mental state would hardly have been brought under question.

The coal trust may grind down the miners who work in its coal holes, may throttle competition and practice robber extortion on the public, but the law by no way that can be contrived may be stretched to meet the condition. But the celerity of courts and the elasticity of the law are remarkable when it comes to placing the bonds of injunction on strikers. Certainly, strikers should be restrained and punished when their acts violate the peace and transcend their constitutional rights, but it is poor law and poorer administration of it that cannot or does not reach and deal with law-breaking when committed by corporations as well as by laborers.

The death of Senator McMillan, of Michigan, will have the effect, it is thought, of bringing Gen. Russell A. Alger forth from his retirement as a contestant for the vacant senatorship. General Alger had little prospect of public life while McMillan lived, for the late senator did not like the former war secretary and Alger was powerless against the splendid political machinery McMillan had welded together in Michigan. It is doubtful, however, if General Alger will cut much of a figure in the politics of the state. With McMillan out of the way there is likely to be a regime of younger men in republican politics in Michigan. This is the more probable from the fact that the election this fall may cause some shifting of results not to be considered likely if the head of the machine were alive.

Tracy is dead. The desperate bandit whose sensational and bloody exploits for two months have held the attention of a continent died at last by his own hand. Wounded and worn out and brought to bay by men determined on his capture, he cheated his pursuers of their hard sought quarry with a bullet from his own weapon. Probably many of the accounts of Tracy's exploits have been exaggerations, but enough is known to prove that he was one of the most desperate, resourceful and audacious criminals of which there is any record in this country. Tracy was an interesting but not romantic figure. Estimated at his best, he was a merciless murderer, of audacious courage and skill in the use of firearms. It is well he was run to ground. His death either by his own hand or another's was a matter of no moment. He was a desperate and heartless outlaw for whom there was no room on earth. It will be difficult even for the romancists of the yellow-cover school to invest his career with anything even cheaply heroic, though doubtless there are many of them who will essay the task.

NEW OFFICERS CHOSEN.

At the recent Springfield township Sunday school convention, held in the M. P. church at Maysville, officers were elected as follows: President, E. C. Carrington; vice president, Henry Horn; secretary, Mrs. M. A. Omo; treasurer, Homer Brundrage. The convention was largely attended and most profitable.

A Michigan girl whose flesh is turning to marble is attracting a deal of attention and is considered a remarkable freak, notwithstanding the marble heart has long been known and is not uncommon.

It will be some time before the trail of the late Mr. Tracy is entirely obliterated. Two California lads sought to emulate the example of the Oregon bandit and for a time gave a fair imitation of strenuous lawlessness. Finally a posse overtook the show and one of the boys is dead, having shot himself when capture seemed inevitable. His companion is in custody.

"Eighty per cent. of the population here are foreigners and 8,000 to 10,000 are anarchists," was the statement of Inspector General Miller, of the Pennsylvania militia, speaking of the strike situation at Shenandoah, where the troops are now stationed to preserve order. Continuing, General Miller said that the Lithuanians "fear neither man nor God" and have no regard for law or order. They are disturbing elements, the militia officer declared, ready at all times for trouble and utterly beyond control of President Mitchell or any other of the Mine Workers' officers. Doubtless this is true. But how came this class of foreigners into the mine region? They are of the sort the immigration laws are intended to bar out. Unless the laws are relaxed they cannot come into this country. The mine operators in their greed have scoured Europe for cheap labor and the elements that make trouble in Pennsylvania are brought over because they can be got to work for less than American labor or the better class of immigrants will accept. They are ignorant and supposedly easier to herd like brutes and more insensible to the hardships of their conditions than the others. Finally they learn the nature of the impositions of which they are the victims and become apt pupils in the strike. Then the trouble begins. Sheriff's officers and the militia are called to awe them by show of force or to shoot them down, and the people of the state pay the cost of it. Meanwhile the stream of corruption pours undiminished into the citizenship of the country. It is this class of labor with which the mine operators will attempt, under protection of the law officers and the militia, to reopen the mines the strikers have deserted. The immigration laws can stop the further supply of this scum of the old world. Why is it not done?

AT SUMMIT OF PIKE'S PEAK

ALLEN COUNTY YOUNG LADY IN COLORADO.

Miss Ida McIntosh, of Hoagland, Pluckily Walks to the Summit of Famous Mountain.

Colorado Springs, Col., Aug. 12.—Miss Ida J. McIntosh, of Hoagland, Ind., in company with Milton Hubler, Clyde Barkley, Frank Hubbel, James Barkley and Miss Grace Hubler, walked to the summit of Pike's Peak Monday to witness one of the most gorgeous sights of the far west—the sunset.

While they were on the summit of the mountain the thermometer registered 45 degrees above zero, while at the foot of the mountain it was the warmest day known there for years. It is very seldom that an entire party reaches the top, but not one of this party, which included eleven-year-old James Barkley, lost their pluck until the summit was gained and the foot reached again in safety. In making the descent they met seventy-five ascending to witness the sunrise, but it is learned that only fourteen were successful in reaching the summit. It is considered a rare feat to make this trip in twelve hours, but Clyde Barkley completed the journey in just eleven hours.

DEERING CORN SHOCKER.

A long felt want found. No labor on the farm has been harder and more tedious than corn harvesting, which is now made easy.

We have just received a shipment of Deering Corn Shockers and are ready to deliver to farmers.

We will not be able to fill all the demand this season for this great labor-saving machine. First come, first served. Come soon and secure a shocker.

Lesson in the International Series for August 17, 1902—Journeying Toward Canaan.

THE LESSON TEXT.

(Numbers 10:11-13, 29-36.)

11. And it came to pass on the twentieth day of the second month, in the second year, that the cloud was taken up from off the tabernacle of the testimony.

12. And the children of Israel took their journeys out of the wilderness of Sinai; and the cloud rested in the wilderness of Paran.

13. And they first took their journey according to the commandment of the Lord by the hand of Moses.

29. And Moses said unto Hobab, the son of Raguel the Midianite, Moses' father-in-law, We are journeying unto the place of which the Lord said, I will give it you: come thou with us, and we will do thee good: for the Lord hath spoken good concerning Israel.

30. And he said unto him, I will not go; but I will depart to mine own land, and to my kindred.

31. And he said, Leave us not, I pray thee; forasmuch as thou knowest how we are to encamp in the wilderness, and thou mayest be to us instead of eyes.

32. And it shall be, if thou go with us, yea, it shall be, that what goodness the Lord shall do unto us, the same will we do unto thee.

33. And they departed from the mount of the Lord three days' journey: and the ark of the covenant of the Lord went before them in the three days' journey, to search out a resting place for them.

34. And the cloud of the Lord was upon them by day, when they went out of the camp.

35. And it came to pass, when the ark set forward, that Moses said, Rise up, Lord, and let thine enemies be scattered; and let them that hate thee flee before thee.

36. And when it rested, he said, Return, O Lord, unto the many thousands of Israel.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

An Orderly Host.—In the moving of a multitude so great as that under the direction of Moses, absolute system is necessary. Each man must understand just where he belongs and what he should do, both in camping and on the march; otherwise there will be inextricable confusion. When the Israelites took up their journey from Sinai, they moved not like a mob, but with the orderly precision of an army. They did not march in ranks, but each man, each family, each tribe knew their place and the serivce expected of them. In that we have an illustration of the extraordinary executive ability of Moses as a leader.

The Order of Encamping.—It must be remembered that, so far as the distance was concerned, the Hebrews could have gone straight from Egypt to Canaan by the Philistia road in 40 days instead of 40 years if they had been ready. But they were not. They had neither organization, equipment, self-confidence nor tested confidence in Jehovah, and would have fallen an easy prey to the warlike Canaanite tribes. They needed years in the wilderness training-school to prepare them for the successful conquest of the land. The military arrangement described in this chapter was simple. The tabernacle was in the center, with the Levites close about it (3:23,, 29, 35), and three tribes were placed on each of the four sides.

Division of Service.—The purpose of the service of the Levites is indicated in 3:8. For the theory of this arrangement see 3:11-13 and 3:44-51.

The Trumpet Signals.—The final step in preparing for the march from Sinai was the arrangement of trumpet calls as signals. Notice that even the trumpets that were to sound the order to march were connected with the solemn rites of worship, so that their note proclaimed not only the march,, but the march at Jehovah's command and under His leadership.

The March Begun.—After a stay of almost a year at Sinai the trumpets sounded, the tabernacle was taken down, and the march began. Paran was a name covering most of the country between Sinai and Canaan. At last the Hebrews were moving toward the promised land. 10:29-32 gives us a most interesting account of the securing of a valuable guide. The figure of Hobab, Moses' Midianite father-in-law, is already familiar to us fom Ex. 18:1-27, where he is called Jethro. His experience in the wilderness as the head of a nomadic tribe had given him a familiarity with the country that Moses considered invaluable. It was a serious matter with him to cast his lot with the Hebrews; his action involved his family and perhaps his tribe, and at first he hesitated. The inducement offered, a share in the future of Israel, was not enough to move him; but the second appeal, on the ground that that great company was facing a journey through an unknown wilderness, and needed him, was not in vain. Of course both weighed together in the final decision. Two interesting points for discussion are, (1) God's guidance of us to-day: How are we to know it? He was leading the Hebrews, yet Moses felt that it was important to secure an Arab guide who knew the country. Was not part of God's guidance in making Hobab's help available? (2) How far does the need of others constitute a claim on our time and other resources?

PRACTICAL SUGGESTIONS.

God's children, under His guidance, are on their march to the promised land.

The Israelites followed the ark; we follow the cross.

"The Lord hath spoken good concerning Israel." Therefore all should cast in their lot with God's people.

It is strange how much colder it is in winter and how much hotter in summer on Sundays than on other days.

You cannot make much progress if you let yourself slide down six days and only try to climb up on one.

BOLD WORK OF BURGLARS

BIG DAYLIGHT ROBBERY IN VALPARAISO.

Dr. Stoneburner's Home Looted of $7,000 in Valuables—Domestic Nearly Drowned.

Valparaiso, Ind., Aug. 12.—A remarkably bold trio of burglars entered the house of Dr. A. A. Stoneburner at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, during the temporary absence of the family, overpowered and gagged the servant girl and escaped with $7,000 in money, jewelry and negotiable papers.

Dr. and Mrs. Stoneburner had gone for a drive, and of the servants, one of them, Miss Minnie Hart, was at home. The men came upstairs from the cellar evidently and pounced upon Miss Hart from behind before she could make an outcry.

She was gagged with a towel, blindfolded and bound, and then thrown into the bath tub, face downward, while the water was turned on full force.

The men then ransacked the house, took money, jewelry and papers and left. No neighbors saw them enter or leave, and although the officers are busily at work, not a vestige of a clew has as yet been discovered. The domestic, who was saved from drowning by the timely arrival of the family, can give no description of her assailants. She is painfully bruised and is in a serious condition as a result of the nervous shock.

TAKEN SUDDENLY ILL.

Joseph Hartman, of the firm of Hartman Bros., grocers on East Wayne street, was taken suddenly ill in his place of business at 8:30 o'clock last evening and for a time was in an extremely critical condition. Mr. Hartman suffered from an attack of acute indigestion and as a result of it there was an alarming depression of the heart's action. He sank helplessly to the floor, while customers in the place hurriedly summoned Dr. Carl Schilling to attend the sick man. Mr. Hartman was removed to his home and is reported considerably improved today, though still too ill to resume his attention to business.

Dalzell Reason, of Muncie, is doing an Enoch Arden stunt in tough luck. More than a year ago he left home after having struck his wife. He did not return and the woman secured a divorce and remarried. This week Reason turned up and sought his wife, only to find her the wife of another, and to add to his woes the woman filed an affidavit against him charging assault and battery.

BLAZE OF JEWELS

MARVELOUS DISPLAY AT THE CORONATION.

NOTHING LIKE IT EVER SEEN

AMERICAN LADIES SURPASS IN BRILLIANCY.

ALL HEAVILY BEJEWELED

THOSE WHO WERE PROMINENT AT THE CEREMONY.

London, Aug. 9.—What most struck the eye in Westminster abbey today during the coronation ceremony was the marvelous display of jewels that certainly surpassed anything previously seen at a court function in England. The combination of these with the magnificent robes and beauty of many of their wearers made a memorable sight. As beautiful as any coronet there was a pearl and diamond tiara worn by Lady Londonderry, whose dress was heavily embroidered and covered with pearls and diamonds. She also wore a diamond stomacher, with bracelets and earrings to match. The robe itself was embroidered in silver and gold, worked in the pattern of the family arms and coronet, and was fashioned after the style in the days of George III., with big red velvet sleeves. The duchess of Portland was superb in her great coronet of diamonds, in the center of which was the famous Portland stone, which flashed and sparkled in a thousand colors in the dim light. The duchess was the object of general attention. Her diamond necklace and magnificent ropes of pearl were unrivalled even by those worn by the duchess of Westminster, whose jewels are old family heirlooms and have been regarded as without equal.

WORE GREAT CORONET.

Lady Chesterfield's coronet was one of the largest worn in the abbey, no restriction seemingly having been made regarding its size. She had it especially made to suit her and it was in striking contrast to many others worn by peeresses, who seemed to have made it a point to wear the tiniest possible coronets, just large enough to encircle the knot of hair worn on top of their heads a la Josephine. It was, perhaps, after all, the Americans who made the bravest show and on this occasion, as on many others, they played a very prominent part in the day's ceremonies and contributed by their beauty and the magnificence of their robes and jewels to what was truly a gorgous spectacle.

AN AMERICAN DUCHESS.

Tall and graceful with her small face overweighted with masses of dark hair, the duchess of Marlborough (who was Consuelo Vanderbilt of New York) was a center of attraction. On her neck was a high collar of pearls with diamonds and rubies and on her head a beautiful diamond coronet. Around her waist was a belt made entirely of brilliants. The duchess came in a state coach with the duke and two pages. Lady Dufferin (who was Miss Davies of New York), who was accompanied by her husband, was another American who did honor by her magnificence to the great occasion. Her robe was of the Georgian period, trimmed with miniver and gold thread worked in the pattern of the family badge. She wore a diamond coronet, a diamond necklace and a loosely hanging diamond chain fell over the laces of her dress, the front of which was ablaze of jewels with a diamond revere looped up by three enormous bows of diamonds. Her earrings were of diamonds.

LITTLE LADY WALPOLE.

The countess of Oxford (who was Miss Louise Corbin of New York) was one of the few Americans who was accompanied by her child, little Lady Dorothy Walpole who was one of the most animated and interested spectators of the day. Lady Oxford wore fewer jewels than many present, but her necklace of rubies, pearls and diamonds and diamond brooches were beautiful. Her dress was trimmed with old family point lace of a very rare pattern. The Dowager Countess Cora of Strafford (who was Mrs. S. Colgate of New York) wore a high diamond cornet with ropes of diamonds and pearls, draped like an aiguillette over the left shoulder. The Dowager Duchess Consuelo of Manchester's only jewels were a diamond necklace and a diamond tiara. Lady Deerhurst (formerly Miss Benynge of San Francisco) as a peer's daughter-in-law, wore no robes, merely a dress of old lace with a diamond tiara and some marvelous black pearls around her neck.

CORONET OF DIAMONDS.

Lady Grey Egerton (who was Miss May Cuyler an American) wore a coronet of diamonds and a dress of white tulle on which were embroidered golden lilies. Her necklace was of rubies and diamonds. A fragile figure almost bowed down by the weight of velvet robes was the countess of Essex (Miss Adele Grant of New York). A slender gold cord was tied loosely around her waist and diamond chains caught up at intervals the laces of her vest.

The countess of Craven (daughter of Bradley Martin, of New York,) wore a white satin underskirt, covered with tulle and lace. The short sleeves of her bodice were finished with lace ruffles, edged with gold thread. Lady Molesworth, who is a daughter of General Forest, of St. Louis, wore a tiara of diamonds. She was one of the very few who wore turquoises, her turquoise collar being particularly beautiful.

A BEVY OF LADIES.

From the king's box a bevy of interesting ladies had a view of the coronation ceremonies, among them Mrs. Arthur Paget (daughter of the late Paran Stevens, of New York,) in a white dress embroidered with bunches of grapes worked in pearls and diamonds. On her head was a magnificen tiara of emeralds, set in brilliants, and around her neck was a high collar of emeralds and diamonds, with a pendant to match. Her dress was fastened with brooches of emeralds and diamonds. Mrs. Reynolds (who was Miss Carter, of Boston,) was a guest of the queen in the queen's gallery. Her gown was of satin, embroidered with large bunches of silver cherries. She wore the regulation white court feathers and veil, but no train. Her ornaments were rubies and diamonds. Mrs. Cavendish Bertinck (who was Miss Livingston, of New York,) was in the king's gallery. She was attired in a dress embroidered all over with mother of pearl.

AN AMERICAN WOMAN.

Among the diplomatic ladies none loked handsomer than Madame De Dominguez, the American wife of the Argentine minister, whose costume was of white crepe de cheine, embroidered with wisteria and pale pink roses, and was made in the princess style. On her head was a diadem of diamonds and pearls and her necklace was of pearls and diamonds. She, also, wore the regulation court feathers and veil. Mrs. Joseph H. Choate, wife of the American ambassador, wore a dress of brussels lace, with embrideries of green and flowers, while on her head she wore not only a diamond tiara, but two beautiful diamonds wings, holding her long tulle veil. Around her neck was a high collar of diamonds and a diamond necklace. Mrs. Adair (who was Miss Cornelia Wadsworth, of Geneseo, N. Y.,) sat in King Edward's gallery. Her dress was of grey satin and her splendid tiara was of pearls and diamonds. Lady Naylor-Leyland (Miss Chamberlain, of Cleveland, Ohio,) was another of the king's guests. She was dressed in a costume of white satin, embroidered with silver lilies and with an enormous diamond tiara, a diamond necklace and a diamond collar.

WERE KILLED FROM AMBUSH

HOW AMERICAN TEACHERS DIED IN CEBU.

One of the Victims is Believed to Have Been Buried Alive by Savage Natives.

Manila, Aug. 12.—An investigation made by the constabulary to clear up the facts in the killing of a Cebu coaching party of four school teachers, shows that the party was ambushed, twelve miles from Cebu. Two teachers were shot and killed at the first volley; a third, who ran, was shot in the back, and a fourth, who was captured, was shot in the chest while he was praying for mercy. It is suspected that the fourth man was buried alive, as his wound was slight and probably would not have caused death. Dogs dug up two of the bodies and devoured the flesh. It is believed that sufficient evidence has been secured to convict all the participants in the crime.

FIRE IN GROCERY CELLAR.

The grocery of Fred Volz, at 2113 Wayne Trace, suffered a slight damage from fire at 8:30 Saturday morning. Previous to this time an oil agent had placed a quantity of oil in the cellar, using a short piece of candle to light his way in the darkened basement. The candle was forgotten and left burning there. When it burned down the blaze was quickly communicated to combustibles near by, and only prompt discovery prevented more serious damage. William Albersmeyer is the owner of the building.

SENATOR M'MILLAN IS DEAD

MICHIGAN STATESMAN DIES SUDDENLY.

Stricken Massachusetts Coast Resort, He Lives But a Few Hours—Sketch of Career.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 11.—United States Senator James McMillan, of Detroit, Mich., died at his summer home, Eaglehead, at Manchester-by-the-Sea, at 4 o'clock yesterday morning after an illness of only four hours. The fatal malady was congestion of the lungs.

The announcement of his death was a shock to his friends and the country at large. Only Saturday he was at the Essex Country club and played golf, though he was not entered in the tournament as usual. It was while playing in the afternoon that the first premonition of the fatal trouble came.

In ascending a small but steep hill the senator was attacked by faintness and difficulty in breathing. A messenger was sent to the club house for a stimulant, after taking which he felt much better. The faintness soon passed away, but he did not finish the round of the links and went home late in the afternoon.

IN USUAL HEALTH AT DINNER.

By dinner time he had apparently recovered entirely from his indisposition and ate his dinner with the family, appearing in the very best of spirits, joking and laughing over the incidents of the day. The evening he passed as usual with his family, he being in the best of spirits and not retiring until late.

At midnight he was aroused from his sleep by a difficulty of breathing. A doctor was called and heart restoratives applied, which had the desired effect, and the patient again went to sleep. At 3 o'clock he had another and more severe attack and in spite of the most powerful stimulants grew steadily worse.

The senator gradually sank, but retained consciousness until about ten minutes before the end, which came at 4 o'clock.

There were at his bedside at his death his wife, his daughter, Miss Amy McMillan, and his granddaughter, Miss Jarvis.

SON MAY SUCCEED FATHER.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 11.—The death of Senator McMillan undoubtedly will result in the appointment by Governor Bliss of William C. McMillan to succeed his father in the United States senate, as it was the wish of the late senator that this should be done.

When Senator McMillan was reelected unanimously for a third term in the winter of 1901 it was understood that W. C. McMillan would be appointed in the event of the senior senators resignation, it being on the slate that a legislature was to be elected that would confirm the appointment.

The death of the senator complicates this program. Governor Bliss is closely allied to the McMillan interests, but at last eighty of the 132 members of the next legislature have been nominated. Congressman William Alden Smith, of Grand Rapids, and Gen. Henry A. Duffield, of Detroit, have lined up nearly all of them with a view to contesting with Senator J. C. Burrows for his seat, which will be vacated March 3, 1905.

However, it is the consensus of opinion that W. C. McMillan will be appointed and that he will be confirmed next winter by the legislature, succeeding his father as the lord of the powerful federal republican machine in Michigan.

Politicians believe that this will weaken the machine and that it will improve the chances for the election of Judge George H. Durand as governor, as well as for the election of the rest of the democratic state ticket.

SENATOR M'MILLAN'S CAREER.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 11.—James McMillan, at the time of his death senior United States senator from Michigan and one of the wealthiest members of the federal upper house, was born of Scottish parentage in Hamilton, Ont., May 12, 1838. He received a grammar school education in his native town and at 17 began his business career in Detroit.

Before he was of age he managed a railroad contractor's business and manifested the possession of the shrewdness and capacity for work which aided to make him in later life one of the prominent men of the nation. His first independent venture was with John S. Newberry in a small plant for building railroad cars. The business prospered and from that time on money poured into McMillan's hands. He kept all his profits in Michigan and largely in Detroit, and as soon as he made one big sum of money turned it into a new enterprise.

He bought iron mines, timber lands, navigation companies, railroads, real estate and bank stock until he had more interests than any other six men in Detroit. When he died he was president of the Michigan Car company, the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railroad, the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation company and of a number of industrial corporations besides. He was interested heavily in mining, Detroit gas and iron works and owned stock in every large bank in the city, in two of which he was a director. Besides these business interests he was president of Grace hospital—a memorial to his dead daughter, Mrs. Grace McMillan Jarvis—and a trustee of the Detroit Museum of Art.

Senator McMillan entered politics in 1876, when he became a member of the republican state central committee. On the death of Zachariah Chandler in 1879 he was made chairman of the committee and was reelected in 1886, 1890, 1892 and 1894. In 1884 he was a presidential elector. He was elected to the United States senate to succeed Thomas Witherell Palmer and took his seat March 4, 1889. He was reelected in 1895 and 1901.

In the senate Mr. McMillan was a member of the committees on appropriations, naval affairs, coast and insular survey, commerce and relations with Cuba. His most important service, however, was as chairman of the committee on District of Columbia, which, in conjunction with the president and the corresponding house committee, makes the government of the district. His third term as senator would have expired on March 3, 1907.

The improvement and beautifying of Washington was a hobby with Senator McMillan. His family was prominent in the society of the capital city and the senator himself was a member of the Metropolitan and Chevy Chase clubs.

Senator McMillan was a large contributor to charities of various kinds and made a number of notable gifts to educational institutions. He gave to the University of Michigan one of the most complete Shakespearean libraries in the United States and he also gave that institution McMillan hall. To the Michigan Agricultural college at Lansing he gave the Teper collection of insects, and to Albion college he gave the McMillan chemical laboratory. He also gave to the Mary Allen seminary, of Crockett, Texas., a school for the education of colored girls, $16,000 necessary to complete its endowment.

The McMillan family suffered sore affliction and loss by death in the last year. Senator McMillan's son, James H. McMillan, and his grandson, James H. McMillan, jr., died in Colorado within a few months of each other last winter. The senator's widow, his three sons—William C., Philip and Frank—and one daughter, all of Detroit, survive him.

BELIEF THAT BARTHOLIN WAS A BLOOD FIEND.

Officers Begin Elaborate Excavation in Chicago Death House—No Trace of Murderer.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Police officials have been in consultation again today trying to formulate new theories which may tend to solve the mystery surrounding the murders of Minnie Mitchell and Mrs. Annie Bartholin. Spurred on by offers of reward for the arrest of William J. Bartholin, the son of one of the murdered women and the fiancee of the other, the police in neighboring towns made several arrests today, but in each case the prisoner's identity with that of the suspected murderer could not be proved.

Working on the hypothesis that the murderer had a mania for killing, officers today began systematically to dig up every inch of the basement in the Bartholin house in Calumet avenue. The cement floor is being broken up and the ground turned over to the depth of one foot. Curious crowds throng the neighborhood of the now notorious death house and officers have been compelled to keep everybody off the premises save those who have written permission from the coroner.

A Daily News special from Kenosha, Wis., today announces the arrest there of an individual answering the description of William Bartholin, who is wanted in Chicago to explain the killing of his mother and of his fiancee, Minnie Mitchell.

WOMAN KNOCKED DOWN.

An elderly woman, whose name was not learned, was knocked down at Calhoun and Berry streets by a delivery wagon this morning. Her fall was a violent one, and the wheels of the vehicle apparently passed completely over the prostrate form of the woman. Bystanders hurried to her side and assisted her to arise, fully expecting that she was badly injured. Much to the surprise of all the woman insisted that she was not injured and calmly walked away without disclosing her identity.

MAY LAND CABLE

PRESIDENT ANNOUNCES GRANT TO PACIFIC COMPANY.

EXTENDS TO PHILIPPINES

TOUCHES HAWAII AND GUAM EN ROUTE.

GOVERNMENT HAS AN OPTION

CONDITIONS UPON WHICH THE GRANT IS MADE.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 9.—President Roosevelt today made formal announcement that he had granted the application of the Commercial Pacific Cable company to land a cable on the shores of the United States on the islands of Hawaii and Guam and in the Philippine islands and for access to certain soundings and profiles in the possession of the navy department.

The text of the memoradum on the subject, which was prepared by the department of justice and contains the conditions imposed by the United States government, was one of the subjects considered yesterday by the president and Attorney General Knox. As authorized by the president, the memorandum is as follows:

"The president having duly considered said application herewith consents that the company may lay, construct, land, maintain and operate telegraphic lines of cables on the Pacific coast of the United States and the various territorial waters of the United States to connect the city of San Francisco, Cal., the city of Honolulu, island of Ohua, Hawaiian islands and by way of the Midway islands and the island of Guam, the island of Luzon, Philippine islands, and a point on the coast of the empire of China not yet determined.

THE CONDITIONS.

"It is conditional to the granting of consent that the company was to file its written acceptance of the terms and conditions on which consent is given, to-wit:

1. That the company has not received any exclusive concession or privilege and is not combined or associated with any company or concern having such concession or privilege, such as would exclude any other company or concern formed in the United States of America from obtaining the privilege of landing its cable or cables on the coasts of China or connecting them with other cable lines or inland lines of China, and said company, its successor or assigns, will not receive or become associated with a concern having any such exclusive concession or privilege. The said company has not combined or associated itself with any other cable or telegraph company or concern for the purpose of regulating rates between points in American territory or between them and any point in China, Japan or other oriental places.

ONLY AMERICAN TERRITORY.

2. That the company's cable shall touch at no other than American territory on the way from the United States to the Chinese empire. The line from the Philippines to China shall be constructed by said company and operated independently of all foreign companies or concerns.

3. That the rates to be charged for commercial messages shall be reasonable and in no case in excess of the tariff set forth in congressional document No. 568, house of representatives, Fifty-seventh congress, first session, signed by George G. Ward, vice president of the Commercial Pacific Cable company, and attested by Albert Beck, secretary, with proportionate rates for intermediate points.

4. That the government of the United States or any department thereof, its officers, agents and insular or territorial governments upon the route of such cable, shall have priority for their cablegrams or cablegrams to them over all other business, at such rates as the postmaster general shall annually fix.

GOVERNMENT MAY PURCHASE.

5. That the United States shall at all times have the right to purchase the cable lines, property and effects of the said company at an appraised value, to be ascertained by disinterested persons, two to be selected by the postmaster general, two by the company or concern interested and the fifth by the four previously selected.

6. That the government of the United States shall have authority to assume full control of the said cable when at war or when war is threatened.

7. That all contracts entered into by the said company with foreign governments for the transmission of messages by the said cable shall be null and void when the United States is engaged in war.

8. That the United States shall have authority to sever at discretion all branches which may be connected with the main cable line aforesaid during war or threatened war.

9. That the operators and employes of said company (above the grade of laborer), after said cable shall have been laid, shall be exclusively American citizens.

BARS DISCRIMINATIONS.

10. That the citizens of the United States shall stand on an equal footing as regards the transmission of messages over said company's lines, with citizens or subjects of any other country with which said cable may connect.

11. That the company shall agree to maintain an effective speed of transmission over the main cable route from California to Luzon of not less than twenty-five words per minute.

12. That the cable laid shall be of the best manufacture.

13. That ample repair service for said cable shall be maintained.

14. That the line shall be kept open for daily business and all messages in the order of priority heretofore provided for, be transmitted according to the time of receipt.

15. That no liability shall be assumed by the government of the United States by virtue of any control or censorship which it may exercise over said line in the event of war or civil disturbance.

GRANTS NO INSURANCE.

16. By the grant of this permission the United States government does not insure or indemnify said commercial Pacific Cable company against any landing rights claimed to exist in favor of any company or companies in respect to any of the insular possessions of the United States.

17. That the consent hereby granted shall be subject to any future action by congress of by the president affirming, revoking or modifying, wholly or in part, the said conditions and terms on which this consent is given. The acceptance of the terms and condition upon which this consent is given shall be evidenced by a copy of a resolution by the board of directors of the cable company under the company's seal, to be filed with the postmaster general of the United States, upon the filing of which full access shall be granted to said company by the secretary of the navy to all soundings, profiles and other helpful data in the possession or under the control of the navy department.

JUDGE RELEASES STRIKERS.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Aug. 12.—Judge Jackson this morning released Thomas Haggerty and six other members of the United Mine Workers, who were serving sixty and ninety days in jail for contempt of court. The prisoners filed a petition for release, alleging that they had not known they were violating the injunction when they did so and promising not to do so again. Attorneys for the coal companies opposed their release, but it was granted, subject to rearrest to complete the original sentence if they violated the injunction again.

IN A FUNERAL PROCESSION

JOHN BALSAMO DROVE HIS DELIVERY WAGON.

Fined in Police Court for the Offense —General News of the Police Department.

Considering that it was Monday, Judge Dreibelbiss had a very easy time of it that morning, although he disposed of half a dozen or more cases. They were all ordinary ones except that against John Balsamo, who was charged with driving through and interrupting the Paul Baumann funeral procession Sunday. The time occupied in his case was principally taken up by waiting for belated witnesses. It was shown that Balsamo, who drives a wagon for Cosentino & Co., the Harrison street fruit merchants, had driven his vehicle into the funeral procession and had remained in it for a distance of about two squares, when he turned off onto Grand street toward the Wabash freight depot; he was driving a delivery wagon at the time. The defendant denied having interrupted the procession and denied about everything alleged against him except that he was under arrest. The evidence was all against him, however, and a fine of $5 and costs was assessed. A mittimus was issued.

A man giving his name as Britzen was found drunk and was locked up. Previous to getting drunk he was begging, but a single charge of intoxication was placed against him and he was sent over for 16 days.

David Lewis was arrested at the Wabash depot for vagrancy. There was a report sent in to police headquarters complaining of a gang of three or four hobos who were hanging around the yards. Detective Coling was sent down to investigate, but when he arrived the gang had dispersed, but he found Lewis hanging around and he brought him in. Lewis said that he was a sailor and had just left his boat at Detroit; that he had a little money and was working his way to St. Louis to look for work, and from there he would go to Chicago if unsuccessful. He was given an hour to get out of town.

Paul Schmall, who lives in the east end, was charged with intoxication and also with assault and battery on Henry Hartman. It was shown that Schmall was supposedly drunk yesterday and that he had attempted to strike Hartman with a club, and that the two men did come to blows. Schmall made a vigorous denial, but the evidence was against him and he was fined $1 and costs. Hartman, also accused of fighting, was discharged.

John Hahn, charged with drunkenness, did not appear, but $11 which he deposited to pay his fine was in evidence. The amount was forfeited.

William Green, a plain drunk, was sent over for eleven days.

POLICE NOTES.

A new industry has been discovered by Louis F. Curdes. He reported to the police that someone had gone into a new house which he is building in Swinney's addition and had stolen every door lock on the building. He thinks some enterprising individual who is building a new house is seeking to cut rates on hardware.

Stephen Chase, of this city, was at Sturgis, Mich., June 10, the date of the Wallace show exhibition there. While at the depot he was relieved of his pocketbook containing $15. He is positive that the theft was committed by a circus follower and says he can identify the man if he sees him again. He asked the circus detective whether he would arrest the man if pointed out and was assured that if the thief was with the show he would be arrested at once if identified.

The little daughter of C. R. Lane bought a silver spoon to present to her father as a birthday anniversary token. She lost the souvenir on her way home and asks the police department to assist her in discovering it.

A CHINAMAN SUICIDES.

Toledo, Aug. 12.—Wong Yen, a Chinaman, under arrest for entering the United States in violation of the immigration laws, committed suicide in the county jail here by hanging himself with strips torn from a sheet. He and two other Chinamen were arrested at Union depot a few weeks ago. It is believed they crossed the Detroit river from Canada in a row boat. Wong Yen was believed to be occupied in smuggling his fellow-countrymen across the border. Local Chinamen say he lived in Chicago some years ago.

HENRY W. HILGEMANN DEAD

WAS A PIONEER RESIDENT OF FORT WAYNE.

For Forty Years He Had Been Foreman of the Carpenter Shops at the Bass Works.

Henry W. Hilgemann, a resident of Fort Wayne for over half a century, and for more than two score years a foreman of the carpenter shops at the Bass Foundry and Machine works, died Friday evening at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Altevogt, 221 West Woodlawn avenue. Death occurred at 11 o'clock.

The deceased had been an intense sufferer from cancer during the past six months and it was that which resulted in the illness which caused his death.

Mr. Hilgemann was a native of Germany and was born seventy-two years ago. He spent his early manhood in that country, but a year after reaching his majority he came to America and located in Cincinnati. He remained there a year or two, and then came to Fort Wayne, residing here constantly since.

The deceased first took employment with the Wabash road, and after a few years of service became an employe of the Bass Foundry and Machine works, where he remained until a few years ago, a period covering about forty years. He commenced as a common laborer and by his own efforts and a faithful performance of his duties worked himself into the enviable position he held at the time of his retirement. About five years ago Mr. Hilgemann met with an accident which deprived him of the use of part of one of his hands and shortly after, both on account of the accident and his advanced years he relinquished active work and retired to enjoy a rest in comfort that he had long before earned. Until about six months ago he was in excellent health. A serious illness then incapacitated him from work of any kind and he was from that time on practically an invalid. He was a member of St. John's Lutheran church since his early arrival in the city and was one of its most devout and most respected members.

The surviving members of the family are a daughter, Mrs. William Altevogt, two brothers, William and Fred Hilgemann, of this city, and one sister, Mrs. Catherine Peters, of Adams township. There are also two grand children.

A FIREBUGS WORK

ATTEMPT MADE TO DESTROY CITY OF PEORIA.

BUSINESS CENTER IN PERIL

INCENDIARY FIRES STARTED IN MANY PLACES.

LARGE MILL IS DESTROYED

LIVERY BARN AND SCORE OF HORSES BURNED.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 11.—A bold attempt was made at noon today to fire the business portion of the city. The losses include: Horace Clarke's Sons' mill, $100,000; Neumiller's livery barn and twenty horses, $50,000; O'Leary undertaking establishment, $25,000.

The Neumiller livery barns on Adams street were fired by an incendiary and twenty horses were suffocated. The entire stock of carriages was destroyed. The O'Leary undertaking establishment and contents are a total loss. The Neumiller barns are in a thickly built up section of the city and at this time it is feared the flames will spread to adjoining buildings. Previous to this an attempt was made to fire the store rooms and offices of the Val Blatz Brewing Co., a few blocks away, and a residence was fired early today. The firebug has played havoc in Peoria for months and the reward of $500 does not affect his capture.

While the Neumiller fire was raging the torch was applied to the roller mills of Horace Clarke & Sons a few blocks away and the entire plant was wiped out. The police believe they have arrested the firebug.

HORACE CLARKE DIES.

Peoria, Ill., Aug. 11.—Horace Clarke, sr., for sixty years a resident of Peoria county and first president of the board of trade, died this morning of apoplexy.

Mr. Clarke was born in Sardinia, Erie county, N. Y., January 6, 1823, his father being one of the first judges of Erie. He started the first flour mill in central Illinois and was western agent for the Pillsbury interests. Three sons, George, Charles D. and Horace, survive him. C. D. Clarke, president of the International Steel Gutter association, left Glasgow for the United States Saturday.

THE MARKETS.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Grains took on a better tone at the opening today largely because the government crop report was less bearish than had been expected. Other conditions favored the bulls. Cables were steady on wheat; wheat stocks were falling rapidly and good buying by foreigners was reported. September wheat opened 1⅛@1¼c to ½@⅝c up at 67⅞c to 67¾c, sold to 68c and eased to 67¼c. The weather was very good, but the crowd did not sell much early. Local receipts were 490 cars, 9 of contract grade. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 132 cars, making a total for the three points of 622 cars against 719 last week and 667 a year ago.

In spite of big primary receipts and small clearances wheat advanced strongly all day. Covering on the government report was the feature. September mounted to 69⅛c and closed very strong, 1¾@1⅞c higher at 69c.

Corn opened firm, largely on the influence of the wheat strength. The government report was decidedly bearish, but small receipts started the crowd covering fairly. Cables were lower and had but little effect. September opened ⅜c up at 51c, sold to 51¼c, declined to 50c and later rallied to 51c. Receipts were 62 cars.

The wheat strength helped corn; shorts covered briskly. September closed strong, 1⅝c higher at 52¼c.

Oats were only a trifle firmer on the influence of the upturn in the other pits. The government as well as private reports showed the crops in excellent condition and receipts were bearishly large at 549 cars. September opened unchanged to ¼c up at 29c to 29¼c and sold to 29⅜c.

Provisions were erratic again at the opening. There was weakness all around at the start, particularly in lard and ribs on the lower hog market. Covering and support, however, brought a sharp rally. September pork opened 2½c off at $15.97½ and sold at $16.10; September lard 10c to 5c lower at $10.45 to $10.50 and sold to $10.55, and September ribs 7½c off at $9.50, dropped to $9.40 and reacted to $9.62½.

MAYSVILLE AND VICINITY.

A. M. Reichelderfer and family, of this city, are visiting relatives here.

Rev. A. Leffingwell, pastor of the M. P. church, will leave for conference Thursday. He anticipates a return for another year.

Jasper Blakeslee has gone to the city to work. His wife and household goods will follow in about two weeks.

Sunday evening Oliver Greenawalt lost one of his most valuable cows. He found her dead in the field.

Saturday last Jennie Eckles and little sister, Josie, were the victims of an accident in a runaway. They were driving into the country when the horse became unmanageable and threw Miss Jennie out. She called to her sister to jump, who, in doing so, broke her right leg just above the ankle joint. Dr. Hollingsworth reduced the fracture, but the child suffers much from the effect of a strain in the ankle joint. She has rested but little since the accident occurred. Jennie was much shaken up, but no bones were broken.

Eugene Cook and wife and Mrs. McComb and child, of Cedarville, called on friends here Saturday.

E. C. Carrington and wife and daughter, France, accompanied by Miss Lyle Swift, attended the Robison chapel picnic Thursday last.

Dr. C. F. Swift, who is sick of an attack of acute Brights' disease, is slowly improving.

James Webb was a caller at the village Monday afternoon.

GRABILL NEWS.

Christ Egby, from Berne, Ind., was here on business last Wednesday.

Prof. Raleigh, the operator, is the owner of a fine horse. Now, girls, watch your chance.

Quite a wreck at our town last Thursday, when one of the gravel trains pulled in one of the side tracks and as the road was new and the train going at a fast rae, three of the cars broke down and smashed all the ties and rails. There was quite an excitement.

Mr. Albert Egby will be our postmaster.

The carpenters will begin this week building Mr. Wait's livery barn.

Shireys, of Cedarville, is building the wall for Mr. Smith's house.

Mr. Yaggy's and Mr. Goldsmith's dwelling houses are nearly completed.

IN NORTHERN INDIANA.

John Ludwig, aged 45, was found dead on the Lake Shore tracks near Goshen Sunday. The body was cut in twain at the waist line. It is presumed he fell from the bumpers of a local freight train.

Judge Ferrall has granted a restraining order to prevent the Goshen board of education from contracting for the erection of a $50,000 high school building, John F. Scott alleging that the city is beyond the legal limit of indebtedness.

Mrs. Daniel Wikel, 78 years old, residing near Portland, was fatally stricken with apoplexy, falling on the floor of a room in which her husband, aged 80, lay helpless from injuries he received last May in a railroad wreck. He was unable to aid his wife, and she lay several hours before relatives entered the home.

William Taylor, a Huntington pioneer, died Sunday evening at the age of nearly 90 years. He located in Huntington in 1841, and in early life was a shoemaker, later taking up farming.

Mrs. Henry Erlenbaugh, of Huntington, was hanging up clothing in her yard while her husband was out with a shotgun after rats. After the doctor had picked a dozen or more No. 7 shot out of the lady's face, neck and shoulders, he said none of the wounds were serious. The rat escaped. Mr. Erlenbaugh was unaware that his wife was in range when he fired.

Could Hardly Believe It. A Prominent Woman Saved From Death by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

MRS. SADIE E. KOCH.

"I suffered for months with troubles peculiar to women which gradually broke down my health and my very life. I was nearly insane with pain at times, and no human skill I consulted in Milwaukee could bring me relief.

MERELY WENT FOR A DRIVE

BUT MR. KELLY AND MISS SIMON WERE WEDDED.

Recent Marriage of Fort Wayne Girl in New Mexico Was a Surprise to Friends.

Some days ago announcement was made of the marriage of Miss Capitola Simon, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Simon, of this city, to a young man at Silver City, N. M., and it now develops that the wedding was very much of a surprise to friends of the young couple. Concerning it the Silver City Independent says:

"A wedding, of which the contracting parties had kept all news of their intentions from their friends, was performed at Pinos Altos Sunday, when Mr. Harry Herbert Kelly and Miss Capitola Simon, both popular young people of Silver City, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony.

"The news came as a complete surprise and was at first received with incredulity. The young people had been very much devoted to each other for quite a while past, but that they contemplated matrimony was not known even to their most intimate friends. Sunday morning they started for a drive, and did not return to Silver City until a few minutes prior to the departure of the evening train. In the meantime an unsubstantiated report had come down from Pinos Altos of the ceremony, which had been performed during the day, and a number of friends, whose suspicions had been aroused, gathered at the train to confirm what Dame Rumor had said. When Mr. Kelly and Miss Simon, or Mrs. Kelly, as she was then, reached the scene, they had nothing to say in reply to the teasing questions asked, but on the other hand gave no notice of their plan to depart on the train. No tickets were purchased, no baggage was checked and nothing was done to indicate departure until the train pulled out, when both got on board, and waved their hands to those who had congregated. This, of course, was conclusive, and their friends did what they could to get even for not being taken into their confidence, by wiring to parties in Deming to see that the happy couple was properly received upon arrival there, and from reports, the Deming contingent did their part in right royal style. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly went on to El Paso for a short honeymoon and are expected back in Silver City next Friday, when they will have to make proper amends for their successfully executed matrimonial plot.

"The bride is a young lady who came to Silver City from her home in Fort Wayne, Ind., about six months ago, and has been making her home with her aunt, Mrs. O. C. Hinman. She is of a very attractive appearance and has had good educational advantages. She is possessed of a sweet disposition and all the necessary qualifications to make her a social favorite. Mr. Kelly is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Kelly, and has grown to manhood in Silver City. He possesses exceptional business ability and holds a responsible position in the Silver City National bank. Mr. Kelly is a great favorite here and is a young man with a bright future. While comparatively young in years, he has already demonstrated his trustworthiness and commands the respect of the entire community."

NEW COMMITTEEMEN NAMED.

James L. Barnes, of Maumee township, and Charles Dallman, of Pleasant township, have been appointed to membership on the democratic central committee. Mr. Barnes succeeds Committeeman George Stenger, who resigned on account of his removal to Michigan, and Mr. Dallman replaces William Putt, who has removed from the township.

William Franke, nominated in March for a second term as county councilman, was present at the meeting of the central committee Saturday, and asked to be excused from the ticket, as personal business matters demanding his attention made it impossible for him to give the place proper attention. Mr. Franke's resignation was accepted with much regret, and Chairman Scherer was delegated to confer with leading democrats regarding a successor to Mr. Franke on the ticket.

IN JUSTICES' COURTS.

Charles Salzbrenner, who owns the property at 1227 Summitt street, has filed an affidavit in Bullermann's court charging John McNamara with malicious trespass. Salzbrenner is a young man, recently married, and McNamara was his tenant. After his marriage the owner notified his tenant that he wanted possession of the property for his own use, but McNamara refused to get out. Tuesday, however, he made preparations to move and in moving despoiled the property, according to the affidavit, to a considerable extent. He gathered up a lot of bricks and hurled them through the windows, smeared the sides of the house with mud and damaged the property in other ways. Salzbrenner filed an affidavit and Constable Lindsey was entrusted with its service. He went to the premises and was told McNamara was in an adjacent saloon. He went there and found McNamara in a barber's chair, next door to the saloon, and according to the statement as made by the constable to Justice Bullermann, he was very drunk. When he attempted to serve the warrant, the constable says, two policemen interposed and said that he was already under arrest for the same offense and that the affidavit was in the municipal court. The constable thereupon desisted and did not take the man into custody. Subsequently investigation showed to the constable that there was no action filed elsewhere and The Sentinel's investigation shows that there is no affidavit against the man in has issued a warrant for McNamara's arrest and placed it in the hands of the sheriff.

Last Thursday Deputies Huguenard, Reichelderfer and Detective Wilkinson, of the Nickel Plate, made a raid on a bobo camp in the rear of Brookside farm and as a result five tourists were added to the list of county boarders. They were a gang of tramps, pure and simple—not so simple, perhaps, but purely tramps—and had contributed to the discomfort of the neighborhood for a number of days. They were taken before Justice France, who sent them over for twenty-one days each.

Thursday J. L. Pevert, living in the Eighth ward, committed an assault on William, the son of Charles Scherer, custodian of the court house, and according to the judgment of the court the assault was unprovoked. Mr. Scherer filed an affidavit in Huser's court and that afternoon Mr. Pevert dropped in, pleaded guilty and paid his fine of $12.

In France's court last Monday the hearing of paternity charges against Frank Craig, in which Melissa Hiser is the relatrix, is in progress. All the parties, including the little mite of humanity, the cause of all the trouble, are present.

Justice Huser is busily engaged today in hearing a case in which Bert Harring is charged with having pointed a pistol toward Henry Wehr. There is a special act covering such cases and it provides that it does not make any difference whether the pistol was loaded or not, nor even whether it was in working order. The parties to the suit live in the city and have been in a quarrel for some weeks.

The Boehm trouble at Leo received a new impetus last Monday when new affidavits were filed in Taucey's court. They are filed by Hugh Kain and charge Louisa Boehm (wife of the Leo saloonkeeper) with having twice sold liquor to Merton Arnold, a minor, there being two affidavits. A continuance will be asked for. Both affidavits charge the offense to having been committed on Sunday, June 22.

Some months ago Seraphine Helfer commenced paternity proceedings against Melancthon Haffner in Huser's court. Mr. Haffner disappeared, but returned to the city last Saturday and was promptly arrested. He had been at Bucyrus and thought that the matter had been dropped. Mayor Berghoff and Superintendent Gorsline interested themselves in the matter and the result was a marriage license and a wedding, the ceremony being performed by Justice Huser.

CONTRACT FOR HOTEL ADDITION

Bids were opened yesterday in the office of Architect Henry Meyer for the construction of an addition to the Weber hotel on South Calhoun street, and Contractor Griffith was awarded the contract for the work. The addition will be of brick and will be three stories high, having laundry, kitchen, bath rooms and bedrooms. The interior of the old building will be altered and other improvements made. The addition will cost in the neighborhood of $8,000.

LOCAL LINES.

Mr. and Mrs. John O'Connor, of Denver, are visiting Mrs. Cornelia Hedekin.

Boys and matches were responsible for a fire at the residence of William Klumpe, 1314 Scott avenue, yesterday afternoon. The loss was about $15.

The engagement of Miss Margaret Coulter, daughter of Dr. John Coulter, of Chicago, to Ralph Yarnelle, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Yarnelle, of this city, is announced. The groom-to-be is one of the younger business men of the city and is connected with the firm of Mossman, Yarnelle & Co. He enjoys a wide popularity and is a young man of sound principle and high integrity. Miss Coulter is known to but few Fort Wayne people. She is a bright and attractive young lady and is a general favorite at Winona, where she spends the summer months.

Robert Blackburn, well known Huntington baker, is dead in Colorado, where he went for his health.

HEMP FOR A PAIR

MISSOURI MOB LYNCHES TWO MEN FOR MURDER.

ONE WHITE AND ONE COLORED

HAD TAKEN THE LIFE OF A WEALTHY FARMER.

WERE ROBBING HEN ROOST

MASKED MOB BROKE INTO THE JAIL AND TOOK VICTIMS.

Lexington, Mo., Aug. 12.—Charles Salyers (white) and Harry Gates (colored) were taken from the county jail here by a masked mob at 1:30 this morning and lynched. They were charged with killing George W. Johnson, a wealthy farmer, who surprised them at his hen house near town a week ago. Before they were strung up Salyers made a statement to the mob, saying that Gates had fired the shot that killed Johnson.

Salyers and Gates were arrested on the day following the shooting after an exciting chase. Johnson was one of the wealthiest and most respected men in the community and the feeling against the two men was intense. A mob gathered while they were being brought to town, but was quieted through the efforts of the officers, and it was believed that the men would be allowed to stand trial.

Last night shortly after midnight armed men came to town by twos and threes, most of them masked. They massed finally near the court yard, in which the county jail is situated. The mob was orderly and well directed. A demand on the jailer for the prisoners meeting with refusal, several members of the mob, who had come well prepared, broke in the outer door and made quickly for the cells of the murderers. It took thirty minutes to cut through the steel doors. Salyers was taken out first, then Gates. Without further ado and without encountering any serious objection, the mob started with their victims for a point half a mile south of town. There Salyers was granted permission to make his statement, after which the men were strung up to a tree. The mob then dispersed.

THE COURT NEWS.

Prof. J. G. Leonard's Electro-Therapeutic Institute, of Chicago, brings suit against Edward Kinnerck, of this county, on a note for $100. What might happen if the case should ever be called for trial can not be anticipated because it will scarcely get any further into court than the entry docket.

Sarah E. Small in her divorce complaint against Frank Small alleges that they were married in March of this year and separated in July. Cruelty is charged and alimony is asked for. Cora Hedges, a daughter by a previous marriage, is made a defendant in the suit because the plaintiff alleges that the property in dispute was turned over to her before she had an opportunity to acquire any rights of any kind in it.

Pearl H. Lawless sues Miles E. Lawless for divorce, alleging abandonment, failure to provide and cruelty.

The will of the late Jacob Baral was filed for probate Saturady. It is written in German and breaks the tradition that legal business in civil courts must be transacted in the English language.

Mrs. Jess T. Peck and son, Harold, of 2617 Indiana avenue, have returned from a visit in Sheldon, accompanied by Mrs. Peck's cousin, Haney McDowell, who will visit here for a few days.

Ollie Taylor sues Robert G. Taylor for divorce, alleging abandonment and the complaint states that the defendant is now a non-resident of the state.

The Olds Wagon works, a corporation, sues Maurice Goldberg to recover $400 alleged to be due from the sale of a lot of junk and scrapiron to the defendant.

IRISH DAY TRAIN SERVICE.

The Wabash local officials have received instructions concerning the train service between this city and New Haven on the occasion of the Irish day celebration at the latter place. Following will be the train schedule: Special trains leaving Fort Wayne at 10 a. m., 1:30 p. m., 3 p. m. and 7:30 p. m.; leaving New Haven at 11 a. m., 2:30 p. m., 8 p. m. and 11 p. m. Last year there were several hundred people handled by the Wabash company on a similar occasion and so well entertained were they that most of them and hundreds of their friends who were not at that picnic will go this time.

KING GIVES OSBORNE HOUSE

PALACE ON ISLE OF WIGHT IS PRESENTED TO NATION.

Home Where Victoria Died to be a Memorial and Refuge for Army and Navy Officers.

London, Aug. 11.—Osborne house, the beautiful property in the Isle of Wight, surrounded with hallowed associations of Queen Victoria, has been presented by King Edward to the nation. It is his wish that it shall ever be associated with her name and the apartments occupied by her are to be kept sacred to her memory, but the property as a whole is to be converted into a home for invalid officers of the army and navy.

Osborne house was the favorite residence of the late queen and the property there purchased from her private fortune was willed to King Edward.

Osborne was purchased as a result of the queen and the prince consort's desire to get away from the staring, curious world, to lead at least a few days a year a life of peace and contentment. The royal couple had decided on Brighton as a place for a marine residence, but the crowds annoyed them so much when they visited it in 1840 that they turned their eyes in other directions and Osborne presented itself. It was immediately purchased for $1,000,000. The prince consort applied himself most diligently to the task of improving the grounds and erecting a suitable residence. Many suggestions from the queen were embodied in the construction of the new palace and for this reason, perhaps, she was most always contented there. The villa was completed in 1846 and when the royal couple moved in it was made the occasion for a great house-warming. The entire building, however, was not furnished until 1851.

SENDS MESSAGE TO BALFOUR.

King Edward wished to signalize his coronation by this munificent gift to his people and addressed a message to Prime Minister Balfour, signifying his purpose in the following language:

"Under the will of the king's much beloved mother the Osborne house estate is, as Mr. Balfour is aware, the private estate of the sovereign. Having to spend a considerable part of the year in the capital of this kingdom and in its neighborhood at Windsor, and having also strong home ties in the county of Norfolk which have existed now for nearly forty years, the king feels he will be unable to make adequate use of Osborne house as a royal residence and he accordingly has determined to offer the property in the Isle of Wight as a gift to the nation.

"As Osborne house is sacred to the memory of the late queen, it is the king's wish that, with the exception of those apartments which were in the personal occupation of her majesty, his people shall always have access to the house which must ever be associated with her beloved name. As regards the rest of the building, the king hopes it may be devoted to national purposes and be converted into a convalescent home for officers of the navy and army whose health has been impaired in rendering service to their country.

"If in order to give full legal effect to the king's wishes it is found that application to parliament be necessary, the king trusts that Mr. Balfour will see that the necessary steps are in due course taken."

PARK SURROUNDS PALACE.

The royal residence is situated on the Isle of Wight about a mile from West Cowes and occupies a beautiful sight on the coast. The park surrounding it comprises some 5,000 acres and was laid out from plans arranged by the prince consort. The park excites admiration from all who view it, and its beauty adds force to the assertion of a certain eminent statesman that the world lost a master landscape gardener in Prince Albert.

DISCOVERY FOILED A PLOT

WOULD HAVE BLOWN UP ADAMS COUNTY INFIRMARY.

Thirty-five Pounds of Dynamite and Bomb Found in Charles Echerman's Room—He Had Fled.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Decatur, Ind., Aug. 12.—Thirty-five pounds of dynamite, together with a bomb shell a foot long and seven inches in diameter, were found in the room of Charles Echerman, an inmate of the Adams county infirmary, on Monday, and the discovery undoubtedly foiled a plot to blow up the institution. Echerman has fled, and has not yet been apprehended.

The startling disclosure was made when Secretary A. W. Butler, of the state board of charities, was making his regular inspection of the institution. Butler ordered a pile of trash which Echerman had piled in his room removed, and beneath the rubbish it was found that Echerman had secreted the dynamite tightly packed in an old iron kettle and in a tin can. Echerman was not present when the discovery was made, but he soon learned of it, and promptly skipped.

Echerman has been at the county farm for ten years, and was not one of the feeble minded inmates, but he "had it in" for Superintendent Graber. Last fall he was burning some brush and through carelessness allowed 800 fence rails and 500 fence posts to burn up. Superintendent Graber reprimanded him for the carelessness, and since that time he has manifested an ugly disposition toward the official.

For several days recently Echerman has refused to go to the table and eat with the other inmates, but would go to the dining room, get what food he wanted and take it to his room to be eaten. At the breakfast table Monday morning the superintendent told Echerman to eat with the others, but he replied in a surly tone that he "didn't have to," and made the observation that "this will not go on over a week longer." Echerman undoubtedly contemplated taking the superintendent's life for revenge, and the execution of his frightful plan would undoubtedly have resulted in the death of many others.

I DO SOLEMNLY AVER

That the sales of the D. N. Foster Furniture and Carpet Company for the first half year of 1902, exceed those of any year in the history of our firm by twenty-nine per cent. So great an increase as that over the very prosperous year of 1900 and 1901, is a very flattering indication that increased competition only serves to more clearly establish the superior advantages in buying your Furniture and Carpets of the "BIG STORE" over any of its smaller competitors.

IS A SHAM FIGHT

LIGHT ON THE REPUBLICAN ANTI-TRUST WAR.

NEW CAMPAIGN TEXT-BOOK

THE VOLUME PROVES A DISTINCT DISAPPOINTMENT.

BABCOCK DEFENDS COMBINES

ALLEGED TRUST-SMASHER IN STRANGE ROLE.

Washington, Aug. 6.—In view of President Roosevelt's aggressive opposition to trusts, the republican text book for the campaign of 1902 is a most disappointing publication. Copies of the text book have been received in Washington for review. There is nothing in it to indicate that the recent Iowa convention expressed any republican trust sentiments. As Mr. Babcock, who talked more about throttling the big trusts than any other republican, is chairman of the republican congressional committee, the campaign text book issued by the committee will be read with surprise. Much space is devoted to the remarkable prosperity of the country, all of which is attributed to the benign influences of the protective tariff. A general introduction tells what the republican party promised and what it has done. The announcement is made that nearly all of its presidents have come from the west, not excepting "the present chief executive, who, as the child of New York, was early adopted by the west as a cowboy and hunter to make him as typically western as any of his predecessors."

With this foundation laid, the republican hand book begins to talk about protection and what it has accomplished for the country. "Restoration of good times under republican policies and legislation" is the sub-head for the first chapter devoted to "Protection and Prosperity." In the order named these features are discussed: "Business activity under protection," "Value of products increased," "Advance in wages, due to the stimulation of production and manufacturing," "Increase in farm values," "Activity in manufacturing," "Foreign trade." All of this, according to Mr. Babcock's text book for republican spellbinders, is the direct result of a protective policy. Some ten pages are then devoted to "The American invasion of Europe," all of which protection is declared to be responsible for. Some classic writer contributes an article on "The Man With the Hoe."

"The man with the hoe is the man with the dough," says this facile writer, and staggering figures are presented to show that the hay crop and the potato crop and the wheat crop and all the other products of the farm have brought fabulous sums of money because of protection.

"A DEFENSE OF TRUSTS."

Under the head, "Labor Conditions Under Republican and Democratic Rule," the first mention of trusts is made. "Trusts and Labor" is the theme discussed and in his presentation the report of Prof. Jenks, of Cornell university, the trust expert of the United States industrial commission, is submitted. This report is a wonderful defense of trusts from the labor standpoint. Here is a quotation from the text book which Mr. Babcock, the alleged trust-buster, has prepared for republican committees and orators: "The United States department of labor published in its bulletin for July, 1900, the results of a careful investigation of forty-one trusts and industrial combinations, the investigations covering among other subjects the dates of formation, capitalization, amount and character of stocks and bonds issued, profits, wages, number of employes, and prices before and after the combination, etc. As far as statistics are available the report shows in general a greater number of persons employed and higher wages paid in the same establishments after the combination than before. The report shows that in fourteen establishments giving returns, nine show an increase in the average wages of superintendents and foremen, four show a decrease and in one there was no change. In seven cases out of fourteen the wages of traveling salesmen increased, in two they decreased and in one they remained the same. In two cases no traveling salesmen had been employed by the companies entering into the combination, whereas after the combination was made such men were put to work. In one case in which traveling salesmen had been employed by the separate companies their services were dispensed with after the combination. The average annual wages of skilled laborers have increased in ten cases and decreased in two. The average wages of unskilled labor have increased in ten cases, decreased in one and remained the same in one after the combination. Taking the employes as a whole, the results show that out of twelve cases reporting there had been an increase of wages in nine cases and a decrease in three."

To emphasize the blessings of the trusts this sentence is run in italics:

In all lines, taking together all the establishments which have reported, there has been a decided increase in the number of employes, and in all cases with the exception of traveling salesmen there has also been an increase in the amount of wages paid.

If trusts were working such a benefit to the laboring men of the country as indicated in this report, it would appear surprising that the republican party would interfere with them.

Further over in the text book is found a chapter devoted to trusts and an explanation of the attitude of the two great parties. The attitude of the democratic party is declared to be that of constant agitation, with no restrictive legislation; that of the republican party to such restriction as will prevent arbitrary advance in prices or reduction in wages through exclusive control, but not the destruction by legislation or injury by fictitious agitation of legitimate enterprises through great manufacturing systems by which production is cheapened, prices of manufactures reduced and permanency of employment assured.

The text book points out that the democrats began their investigation of the trust question in the Fiftieth congress, when a committee examined 100 witnesses and took 1,000 pages of testimony, but made no recommendations because no agreements could be reached. It says the republican party has recognized the limitations of the federal legislature in dealing with institutions which are of exclusive state origin, and not due to any legislation by congress or executive act in the administration of federal laws. The only power the federal government has to reach these trusts or corporations is where they cross the state lines and touch inter-state or foreign commerce. The republican party has tried to enact laws that would prevent the trusts from interfering with inter-state commerce.

The laws enacted in republican states and by congress, together with the steps taken by President McKinley and President Roosevelt, to restrict unlawful combinations, are set forth. That part of President Roosevelt's message dealing with the subject of trusts is reproduced and a chapter is devoted to an effort to prove that "free trade England is the home of trusts." Statistics showing the prosperity of the country are presented in an effective way, and the remainder of the book is devoted to a discussion of the Philippine question and the war record. There is a forcible defense of the army and much of the important testimony before the Philippine committee is republished.

FOUND BRIDE AT THE ALTAR

ABOUT TO BE WEDDED TO ANOTHER MAN.

Harry Mossman Arrived in Time to Stop the Ceremony and Wir Charming Widow.

The marriage some weeks ago of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mossman, now living at Hillsdale, Mich., had a stormy and romantic prologue in this city that has just been made public. His bride was Mrs. Grace Merriman, a young and handsome widow, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. K. Geary, of Goesse.

It appears that the young lady's parents desired her to marry a Bluffton man, despite her fondness for Mossman, and she reluctantly consented. The marriage was to occur at a residence on Thompson avenue in this city, Rev. Motschman was present to officiate, and the guests were assembled.

Just at this juncture Mr. Mossman appeared upon the scene, and this event quickly decided the bride-to-be. She simply announced that she would not wed the Bluffton man, and the ceremony for which guests were waiting did not occur. Mr. Mossman and Mrs. Merriman went to Michigan and were married, and it is said the bride's parents have duly forgiven her.

This is the company which owns about 1,250 acres of valuable copper lands in Canada, and but recently bonded a small portion of the property to a Chicago concern for about $1,000,000. Development is going along on other portions of the holding, and stockholders are confident their investment will prove unusually profitable.

TRACY ENDS HIS LIFE

Oregon Bandit, Brought to Bay in a Field, Cheats His Pursuers by Shooting Himself.

LEAVES LONG AND BLOODY RECORD

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 6.—Harry Tracy, the notorious outlaw who, with David Merrill, escaped from the Oregon penitentiary at Salem on June 9, after killing three prison guards, killed himself early this morning after being wounded by the rifle of one of a posse in pursuit. Tracy was surrounded in a wheat field near Fellowes, a station on the Washington Central railroad about fifty miles west of Spokane, last night. Word was sent back to Davenport, the county seat, and a large number of armed men hurried to the scene.

The posse, under Sheriff Gardner, opened fire on the outlaw, and one bullet pierced his right leg between the knee and thigh. About twenty minutes after being wounded he shot himself with one of his revolvers and his body was found this morning after daybreak. The revolver with which he killed himself was grasped tightly in his right hand."

A RUNNING BATTLE.

Tracy was hunted down by a posse of Creston citizens. Surrounded, he engaged in a running battle with his pursuers. His leg was broken by a bullet and an artery bled profusely.

He crept into a wheat field and tried to tie up the artery. Becoming desperate he put his revolver to his head and fired a bullet into his brain. At daylight this morning his body was found, already cold.

After baffling the officers of two states, after a wonderful flight of nearly 400 miles across Oregon and Washington, Tracy was hunted down by four citizens about 2 o'clock. They were working on the information of the Gold Finch youth who had been forcibly made the companion of the Oregon convict for over twenty-four hours at the ranch of L. B. Eddy, on Lake creek, about three miles from Fellows, a station on the Washington Central railway. The party made all possible haste in getting to the ranch.

SAW THE FUGITIVE.

When within a few hundred yards of the farm they encountered Farmer Eddy mowing in one of his fields. While engaging him in conversation they saw a man issuing from the barn door.

"Is that Tracy?" asked one of the party.

"It surely is," replied Eddy.

The party separated, Lanter and Smith accompanying Eddy in the direction of the barn, while the other two men swung around to the other side. Two of the man-hunters stepped behind the barn on a slight eminence, from which they could watch everything that went on, and Eddy continued on up to the door. Tracy came from the barn again and began helping his host unhitch the horses. He carried no rifle, although he had his revolvers in place.

The fugitive finally saw the men carrying rifles and turned sharply to Eddy and said:

"Who are those men?"

"I don't see any men," said Eddy.

GOT INTO THE BARN.

Tracy pointed out the two men on the hill. Eddy informed his companion who the men were and the outlaw made a leap for the barn door. The pursuers stepping a bit closer, commanded "Hold up your hands." The outlaw jumped behind Eddy and first placed the farmer and then his horse between himself and the pursuers. He commanded the farmer to lead his horse to the barn and remained under cover, moving toward shelter. When near the stable he broke and dashed inside. He quickly reappeared, rifle in hand, and started on a dead run.

Turning on the two men nearest him the desperado fired two shots, but without his usual luck, neither bullet taking effect. Without waiting for further fighting, Tracy made a dash down the valley leading south from the barn and headed for the brush.

THE PURSUIT BEGINS.

In an instant the man hunters were off in pursuit, firing as they ran. Coming to a rock, Tracy dodged behind it, and resting his gun on the rock began a fusilade. Eight shots in all were fired by the outlaw, not one hitting its mark. Seeing he was not succeeding, he bolted for a wheatfield close by. At the edge of the field he stumbled, falling on his face and crawled into the grain on his hands and knees.

It was growing dark and the pursuers, not daring to move in closer, decided to surround the place and wait for daylight. In the meantime Sheriff Gardner, with Policemen Stauffer and Gemmerim, of Spokane; Jack O'Farrell, of Davenport, and other reinforcements, had arrived on the scene, and they went into camp around the field during the night.

Shortly after Tracy disappeared a shot was heard from the direction of the wheat field. No investigation was made, however, until this morning. As soon as dawn came, an entrance was made into the wheat field.

FIND TRACY'S BODY.

Tracy's dead body was found lying amid the grain, with his face turned toward the sky. His left hand thrown over his head held a revolver, which had inflicted the death wound. The thumb of his hand was on the trigger of the pistol. His right hand, thrown across the lower part of his body, firmly grasped the barrel of the famous rifle. Death was inflicted by a revolver held close to the forehead. The top of his head was badly shattered.

Two bullet wounds in the left leg showed the cause of the man's despondency. One shot had broken the leg between the ankle and the knee. The other cut the tibal artery, which of itself was sufficient cause for death.

TRACY'S RECORD.

Harry Tracy escaped from the Oregon state penitentiary at Salem on June 9 in company with David Merrill, after killing four men, Frank W. Ferrell, R. T. Jones and B. F. Tiffany, guards, and Frank Ingraham, a convict, who tried to prevent his flight. On June 28 Tracy killed Merrill near Napavine, Wash., shooting him from behind, and leaving his body in the forest, where it was found on July 15. On July 3, near Seattle, in a fight with a posse, Tracy shot and killed Charles Raymond, a deputy sheriff; E. E. Bresse, a policeman, and mortally wounded Neil Rawley, who died on the following day, and wounded Carl Anderson and Lou Seafrite, newspaper reporters.

Tracy committed many feats of daring during his flight, in the course of which he eluded various posses when apparently surrounded, and held up numerous farmers, whom he forced to furnish food and clothing, and by threats of murdering their families, compelled them to cover up his tracks. Perhaps his greatest show of daring was displayed on July 2, at South Bay, near Olympia, when he held up six men and forced four, including Captain Clark, of a large gasoline launch, to embark with him on Puget sound and pilot him up stream for ten hours.

In 1897 Tracy murdered Valentine Hoge, a Colorado cattle man, and William Strong, a boy, in the same state. A total reward of $5,600 was offered for his arrest, Governor McBride, of Washington, offering $2,500 for his capture, dead or alive. The state of Oregon offered $3,000 and a brother of one of the guards killed at the penitentiary offered $100. The reward for Merrill's capture amounted to $1,500, which has been claimed by Mrs. Waggoner, the berry picker, and her son, who found the body near their home.

SCRAMBLE FOR RELICS.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 7.—When the sheriff, with the body of Tracy, drove through Davenport, hundreds of people followed up the street and crowded about the wagon. By the time the wagon reached Stone's morgue the streets were crowded and from every corner could be heard "Three shouts for Lincoln county." The town was wild. The morgue doors had to be closed and the crowd was asked to stand back. Several persons were allowed to see the body, and then trouble began. Every one wanted a relic, and in a short time nothing was left but the body. Some one even picked up the bloodstained handkerchief which had been used by Tracy to keep from bleeding to death. Many locks of the desperado's hair were carried away and in some places his head had been made bald. His trousers were cut into strips and before they were divided they were cut into smaller pieces. Many of Tracy's cartridges were divided among the members of the posse and those that could get at the buckskin bag.

BRYAN READY TO RUN AGAIN.

Mason City, Iowa, Aug. 7.—William Jennings Bryan addressed an audience of over 2,000 yesterday afternoon at Clear Lake assembly and prior to his speech he stated to an interviewer that he had been incorrectly reported relative to his refusal to again become a candidate for president. He said he is not a candidate in the light of seeking to again lead the party, but if the party should decide that he was the proper man to again head the ticket he could not honorably say no. He believed the money question was still a prominent issue, but the conduct of the republican administration on the Philippine question and the trust problem were sufficient issues to make the campaign upon.

WOMAN INJURED AT FUNERAL

BACKING HORSES CAUSE A CRASH AT CEMETERY.

Aged Mrs. Sorg Bruised, Glass in Funeral Car Broken and Several Hacks Damaged.

Just as the funeral procession of Mrs. Josephine Sorg reached the Catholic cemetery Wednesday there occurred an accident in which serious consequences were narrowly averted.

The team of horses drawing the wagon in which the pall bearers had ridden suddenly started to back. Immediately behind was the funeral car of Henry Schone & Co. and in order to avoid the carriage bearing backward upon them the hearse team also moved backward.

The movement of the head team started the horses all along the line to step backward. The vehicles were close together and the tongue of the first hack crashed through a glass panel at the rear of the funeral car, but did not reach the casket. Behind the car was the hack containing the bereaved husband, his children and his aged mother, and the pole of the next hack in line crashed through the rear of the Sorg hack, painfully bruising the aged lady.

By this time all the horses had been quieted and no further damage ensued. Mrs. Sorg was not seriously injured and remained until the close of the burial service.

FIFTEEN MEN ARE KILLED

RESULT OF A COLLISION BETWEEN TRAINS.

Two Engineers and Eleven Laborers Mangled to Death and Thirty Men Injured, Some Seriously.

Collins, Ia., Aug. 7.—A freight and a gravel train on the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul collided between here and Rhodes yesterday and Engineer S. D. Marchkres, of the freight train, and Fred Brennan, engineer of the work train, were instantly killed, as were thirteen laborers, while fully forty were injured, some seriously. Both of the dead engineers lived at Perry and both leave families. The wreck is said to have been caused by a misunderstanding of orders by the conductor of the work train.

AN OFFICIAL ACCOUNT.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—The following statement was issued from the office of the general superintendent of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road in this city regarding the accident: "At 1:20 this afternoon a work train and a freight train collided on the Omaha division of the St. Paul road two miles west of Rhodes, Ia., killing both engineers instantly, as well as seven laborers. Twenty others, all laborers, were injured. From the information in the possession of the general superintendent's office it appears that the work train, in charge of Conductor Craig, started west from Rhodes without orders and, notwithstanding the fact that the signal was set against the work train, and that the telegraph operator informed Conductor Craig that the freight train had already left Collins, the next station west of Rhodes, and was then eastbound between the places. The officials of the company are utterly at a loss to explain the conduct of Conductor Craig and that of the engineer of the work train in leaving Rhodes without orders with the signal set against their train, and the information that another train was on its way. Relief trains were sent out promptly and every aid was given to the injured men."

RIGHT HAND CRUSHED.

Frank X. Mohr, of the Davis Medical company, had his hand badly crushed while loading a boat for shipment to Rome City in the Pittsburg freight house last week. His right hand was caught between the gunwale of the boat and the door of the car, and was painfully crushed. Dr. J. E. Miller dressed the injury.

ONE BANDIT SLAIN

MET DEATH IN TRAIN ROBBERY ON THE BURLINGTON.

HOLD-UP NEAR SAVANNA, ILL.

TRAIN ONE OF THE FINEST IN THE WORLD.

EXPRESS MESSENGER GAME

CLAIMS TO HAVE FIRED SHOT THAT KILLED ROBBER.

Mt. Carroll, Ill., Aug. 6.—A daring and successful train robbery occurred at Marcus, on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railway, five miles north of Savanna about mid-night.

The fine vestibuled passenger train of eleven coaches, Conductor Emerson in charge, was flagged at the little station and six masked men boarded the engine.

The engineer and fireman obeyed the imperative orders and the robbers at once uncoupled the engine and express car from the train and ran them a quarter of a mile up the track. They then blew up the express car with dynamite, ran the engine north a distance of a mile from Hanover and the locomotive becoming dead, the robbers abandoned it and escaped.

ONE BANDIT KILLED.

One of the highwaymen was killed, being shot above the eye and also in the leg. He met instant death while in the engine and his body was dumped to the ground by his companions as they sped away. The express messenger, Byll, claims to have done the shooting. The deed was done quickly, the trainmen and passengers making no defense. Six sacks of money were secured, but the amount is not known. The passengers were not molested.

There was no way of telegraphing news of the hold-up and a flagman walked back and gave the alarm. A special train of citizens and several policemen at once proceeded to the scene, but as the track runs along the Mississippi and the country is well adapted to a successful flight, the robbers easily escaped.

THE WORK OF EXPERTS.

The work was evidently that of experts as they went at it coolly and methodically.

The train attacked is one of the finest in the world and usually carried considerable money, which must have been known by the highwaymen. The dead robber was a stranger in this vicinity. He was a middle-aged man and well dressed.

In his pocket was found an Iowa Central mileage credential from Grinnell to Gilman, Iowa, issued in the name of A. L. Jacobs.

Four explosions were required to complete the destruction of the safe and the car was badly wrecked. The robbers were eight in number, all masked. They evidently were railroad men, one being a good engineer. Messenger William Byll fired five shots at the robbers, but without avail, and an attempt was made to blow him up in his car.

WOULD HAVE DITCHED TRAIN.

The bandits had arranged to ditch the entire train of nine heavily-laden coaches, had not the signal to stop been heeded. Several passengers in the buffet car, including the porter, were held prisoners during the struggle to crack the safe. It is thought the dead robber was killed by a comrade by mistake. The body was put on the tender and run by the others a short distance and then thrown into the weeds.

Official announcement was made by the officials of both the Burlington road and the Adams Express company today that a purse of $1,000 would be made up by the two companies and given to Express Messenger Byll for his bravery.

THE ENGINEER'S STORY.

La Crosse, Wis., Aug. 6.—The Burlington train, No. 47, which was held up near Lucas, arrived here at 10 o'clock and during a twenty minutes stop for breakfast Engineer John E. Mooney, of Minneapolis, told a vivid description of the hold up. He said:

"The robbers stopped the train by swinging a white light. As soon as it stopped two men jumped into the cab and covered us with revolvers. One of them told the fireman to cut off the engine. After this was done the man who was pointing a gun at my head, told be to pull the engine up aways, and I ran her up a half mile. Then they ordered me to jump off and we walked back towards the train, where we were joined by the express messenger and another robber. They took us to the rear of the buffet car and told us to sit there. One of the robbers left us. They worked for an hour blowing open the safe and finally brought the engine down again and all of them got aboard it. A few feet from the train they told me to jump off and run, which I most assuredly did. They ran the engine up seven miles and left her dead."

Mr. Mooney believes that the robbers killed one of their own number, either purposely or accidentally. Several shots were fired, some by the robbers and the rest by the express messenger. The dead man was dumped off a short distance from where the affair occurred, the robbers having taken his body on the engine when the start away was made.

Mr. Mooney says that all of the men wore masks, but that while one was holding a gun in his face, the handkerchief which concealed his entire face, except the eyes, fell off, and that he managed to get a good look at him. He could identify him, he says, as the young man had a sandy complexion, was about five feet, eight inches in height and wore good clothes.

The express car had two holes blown into the bottom and was left at East Dubuque. It is believed that the five bags of money only contained $2,500.

AN INTERESTING SITUATION

UNITED STATES CALLED TO PROTECT BRITISH SHIP.

Colombian Revolutionary Vessel May Seize British Vessel Quito and Impress Her.

Washington, Aug. 6.—A very interesting situation has developed at Panama which may result in a call upon the United States to protect British interests there. Several days ago the governor of Panama requested Commander Potter, of the United States gunboat Ranger, to leave the harbor and go in search for the Colombian war ship Boyaca, which was supposed to be in distress either through a breakdown of her machinery or from having fallen in with one of the revolutionary vessels.

Permission was granted from here for the Ranger to do so. But yesterday Commander Potter reported that he would not go to sea because of the appearance off the harbor of a revolutionary ship. Today he cabled that he had been informed that the governor of Panama contemplated seizing the British vessel Quito and there being no British warship at Panama he asked for instructions as to what course to pursue. The presumption at the navy department is that the appearance of the revolutionary war vessel off the harbor alarmed the government authorities and having no ship at hand to meet her they proposed to press the Quito into service, possibly for the purpose of arming her and sending her out to meet the insurgent vessel.

When the property of one nation is threatened in this fashion in the absence of a war ship of that particular country, it is customary for a war ship of a friendly nation, when appealed to, to protect the property of the country requesting aid, but it is not proper for a war ship of one country to proffer protection unless formally requested to do so. Instructions to this effect were immediately sent to Commander Potter and if the British consul at Panama should appeal to the Ranger for assistance to prevent the seizing of the Quito, Commander Potter would be expected to adopt the same method to prevent seizure which he would if the Quito were an American ship. The situation is considered critical if Commander Potter's information as to the contemplated action of the authorities should prove to be correct.

Captain Potter's dispatch relative to the expected seizure of a British steamer was communicated by the naval authorities to the state department, as it was thought to involve the possibility of international complications. The state department had received no direct advices from Consul Gudger, but as a matter of courtesy the information contained in Captain Potter's dispatch was communicated to the British charge d'affaires, Percy Raikes, who is now at Bar Harbor. No response from the British charge had been received during the early part of the day.

The text of Commander Potter's cablegram follows:

"Am informed government contemplates seizing the British steamer Quito. Request instructions regarding action if any. No British man-of-war here."

IT WAS A RECORD BREAKER.

Charles Bultemeyer, a prominent farmer near Bingen, Adams county, on Wednesday hauled to the Hoagland elevator of S. Bash & Co., a load of eighty-three bushels of Alsike clover seed, for which he received the sum of $481.50. The seed was hauled in a single wagon, with one team of horses, and elevator men say it breaks the Adams county record, for it is believed that no previous load of grain ever hauled there brought so large a sum of money.

St. Vincent's Catholic church, at which was attended by a crowd of several hundred people. The picnic was held in a grove near the church and an attractive program was carried out. Congressman James M. Robinson and his political opponent, C. C. Gilhams, of Lagrange, made addresses.

BURNS ARE FATAL

FORMER FORT WAYNE WOMAN'S DREADFUL DEATH.

MRS. ED HUNT THE VICTIM

WAS KINDLING FIRE AT HER HOME IN ASHLEY.

KEROSENE OIL EXPLODED

HER HUSBAND IS ALSO SERIOUSLY BURNED.

By the explosion of kerosene oil, which she was using in an attempt to kindle a fire in the kitchen stove at her home in Ashley Wednesday, Mrs. Ada G. Hunt, formerly of Fort Wayne, was so fearfully burned that her death occurred at 9:30 o'clock next morning. Her husband, Edward Hunt, who was in the room with his wife at the time of the accident, was very seriously burned in his attempt to rescue his wife from the flames and he is in a dangerous condition.

Mrs. Hunt was formerly Miss Ada Gertrude Cartwright, of this city, and her husband is an engineer upon the Wabash railroad at Ashley. He is a son of Patrick Hunt, who was badly injured by being struck by a Nickel Plate engine on the Columbia street crossing some weeks ago. Mrs. Hunt's mother is Mrs. Mattie Cartwright, residing at Lillie and Lewis streets.

The distressing affair occurred as Mrs. Hunt started to kindle the fire to prepare the evening meal. Not suspecting that there were live coals in the stove, she applied the kerosene oil to expedite the building of the fire and a moment later the explosion occurred, her entire body being deluged with blazing oil. With her clothing ablaze in a dozen places, the frantic husband attempted to extinguish the flames and was himself fearfully burned. Nearly the entire upper portion of the unfortunate woman's body was burned and she lingered in great agony until death ensued.

Funeral Director Henry Schone was summoned to Ashley Thursday morning by telephone to prepare the body for burial, and the remains arrived in Fort Wayne that evening. The injured husband will also be brought to this city for treatment. Mrs. Hunt was twenty-nine years of age and she leaves the husband and two children—Gertrude, aged eight, and Hubert, aged six. Other relatives, in addition to the mother, include three sisters and five brothers.

RESULTS OF FEUD.

Nashville, Tenn., Aug. 7.—Jim Highpeach and Brooks Carter were killed, John Carter is supposed to have been seriously wounded, and a man of the name of Richmond was shot through the wrist today in a fight in Jackson county resulting from an old feud between the Carter and Lynch families of that section. The fight occurred in the country store of Brooks Carter, where Brooks and his brother John, Jim Highpeach and Boyd and Leslie Lynch and several others had gathered. The talk drifted to the election and a dispute arose between the Carter and Lynch factions. One of the men was seen to reach for his pistol and a general fight ensued, in which guns and pistols were brought into action. Brooks Carter and Highpeach were instantly killed and Richmond was shot through the wrist. John Carter, who is supposed to have been seriously wounded, ran off after the shooting, threatening vengeance.

The Lynch brothers are under arrest. Further trouble is anticipated.

A GRATIFYING INTEREST.

There is a gratifying interest manifested by Fort Wayne merchants and manufacturers in the industrial parade on the opening day of the fall festival, Monday, August 25. A large number have already sent responses saying they will be represented in the parade, which promises to be the finest ever seen here. The parade will form at 10 o'clock that day. The children's parade on Tuesday will also be a splendid feature. The children will meet on Court street at 9 o'clock in the morning and before starting will receive free tickets entitling them to entrance to the festival grounds. There is a great demand for tickets in the automobile drawing and they have been placed on sale in all the stores of the city and in barber shops and similar places.

TWO CASES OF SMALLPOX.

City Sanitarian Macbeth reports two new cases of smallpox, the patients being Sophia Zagel, aged fifty-two, and Harry Zagel, aged forty-seven, members of the family of the young man who has been very sick at 1145 Hanna street.

TRANSFERRED TO THIS CITY.

Logansport Reporter: A. S. Roberts, formerly editor of the Journal, now engaged in the insurance business as district representative of the Inter-State Assurance company, has been appointed district manager of the company with headquarters at Fort Wayne. He will have charge of the entire northern part of the state and will move to his new home during this month.

HEADQUARTERS CHANGED.

The headquarters of the Fort Wayne Fair association have been moved from the Commercial club rooms to the office of Coroner Barnett, on the northeast corner of the ground floor of the court house. Arrangements for the fair are progressing rapidly and a large number of applications for exhibit space are being received.

WILL FIGHT SOUTHWESTERN

WABASH WILL DO SOME RATE CUTTING.

Promises to Give the Interurban a Hot Fight for Patronage—Mr. Thompson Talks.

"The Wabash railroad will declare war to the knife on the Fort Wayne and Southwestern when the latter begins operations on the Wabash end of its line next Sunday," says the Wabash Plain Dealer.

"District Passenger Agent R. G. Thompson of the Wabash, who has advocated the most aggressive policy against the Southwestern, which has cut deep into the local revenues of the Wabash between Fort Wayne and Huntington, said today to a Plain Dealer representative that General Passenger Agent Crane had concluded to take vigorous action, and that henceforth no quarter would be given.

"'I am now getting out the advertising for the first big cut,' said Mr. Thompson to the Plain Dealer. 'Our rate between Wabash and Fort Wayne on Sundays has always been seventy-five cents. Beginning next Sunday it will be sixty cents, the tickets good for one day, and on all our fast trains. We are running five trains each way daily, which is about as much as a traction line can give in the way of service, and we can handle passengers between Wabash and Fort Wayne in fifty-six minutes, as against two hours and fifty-six minutes on the interurban. If the sixty-cent rate is not considered low enough, we may in time make it forty cents, or, if necessary, twenty-five cents, for the round trip, a rate the traction people cannot meet, even if the crowd goes to it, for they have not the equipment. Last Sunday we had 141 passengers out of Fort Wayne for Southwestern Traction company stations, which proves we are getting our share of the travel. The Southwestern is now making a seventy-five-cent round trip rate from Huntington to Fort Wayne. From Wabash, on the same basis, it must make a round trip rate of $1, at which figure it won't get much patronage. We shall in time probably reduce our every-day round trip rate from Wabash to Fort Wayne to seventy-five cents, and if the interurban goes us better, we shall make further cuts. We propose to give the new line all the fight it wants and I predict it will be ready to cry quits before another summer is gone.'"

DIED IN NEBRASKA.

The death of a former pioneer resident at her home in Bradshaw, Neb., has just been made known to relatives in this county, though the death occurred last April. Samuel Cutshall, of Eel River township, has just received Nebraska newspapers announcing the death of Mrs. George Cutshall, wife of his brother. William H. Cutshall, of this city, is also a brother of the husband of the deceased. The Nebraska paper says: "Nancy Caroline Tolson was born in Seneca county, Ohio, April 14, 1832, and died in Bradshaw, Neb., April 27, 1902, aged seventy years and thirteen days. With her parents she moved to Fort Wayne, Ind., where she was united in marriage to Mr. George Cutshall February 22, 1855. There were four children born to them—one son and three daughters. The son and one daughter alone survive her. In the spring of 1883 Mr. and Mrs. Cutshall moved to York county, Neb., where they have since resided. In a written statement the deceased says: 'I was converted in my seventeenth year and joined the M. E. church and it was my mission in early and single life to work in the Sabbath school and nurse the sick. After marriage I, with my husband, united with the U. B. church.' Mrs. Cutshall has lived a consistent Christian life and died in the faith that giveth life everlasting. The funeral services were conducted from the M. E. church in Bradshaw April 28 at 2 p. m. and the remains were laid to rest in the village cemetery."

Mrs. Viola Appleman, of Angola, who recently underwent an operation at Hope hospital, is reported to be improving nicely. The patient is under the care of Dr. Hammond and Dr. Stemen.

HAPPENINGS IN HOOSIERDOM

GENERAL NEWS OF THE STATE OF INDIANA.

Westville, Ind., Aug. 7.—While an excited mob was watching the Michigan City life saving crew drag Clear lake in a search for the body of Mrs. William Tolton, who it was believed had been slain by her husband, the determination of the angry citizens to hold a lynching bee was cooled by the information from Chicago that the missing woman was on a Wabash train en route to the village.

William Tolton, the alleged wife-murderer, left the county jail at Laporte yesterday afternoon a free man. The solution of the mystery proves that but for the bravery of Marshal Warnecke, of Westville, an innocent man would have been dragged from the jail that fateful Monday night in his career and hanged by the neck until dead.

About 10 o'clock Tuesday evening a telephone message was received at Laporte by Sheriff Small from Chicago, to the effect that a woman, whose description tallied with that of Mrs. Tolton, had been found, and that she was under close surveillance. Sheriff Small left for Chicago yesterday morning and Mrs. Tolton, who was found at the Salvation Army barracks, 394 Dearborn street, confessed her identity.

The news that Mrs. Tolton had been found caused intense excitement here, and when the Wabash train arrived in the afternoon fully six hundred people surged about the depot. Mrs. Tolton left the train with Sheriff Small, and a few minutes later was hugging her children and crying piteously. Mrs. Tolton stated in an interview that she was compelled to leave Westville by her husband, who was madly infatuated with Mrs. Dolf.

The story told by Mrs. Tolton tallies in every particular with the statements made by Tolton before and after his incarceration in jail. She said she was furnished a ticket by Tolton to go to Chicago, with the understanding that she was to enter a hospital for an operation. She visited a hospital, but was told by the physician in charge that her case did not warrant the use of the knife, and medicine was prescribed for the ailment. Tolton now threatens retaliation by causing the arrest and prosecution of several reputable citizens of Westville for his arrest and imprisonment. He arrived here late last night, having walked the entire distance from Laporte.

BRIDE FOILS AN ELOPEMENT.

Muncie, Ind., Aug. 7.—Mrs. Wade Green, of Newcastle, a bride of three weeks, foiled an attempt of her husband to elope yesterday with Mabel Harter, 16 years old. Mrs. Green suspected her husband and Miss Harter of intending to go away together and when he suddenly disappeared she sent messages to the police in near-by cities. Muncie officers arrested the runaway couple as they met here preparatory to going to Chicago. The young groom was sent to the workhouse for thirty days and the girl to her home. Miss Harter is a daughter of a wealthy citizen of Mount Vernon.

EXPEL A BOY EVANGELIST.

Dublin, Ind., Aug. 7.—Insanely in love with a handsome young woman of Parker City, Edward Cosler, known as a boy evangelist, pursued the girl in the streets and demanded that she become his wife. "The Lord has united us," he shouted. "I will marry you before sundown or move the foundations of hell." The young woman took refuge in the home of an acquaintance. The boy remained outside, continuing to shout. The authorities placed him on a train and ordered him never to reappear in Parker City. The young woman has assisted Cosler at his meetings at the old Christian church and on street corners. Cosler is 19 years old.

SOLD FOR THIRTY CENTS.

Elkhart, Ind., Aug. 7.—Harvey Tallerday, of this city, begins to think that his wife and Morgan Gordon were in earnest when they "called his bluff" five weeks ago. He went home unexpectedly and found Mrs. Tallerday entertaining Gordon, but he didn't grow hysterical and, after a few flippant remarks, declared he would sell "the woman" for thirty cents. Gordon asked the woman if she were willing to be sold, and when she gave an affirmative reply, he handed over to the spouse the sum of thirty cents. Gordon and Mrs. Tallerday then departed, and Tallerday hasn't heard from them since.

Tallerday is a laborer, and is about 45 years of age, though hard work makes him appear older. He says his wife is a little younger than himself, 38. They have three children as the result of their twenty-two years of married life, the eldest being about 21 years old and the youngest in her teens. Gordon is like himself a laborer, and about the same age. It is supposed the couple went to Michigan.

HELD FOR GRAND LARCENY.

Marion, Ind., Aug. 7.—Alonzo Yeager, publican; Austin Blair, who conducts a restaurant, and Grace Morris, alias Grace Golden, a waitress, were arrested last evening by Captain White and Sergeant Williams, charged with grand larceny. The warrant was sworn out by Lewis Price, of Star City, Ind., who claims to have been robbed of $325.

The saloon and restaurant adjoin and are located at the entrance of the National Soldiers' home. The three prisoners are said to have been working together systematically for three months. The old soldiers would enter the restaurant or saloon and the Morris woman would induce them to take a drink with her. It is charged that the liquor was drugged and when a veteran would go to sleep he would be taken to an upstairs room and robbed. Thousands of dollars are reported to have been stolen from the veterans and the police believe that it was done in this manner.

HOME FOR CHILDREN.

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 8.—At the inter-state conference of the managers of the National Children's Home society, at Winona, yesterday, the Indiana branch of the organization decided to make an appeal to all Sunday schools in the state for a contribution of ten cents from each scholar, the fund thus raised to be used as a rescue station at Westfield, Hamilton county, Indiana. The society found homes for 178 poor children within the last year and the demand for services of this character is increasing. The present facilities at Westfield are inadequate and the state society hopes to get contributions from at least half the total Sunday school membership throughout the state for building and maintaining rescue stations. Representatives from Iowa, Ohio, Michigan, Kentucky, Illinois and Indiana were in attendance at the conference and much interest was taken in addresses and reports.

DAMAGE SUIT KILLED HIM.

Logansport, Ind., Aug. 8.—John R. Lattin, superintendent of construction for the Wabash River Traction company, who has built many hundreds of miles of interurban roads in Indiana and New England, dropped dead of heart failure yesterday at the dinner table when a messenger rushed into his house announcing that a suit for $10,000 damages had been filed by the Logansport, Rochester and Northern, a rival company, against his company. The suit charges Lattin's company is responsible for delay to the Logansport, Rochester and Northern in constructing its lines. It was the culminating incident in a battle between lawyers and construction men for the possession of certain streets and rights claimed by both companies. The fight has lasted for six months, and at times has verged on rioting. Lattin's home is in Stratford, Conn., and he represents the Blakeslee syndicate, of New Haven.

MRS. TOLTON SERIOUSLY ILL.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 8.—The nervous strain to which Mrs. William Tolton, the Westville woman whose mysterious absence created a big sensation, has been subjected since learning that her husband had been suspected of her murder, since her return from Chicago, has postrated her and she is now in a serious condition. She has stated that she will not live with Tolton longer, but if she recovers from her present illness, which she attributes to the medicine she secured in Chicago, she will leave for St. Marys, O., with her four children to make her future home with her brother, Charles Potsdorfer. Tolton arrived at his home in Westville, having walked from Laporte, and within an hour thereafter the police were called to his house to quiet him, he having raised a disturbance because he claimed some of his clothing was missing. He charged a woman neighbor with the theft of the clothes, but the officers refused to arrest her. Tolton insists that he will bring suit against John Herrold and William Reynolds, two prominent residents of the town, because they signed the affidavits for his arrest for wife-murder.

KNOX IN A MELEE

ATTORNEY GENERAL MIXES IT WITH BIBULOUS PARTY.

MILLIONAIRES ON A DRUNK

KNOX RESENTED INSULT TO LADIES OF HIS PARTY.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 8.—President Roosevelt was exceptionally busy for several hours today disposing of an accumulation of public business. By luncheon time, however, he had cleared away the mass of official correspondence and was ready to receive the attorney general and Mrs. Knox, who arrived from New York about noon. They will be the guests of the president and Mrs. Roosevelt until tomorrow.

To a representative of the Associated Press Mr. Knox confirmed the report that he had a personal difficulty with a party of men in Atlantic City last Wednesday night.

MR. KNOX EXPLAINS.

"It was one of those disagreeable incidents," said he, "that sometimes occur in a restaurant or other public place. Accompanied by Mrs. Knox, my daughter and two or three friends, including District Attorney Youngs, of Pittsburg, I was dining in the restaurant of the Garden hotel. A party of men, none of whom I knew, seated themselves at an adjoining table. Their conduct was unseemly and boisterous. They talked loudly, and their comments upon members of my party and upon me were insulting, to put it very mildly.

"In the circumstances, accompanied as I was by the ladies, I could not resent their actions or their words at that time. They evidently were seeking trouble, so without attracting any more attention than possible, I got my party out of the restaurant.

"Then I returned," continued Mr. Knox, with a smile, "to see if the men really were looking for me. I think they were, for scarcely had I approached them when they sprang nu. One of them aimed a blow at my stomach, but it failed to reach me. I had no idea who he was.

NOW WHAT DID HE DO TO 'EM.

"What happened to him I am not prepared to say. Those things occur very quickly. I am quite satisfied, however, that he does not feel as well today as I do. You will note that I am looking first rate."

"You do not know who were in the party of your assailants?" the attorney general was asked.

"Not positively. I understand that Charles T. Schoen, of Philadelphia, and one of the Cramps, also of Philadelphia, were in the party, but even of that I am not at all positive.

"What actuated them I do not know. A newspaper of today said that it had something to do with my attitude on the trust question, but that seems to be entirely unlikely. As they sat at the table in the restaurant they made no reference to the action which, as attorney general, I had taken against certain so-called trusts. Their remarks were personal to me and to my family, and were of such a nature that I could do nothing but resent them.

"I understand that after I left the restaurant at the conclusion of the difficulty, the waiters suppressed the crowd with some energy.

The attorney general evidently was not in the least injured by his assailants and as he chatted about the trouble did not seem to regard it very seriously.

KNOX GOING ABROAD.

It is understood that Attorney General Knox will sail shortly for Europe, where, in France, he will devote some personal attention to the Panama canal question. It is quite probable now that the proceedings looking to a determination of the ability of the new Panama canal company to pass a clear title of the property to the United States will be conducted in the French courts. While the administration is anxious to have the matter passed upon as soon as practicable, the question of time will be secondary to that of certainty that the United States will have no trouble with the stockholders of the old Panama canal company if the property and rights of the new company should be acquired by this country under the Spooner act. The president, upon whom the responsibility rests, will take no chances upon the results of extended litigation in which the United States might become involved if the property of the new Panama canal company were purchased before it had been determined judiciously that the company possessed the absolute right to convey a clear title to this country.

An early caller upon the president today was Representative Robert J. Lewis, of York, Pa., who desired to see Mr. Roosevelt in behalf of a constituent.

WHO THEY WERE.

Atlantic, N. J., Aug. 8.—The three men with whom Attorney General Knox had trouble in a cafe were Charles T. Schoen, multimillionaire of Philadelhia and Pittsburg; Theodore Cramp, of the Cramps' shipbuilding firm, of Philadelphia, and Mr. Stevenson, a millionaire, of this place. The party had been drinking, but Schoen was the only one who appeared to have been drinking over well. As he stepped from the carriage at the cafe he was supported by the other members of the party.

BRYAN SCORES ROOSEVELT

SAYS HE ADVOCATES BLOOD AND BRUTAL POLICY.

He Charges the President With Encouraging Ferocity Among Young Cadets.

Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 8.—W. J. Bryan accuses President Roosevelt of going beyond the limit in his advocacy of a strenuous life, and calls him to task for his utterances in the speech at West Point. In the Commoner today Mr. Bryan says:

"President Roosevelt in his recent extemporaneous speech at West Point gave expression to a sentiment which suggests an inherent barbarism that will have to be taken into account in weighing his purposes and predicting his future course. His address on strenuous life delivered some three years ago showed that he gave to virtue the ancient rather than the modern definition, and placed physical courage above mental greatness and moral worth. But when in his West Point speech he laid aside all restraint and in a fit of animal enthusiasm said, 'A good soldier must not only be willing to fight; he must be anxious to fight. I do not want to have anything to do with him if he is not,' he turned a light upon his inner self and revealed a moral deformity which must shock such of his friends are are not wholly carried away with the blood-and-brutal gospel of imperialism.

SAYS LESSON IS WRONG

"If a good soldier must be anxious to fight, then it naturally follows that an administration which desires to develop good soldiers should surround cadets with influences calculated to infuse into them a fighting spirit, an eagerness for blood-letting.

"If the president really means what he says we may expect that his second term, if he has one, will be made forever illustrious by the inauguration of a new regime at the military academy and in the army. The ten commandments and the sermon on the mount will be discarded and the yellow-back novel substituted for them, for 'thou shalt not kill' and 'blessed are the peacemakers' could have no proper place in a school designed to train men to be 'anxious to fight.'

"The president entirely overlooks the distinction between the exercise of force in defense of a right and the use of force for the creation of a right. All the force employed by government, under the American theory of government, is employed in the defense of rights previously ascertained.

SCOPE OF THE ACADEMY.

"A small army is necessary to enable the government to protect the inalienable rights of its citizens, and the academy at West Point is the training school for officers.

"It is unfortunate for the country that the president should have held before its embryo soldiers the lowest rather than the highest ideas of military life. There have been many great soldiers during the last 1900 years, great Christian soldiers, who have loved peace, and yet who have in an hour of peril won glory for their country and themselves. These should be eulogized and emulated; evil, and only evil, can come from idealizing the bloodthirsty soldier."

ARICK—PENCE.

Miss Carrie Pence and Clifton E. Arick were married last Thursday at the home of E. S. Johnson, 2214 Reed street, by Rev. J. W. Lake, pastor of Calvary U. B. church. THE COURT NEWS.

James M. Robinson et al. sue Amanda Ruhl et al. to recover $275 on a mechanic's lien.

Marion E. Griswold has commenced suit against William C. Heckman on a note for $150.

A suit to set aside a deed and create a trust has been filed in the superior court entitled Dora Albrecht vs. Christopher Albrecht. J. B. Harper is attorney for plaintiff.

Commissioners Thursday considered road petitions and ordered the J. F. Butt road in Maumee township and the Newton Relue road in Adams township opened. There being a remonstrance against the opening of the Hoffman road in Wayne township on which viewers filed a favorable report, reviewers were appointed as follows: William Kinnerck, Jacob Graham and Charles Stellhorn. This road is to run from the Illinois pike to the traction company's line. Joseph Black, Christian Wiese and Safara Schneider were appointed viewers of a road in Adams township which will run into New Haven.

A license to practice medicine was taken out last Thursday by Isaac E. Morris, formerly of Alliance, Ohio, and a graduate of the Pulte Medical college, of Cincinnati.

Two rare and exceedingly racy slander suits were filed in the clerk's office on Thursday. The allegations in neither are printable and in one the language used was even too tough for the lawyer who wrote the complaint to set out in full. Mary C. Kendall charges John A. Wehr with having slandered her by accusing her in the presence of others with indulging in practices of an unmentionable character, far out of the ordinary and asks for $3,000 damages. A. H. Bittenger penned the complaint, but did not set out the language except by blank lines. Henry A. Miller, a boarding house keeper, at Hoagland, sues Benjamin McIntosh for slander, alleging that the defendant made remarks about him and his house which reflected on his residence, and his family and among other things saying that his boarding house was a house of ill-fame. He wants $5,000.

The commissioners Friday were wrestling with ditch matters. A remonstrance against the Bowser ditch in Perry and Eel River townships was filed and J. W. Wurtz, Gottleib Shafer and Frederick Fitzman were apopinted reviewers. The Flaugh ditch in Washington, Wayne, Lake and Aboit townships will probably be established on the report of the reviewers and the Hawk ditch in Washington township will probably be established on the report of the viewers. On petitions for the Hursh ditch in Cedar Creek township, Dayton Treace, James Astry and F. P. Otto were apointed viewers; on the Geller ditch in Eel River township, George Goegline, John McIntosh and John Knapp were appointed and on the Warren ditch in Cedar Creek, Rudolph Schwartz, C. A. Lindemuth and Albert Grill were appointed.

William Miles, who attempted suicide at Columbia City a few days ago, was brought to Fort Wayne Friday by Sheriff Gallager, of Whitley county, who simply wanted to deliver the man to the county to which he belonged. Miles was turned loose at the Pennsylvania depot and from there went to Hope hospital where he had a few stitches taken in his neck. He then left the hospital and that afternoon showed up at the county jail with his neck bleeding afresh. He had accidentally or otherwise torn out the stitches and Dr. Morris was called to stitch him up again. The man is supposed to be demented.

Several days ago Anthony Miller, of Wells street, was sent back to the Jeffersonville reformatory from which he had been paroled. It developed that during his parole he had not only misappropriated a bunch of money belonging to the landlady of a resort near the driving park, but that he had also come into possession of a money order intended for Anthony Miller, who lives on Wall street. The order was presented at the post office and cashed, the Jeffersonville Anthony signing the receipt. A few days afterwards a decoy special delivery letter was sent to Miller, who was then in jail, and he signed for that, too; this signature and the other were found to correspond exactly. Sheriff Stout wrote to Warden Hert, at Jeffersonville, regarding the matter with a request that Miller be "pumped." On Friday the sheriff got a letter from Warden Hert, inclosing another from Miller. Miller's epistle is badly spelled and is prolific in other things, among which is the information that the money order in question, with the letter, is in the "upper bureau drawer, in the front room by my father's house on Wells street." The story was all right, but the information was slightly out of line. The letter was found all right, but the order was not there; the order was cashed several weeks ago. Sheriff Stout turned the letter and other information over to the post office authorities for final disposition.

CONNELL TRIED FOR ASSAULT

ADMITTED THAT HE STRUCK HIRSHFELDER.

Says He Acted in Self-Defense—The Court's Decision Reserved—

The event at police court Wednesday last was the trial of James Connell, charged with feloniously assaulting Henry Hirschfelder two weeks ago with murderous intent. The incident was exploited in the newspapers at the time and occurred on East Washington street, about 10:30 at night. After hearing all the evidence, occupying more than two hours in its delivery, Judge Dreibelbiss took the case under advisement.

The occurrence was one in which Henry Hirschfelder, a laborer, was struck by a man, part of a party of nocturnal celebrants, who were having a good time, mixed with beer and other concomitants, in the east end. At first it was thought that a murder had been committed, but later it appeared that the affair was nothing but a convivial scrap. Hirschfelder was picked up on East Washington street in an unconscious condition and was taken to Hope hospital, where it was found that he was suffering from a severe scalp wound and some concussion. Later he was taken to his home and the case was continued from time to time, pending his ability to appear in court. He appeared that morning and a lengthy introduction of evidence and more testimony ensued.

James Connell, the defendant on the stand, made no denial of having struck the plaintiff, and said that he struck him on the jaw and with his naked fist. The plaintiff endeavored to show that he had been struck by Connell with some instrument or weapon, a foot or more in length, which the defendant had drawn from his pocket, and that the blow was delivered on his head. Two or three lady witnesses who were entirely disinterested and who had been summoned by the state, testified that they had seen the occurrence and that they did not think that any weapon had been used, and that they were in a position to have seen if any weapon had been used; it was their opinion that the blow was by the hand or fist, and that it was planted on the lower part of the face or the upper part of the chest. They saw the plaintiff fall over and thought that he had struck his head on the street curbing; they were quite positive that no weapon had been used. They testified further that they had seen the party of which Connell was a member on their way home from a church social, and that, although they were afraid of them in a general way, that when they hurriedly passed them, before the fracas, they were not interrupted nor accosted, but that on the contrary the party seemed to quiet themselves until after they had passed. Hirschfelder gave an account of his whereabouts from early in the evening until the time of the scrap, and said that he had drank a number of beers, but was not drunk. The defense attempted to show that Hirschfelder had been drinking all night, that he was naturally quarrelsome and that he had provoked the quarrel. Without going into the details of all the testimony, it appears that there was a scrap of some kind and that while Connell, who admits to having struck the man and who was one of the party of convivial spirits, says that he struck Hirschfelder in self-defense and only after he had tried to avoid a fracas. The question the court has under consideration is hinged upon a point in the statutes and a decision of the supreme court.

His first wife now resides at Lafayette, Ohio. His second wife was Miss Daisy Spangler, nineteen years old, and resides with her parents at 620 Harlan street, Indianapolis. Wife No. 3 was Miss Beatrice Bressler, of this city, eighteen years old, and is now with her parents here. Wife No. 4 was Miss Myrtle Carpenter, of Springfield, Ill. The four marriages are said to have occurred within two years and the four deserted young women think that it is possible they are not the only victims, as Brandan has disappeared. INCENDIARY FIRE AT POE.

The house and barn of W. Roberts and the home of Dr. Lafollette, at Poe, Marion township, were totally destroyed by fire last week. The fire started in Mr. Roberts' barn about 10 o'clock and soon communicated to the two residences, standing near by. The neighbors formed a bucket brigade, but could make no headway against the flames and confined their efforts to saving the contents of the three structures. The live stock and carriages were rescued from the barn and some of the furniture of the two houses was saved. A considerable quantity of hay and oats and some farm machinery were destroyed. The loss is thought to be between $2,000 and $3,000, partly covered by insurance. The fire is thought to have been of incendiary origin.

ASSAULTS WIFE THEN SUICIDES

Lyman Allen, Veteran of Civil War, Takes Carbolic Acid and Dies---Evidence That He Was Drinking.

After having brutally assaulted his wife, and while a physician was ministering to her sufferings, resulting from the husband's blows, Lyman Allen, 58 years of age and residing at 744 West Superior street, ended his existence shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday evening by swallowing carbolic acid. Allen died in twenty minutes after drinking the poison. The wife is not seriously injured.

Allen was a veteran soldier and the family moved to Fort Wayne some years ago from Delphos, Ohio. It is said the wife did much toward supporting the family by her own hard work. The evidence in the distressing case as secured by the county coroner, Dr. W. W. Barnett, who was summoned immediately after Allen's death, is to the effect that the husband had been drinking quite heavily for several days and had been very quarrelsome. Last evening, the coroner discovered, Allen went to his home and demanded from his wife money with which to purchase additional liquor.

KNOCKED HER DOWN.

The woman stated that she had no money, and this angered the man who was already under the influence of liquor. The evidence secured by Dr. Barnett shows that he struck her viciously, knocking her to the floor. Then stepping to a cupboard Allen took a bottle which contained some face preparation, poured out the contents and, as he was leaving the house, the wife asked what he intended to do with it. Allen replied that he was going to get some medicine, and left without further words. A son summoned Dr. A. K. Hammond to attend his mother, and the physician, on his arrival, found the woman bleeding from the face and mouth as the result of injuries.

While Dr. Hammond was at work with the patient Allen returned, glanced in at the rear door, saw the physician, and at once turned to walk toward the barn. Within a short time Allen, from his position in the yard, called for the physician to come to him. Dr. Hammond, incensed at the brutality of the man, replied: "If you want to talk to me, come into the house."

HEARD ALLEN FALL.

A few minutes later a noise was heard as of a body falling, and the son, Jacob Martin, who hurried in that direction, found his father lying prostrate upon the walk. Fumes of carbolic acid were plainly distinguishable, and beside him lay an empty bottle which had contained the drug. The son carried his father into the house and placed him upon a couch, where Dr. Hammond at once began the attempt to counteract the effects of the poison. Allen's mouth and throat were fearfully burned, and the antidotes administered by the physician were powerless to save him. Allen died in twenty minutes after having swallowed the dose.

Allen served with credit for four years in the civil war as a member of the Sixth Ohio battery. His surviving relatives include the widow, a daughter, Mrs. Maggie Rollins, and two sons, Jacob and William Allen. Last week the father went to Delphos and had the remains of his mother disinterred and transferred to another cemetery there. He returned to Fort Wayne Sunday evening.

The funeral services were held from the residence Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The interment was at Lindenwood.

Eleven suits for slander have been filed at Huntington against Golvin Summers, sr., of that county. The aggregate damage demanded is $33,000.

David Butler and wife, accused of brutally treating a small child, left Waterloo Sunday night, just in time to escape the prosecutor, who arrived Monday to investigate the charge.

Lewis Rohm, who sued Cal Husselman, of DeKalb county, for damages on the ground that Husselman had alienated the affections of Mrs. Rohm, has withdrawn the suit and paid the costs.

Verne Keller and Lloyd Schoolcraft, who recently stole a horse at Huntington and attempted to sell it at Columbia City, have been bound over to the circuit court. Keller recently ran away from the school for feeble-minded in Fort Wayne because they would not give him a vacation.

William Douglass, of Logansport, 87 years of age, the oldest settler of Cass county, has had an interesting history. He located there in 1831, later secured employment with an Indian tribe that then occupied the site of Warsaw, and in after years captained his own boat on the Wabash and Erie canal through Fort Wayne.

Thieves stole a horse and buggy, the property of William McDowell, from the streets of Bluffton Wednesday evening.

Omar Clay, living just north of Columbia City, was thrown from a horse he was riding and sustained a fractured collar bone.

Rev. Eugene J. Hall, who has been pastor of the United Brethren church at Lagrange, has resigned and will take up evangelistic work.

The Goshen and Angola Traction company has bought eight acres of land at the north edge of Lagrange and will build its power house there.

Two rural routes were established out of Butler last week by the inspector. He declined to approve the route to Newville, owing to bad roads.

Eugene A. Carver, hardware merchant at Angola, is financially embarrassed and has closed his store. The liabilities are $9,000; assets, $3,000.

Four years ago a needle got into the body of Paul Eiserle, of Logansport, and was taken out of his great toe. Gangrene from the injury has just caused his death.

While two miles out of Fort Wayne on his way homeward, Vic Beatty, of Ossian, was kicked by his horse. Beatty's leg was broken between the knee and ankle.

Samuel S. Troyer, an aged Amish undertaker in Newbury township, Lagrange county, paid a fine and costs amounting to $22.50 for failing to secure a burial permit before he conducted a funeral some months ago.

G. F. McFarren, of Bluffton, was a passenger on the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy train which was held up by bandits at Savanna, Ill., Tuesday night and robbed of $20,000. He says none of the passengers were molested.

William Burke, of Huntington, 13 years old, lost an eye in a peculiar manner. A playmate was in the upper story of the house with a stick in the end of which was a nail. They were amusing themselves by passing the stick downward through the spouting. It didn't come down as rapidly as expected, and Burke stooped to look up into the pipe when the nail penetrated his eyeball.

CORPORAL O'BRIEN ARRESTED

PHILIPPINE SOLDIER MUST ANSWER FOR PERJURY.

Made Serious Charges Against Officers of Army in Testimony Before Committee.

North Adams, Mass., Aug. 7.—Following the arrest of Corporal Richard OBrien at his home here after midnight last night, on the charge of perjury in his testimony before the senate committee on the Philippines, it was decided by the United States authorities to take the soldier to Pittsfield for a hearing before United States Commissioner Wood. The start for Pittsfield was made during the forenoon. From the moment of the arrest O'Brien was kept continually under the eye of the Washington detective, who took the corporal in custody under authority of a bench warrant of the supreme court of the District of Columbia.

REMANDED TO JAIL.

Pittsfield, Mass., Aug. 7.—A brief hearing was given Corporal O'Brien before United States Commissioner Wood here this afternoon, the charge being perjury. After consultation of counsel, the case was postponed until tomorrow to await some definite settlement as to bail. O'Brien's father was the only one present at the hearing besides the officials and counsel. After the postponement the defendant was taken to the house of correction here, where he will remain until tomorrow's hearing.

WHAT O'BRIEN SWORE TO.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 7.—R. T. O'Brien, formerly corporal of company M, Twenty-sixth infantry, United States volunteers, was indicted by the grand jury here last Monday, but the proceedings were kept secret pending his arrest. The action is based on testimony given before the senate committee on the Philippines May 19, last, in which he severely arraigned the moral conduct of certain officers and enlisted men. Senator Lodge, chairman of the committee, shortly after this testimony, called the attention of the attorney general to O'Brien's statements and United States District Attorney Gould was directed to investigate. The case was then given to the grand jury. O'Brien probably will be tried in the criminal court here early in the autumn and District Attorney Gould will personally conduct the case for the government. The witnesses named in the indictment are Fred H. McDonald, captain company H, Twenty-sixth infantry; Frank A. Cook, major of the same regiment, and Charles S. Riley. The indictment sets out that O'Brien, in his testimony, "swore, declared and deposed falsely, corruptly, knowingly, maliciously and contrary to his oath," to tell the truth.

HE USED A RAZOR

FORT WAYNE MAN TRIES SUICIDE AT COLUMBIA CITY.

WILLIAM MILES WILL LIVE

THOUGH HE CUT FOUR GASHES IN HIS THROAT.

HE WILL NOT DISCUSS IT

YOUNG MAN WAS EMPLOYED AS A STREET PAVER.

(Special to The Sentinel.)

Columbia City, Aug. 6.—William Miles, about 25 years of age, who says his home is on Cass street in Fort Wayne, made a desperate attempt to end his life in this city last night. He slashed his throat four times with a razor, but will recover.

Miles has been employed as a street paver and boarded at the Goss restaurant, occupying sleeping apartments above it. For several days he had been indulging heavily in liquor, but on Tuesday his appearance indicated that he was sobering off, though fearfully unstrung from the effects of his experience. At 10 o'clock Tuesday evening he entered the Goss restaurant, seated himself at a table and began muttering, "They're after me," "They'll get me," and similar phrases. Acquaintances thought a drink of liquor might assist in restoring his nervous equilibrium, and procured it for Miles, but he refused steadfastly to drink it. Finally at 11 o'clock the proprietor of the restaurant induced Miles to go to bed and escorted him to his room.

At 5 o'clock this morning the clerk at the restaurant found Miles seated upon a rear stairway of the building some distance from his room, pale and exhausted, his clothing literally soaked with blood, which streamed from several gashes upon his neck. In the bed in Miles' room was another pool of blood, while the carpet of the room indicated that after having slashed his throat with a razor in bed, Miles had crawled out and lain for a time upon the floor.

Dr. Linville was hurriedly summoned to attend the injured man. He found four gashes upon the throat, three directly across the larnyx and another and deeper wound at the right side of the throat, but not sufficiently deep to reach the jugular vein. Eighteen stitches were necessary to close the gaping wound, none of which are regarded as serious, and the man will undoubtedly recover. Dr. Linville believes the cutting was done about 1 o'clock this morning. Miles is being cared for at his room, but he declines to discuss the affair in any of its phases. His friends in Fort Wayne were notified of the attempt at suicide.

David Miles, a sidewalk contractor, lives with his son Thomas in the rear of the little home at 1415 Cass street, but neither were at home when a reporter for The Sentinel called there today. From persons in the vicinity, however, it was learned that Mr. Miles has a son William, who has worked at street paving, though the young man has not lived at home for several months. It is believed he is the man who made the attempt upon his own life at Columbia City today.

MARRIED IN TERRE HAUTE.

Fritz Reiman, formerly of this city, and Miss Gertrude Willien, of Terre Haute, were united in marriage at the parsonage of St. Benedict's church, Terre Haute, by Rev. Father Zoeller, Wednesday. The bride is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Willien, and a granddaughter of Mrs. Helen Fleming, of this city. Mr. Reiman was formerly with Rurode & Co., in this city, and now holds a position with Hale Bros., in San Francisco. Mr. and Mrs. Reiman arrived here last night and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Coombs.

NEW STOCK QUOTED WELL.

Stock of the new United Box Board and Paper company, the new corporation created by the merger of many plants, is already at a favorable figure in the market, the preferred being quoted at 63 and the common at 10. A large amount of this stock is held in Fort Wayne, and while the present figures are not materially advanced over the value of the Fort Wayne stock under the old arrangements, local investors are confident it will soon go considerably higher.

RUMOR IS UNFOUNDED.

At various intervals during the past few weeks there have been rumors current upon the street to the effect that Robison park theater was to be closed before the completion of the regular season, and the story has finally broke into print through an Auburn newspaper. General Manager A. L. Scott, of the Fort Wayne Traction company, states that there is absolutely no foundation whatever for such a report, and he is unable to say how the story could have gained currency. Early in the season, owing to bad weather almost continuously, the park business was very light, and the management undoubtedly lost some money. With the more favorable weather of July, however, there came a gratifying increase in the business that has been steadily maintained, and the park is now enjoying the largest patronage of the year. Mr. Scott gives positive assurance that the park season will be continued as formerly, as late in the season as the weather will permit.

FOUND HIM DEAD IN HIS BED

PAUL BAUMANN DIES SUDDENLY AT SHRINER LAKE.

Had Been Cooking for a Party of Fort Wayne Fishermen—Will Bring Remains Here.

(From Thursday's Daily.)

Paul Baumann, 43 years of age, a member of battery B and well known about town, was found dead in bed in a cottage at Shriner lake, nine miles north of Columbia City, at an early hour this morning. Coroner Williams, of Whitley county, in company with an undertaker from Columbia City, were summoned and will bring the body to the Whitley county capital for shipment to Fort Wayne.

Baumann's death was totally unexpected. For the past week he had been at Shriner lake as cook for a party of Fort Wayne young men who were there for an outing. During the afternoon Baumann said he "didn't feel right," but his condition was attributed to an over-indulgence in intoxicants, and was not believed to be at all serious. Later in the day he vomited considerably, and this lent weight to the previous opinion that liquor was the cause of his indisposition.

The party had arranged to return home last evening, and when they left the camp at 6 o'clock Baumann was sleeping, his respiration being regular and apparently natural. They asked Wesley Hire, an employe at the lake, to look after the man, giving the cottage owner money with which to drive Baumann to Columbia City this morning and send him home. The first intimation that Baumann's condition might be at all serious came this morning in a telephone message from the lake to the effect that the man had been found dead in bed. It is said Baumann was seen alive at 9 o'clock last evening and the report from the coroner's investigations today is to the effect that evidence of heart trouble was very pronounced. The authorities were directed to prepare the body for burial and forward it to Fort Wayne.

Baumann came to Fort Wayne eighteen or twenty years ago. He was a dyer by occupation, and at different times conducted establishments in the Lau building and on East Main street. He was also in business at Bluffton for a short time. He was a German by birth, served his time in the army in his native country, and when the Spanish-American war began he enlisted in the Twenty-eighth battery, being detailed as a cook. Since his return from the south he has worked at odd jobs, doing some cleaning of clothes and at other times acting as porter at saloons. He had a room on East Main street, and was known to indulge in liquor to a considerable extent. It is said he took a canteen of whisky with him to the lake, but the campers do not believe he drank much of the stuff until the day he knew camp was to be broken.

Coroner Williams reached Columbia City with the remains shortly before noon today, and it is expected that the body will reach Fort Wayne this evening. The funeral will probably be under the direction of battery B.

IT NEEDS A TONIC.

There are times when your liver needs a tonic. Don't give purgatives that gripe and weaken. DeWitt's Little Early Risers expel all poison from the system and act as tonic to the liver. W. UNUSUAL CHARGE

LEO MAN UNDER ARRREST FOR BARROTRY.

HUGH CAIN MUST ANSWER

OFFENSE CONSISTS OF MISCHIEF MAKING.

AN INCITER OF LAWSUITS

C. F. BOEHM, A SALOONKEEPER, SWEARS TO AFFIDAVIT.

A quite unusual case has developed in Justice Huser's court through the arrest Thursday of Hugh Cain of Leo on the charge of barrotry. This offense in common language consists in being a mischief-maker between neighbors and others to the extent of inducing and agitating them to go to law with each other, either in civil or criminal proceedings. The arrest was made by Deputy Constable Roepke, the warrant being sworn out by Christian F. Boehm, recently a defendant in several prosecutions of various nature, said to have been instignated by Cain. The warrant sets out that on and about July 2, and at divers other times, the said Cain "was and yet is a common barrotor, and then and there did frequently excite, stir up and encourage quarrels and law suits against citizens of said state, Indiana, to the common nuisance of all the inhabitants, contrary to the form of the statute and the peace and dignity of the state, etc."

Cain keeps a sort of drug store at Leo and Boehm runs a saloon. The case was set for hearing next Monday at 10 o'clock, and in the meantime Cain is out on a bond of $300. If found guilty of the charge by the justice of the peace, he must be bound over to the circuit court for final trial and judgment, as the penalty includes a jail sentence as well as a heavy fine. The arrest created a good sized sensation in Leo, where the community is stirred up over the saloon litigations.

TO ENJOIN SOUTHWESTERN

BIG FOUR FILES PETITION AT WABASH.

Hill Street Crossing in Dispute, But Attorneys Believe It Will Be Adjusted.

Wabash, Ind., Aug. 7.—Application was made to Judge Shively, of the Wabash circuit court, yesterday, by the Big Four Railway company for an injunction restraining the Fort Wayne and Southwestern Traction company from building its line across the Big Four track at Hill street crossing, this city. The Southwestern has not undertaken to construct the crossing and General Manager Nelson, of the Southwestern, promised General Counsel Dye, of the Big Four, that he would give the latter twenty-four hours' notice of an attempt to build over. In spite of this the Big Four has asked for the injunction.

General Manager Nelson is not in the city today, but Judge Olds, one of the attorneys for the Southwestern company, stated today that he had no information as to the filing of the suit for injunction at Wabash. He said, however, that a number of conferences with the Big Four regarding the Hill street crossing had been held, and he believed the matter would be adjusted without difficulty.

PAPERS CONSOLIDATE.

Wabash, Ind., Aug. 7.—The North Manchester Journal, for many years owned by S. V. Hopkins, ex-member of the legislature from this county, who died some time ago, and which is now conducted by his son, Lloyd Hopkins, and the Tribune, owned by W. E. Billings, were consolidated yesterday and the combined newspaper will be known as the Journal. After the issue of the present week the paper will be issued from the Tribune office, Messrs. Hopkins and Billings being equally interested in the consolidated property. Both were republican weeklies, but the field has been crowded for two papers.

WILL MANUFACTURE CANDY

NEW COMPANY BEING FORMED IN THIS CITY.

Messrs. Thomas Lau, Joe Heit and Joe Miller at Head of the New Concern.

Within a few months an independent candy manufactory will be in operation in this city and a company is now being formed by several gentlemen who have had considerable experience in the business. They are Messrs. Thomas Lau, Joseph Heit and Joseph Miller, of the Fox bakery, and they have tendered their resignations, to take effect in ten days.

A number of prominent business men will be stockholders in the new company and the financial backing will be ample. It is the intention to capitalize the concern at not less than $25,000 and probably considerably above that figure. The concern will manufacture candy exclusively, and will not enter the bakery business, as announced in the morning paper.

A number of very desirable locations are in view, but no definite action with regard to selecting a building will be taken until after an organization is effected. Nearly all the required stock has been subscribed and a meeting of stockholders will be held soon when a company will be formed. The factory will be equipped with the most up-to-date machinery and at the start will give employment to about twenty-five people.

THE EXCURSION TO NIAGARA FALLS

SOME HISTORIC PARTY FEUDS

FAMOUS SPLITS IN POLITICAL ORGANIZATIONS WHICH HAVE CAUSED WEAKNESS AND DISASTER.

(St. Louis Globe-Democrat.)

Neither in its duration nor in its consequences has the present factional strife in the democracy been as disastrous as have been some of the party feuds of the past. All parties, the republican as well as the others, have had factional vandettas. Some parties have been annihilated thereby. It will be convenient to consider that the present divergencies between the different elements of the democracy began in 1896. It is, of course, true that there was discord in the democracy on the silver question, the issue which caused the split in that party in 1896, long before that year. But the same was the case with the republicans. Each party divided on that question at the outset, and the division was maintained until 1900. It may reasonably be assumed that the two successive defeats of the democratic party—in 1896 and 1900—on that issue, and the passage of the act of March 14, 1900, giving a formal legal sanction to the gold standard, has taken the silver question out of politics, though a hostile congress and president could repeal that act and introduce the silver standard.

The division in the democratic and republican parties on silver began to reveal itself in 1877, during the first term of President Hayes' extra sessions of congress, when, on November 5, Richard P. Bland, from the committee on coinage, moved to suspend the rules and pass a bill directing the coinage of silver dollars of the weight of 412½ grains of standard silver, such as was provided by the act of January 18, 1837, the coins to be a legal tender at their face value for all debts, except where otherwise provided by contracts, the bill providing that any owner of silver bullion might deposit the same at any mint of the United States to be coined into such dollars for his benefit, on the same terms as gold. The motion was agreed to by a vote of 164 (67 republicans and 97 democrats) to 34 (24 republicans and 10 democrats). When William B. Allison, however, reported the bill to the senate on November 21 it was changed from the free coinage form which it had when it passed the house, and provided for a limited coinage ($2,000,000 to $4,000,000 of silver bullion a month, the $2,000,000 being compulsory), the profit from the coinage to go into the treasury and not, as in Bland's bill, into the pockets of the bullion owners. This measure passed the senate by a vote of 48 (24 republicans, 23 democrats and 1 independent) to 21 (14 republicans and 7 democrats). It was accepted by the house, though after a long fight against it by Bland, who stood out for free coinage, went to the president, was vetoed by him on February 28, 1878, and was passed over his veto on the same day by a vote of 196 (77 republicans and 119 democrats) to 73 (51 republicans and 22 democrats) in the house and by 46 (20 republicans, 25 democrats and 1 independent) to 19 (10 republicans and 9 democrats) in the senate, becoming a law on that day.

It will be noticed that both the republicans and democrats were divided on the question of remonetization of silver in 1877-78, when the first silver act was passed, after the discontinuance of the coinage of the silver dollar by the act of 1873, though more republicans than democrats were against the remonetization. A large section of the republican party remained favorable to silver coinage onward from 1877, and part of this section wanted free coinage. This was never so large, however, as was the corresponding element of the democracy, and while, with some fluctuations, the republican silverites diminished in number and influence in the end, those of the democracy, also with some variations, grew until, in 1896-1900, they took possession of the party machinery and nominated its tickets. Thus, while each party, the republican as well as the democratic, was divided against itself on silver from the early part of the Hayes administration, the division ended, so far as regards the republicans, in the latter part of Clevelands' second term, by the elimination of the silver element. At the same time the silver men got control of the democracy and held it through two national campaigns.

On February 13, 1890, four republican senators—Teller of Colorado, Carter and Mantle of Montana, and Dubois of Idaho—voted against the attempt of the republicans to take up the Dingley tariff and revenue bill. If these republicans had voted with their party the attempt to bring up that bill would have been defeated, but the fact that they went against it on the republican question of protection gave the defeat a portentious significance. It meant that, in the opinion of an element of the republicans, silver remonetization was more immediately vital than protection, and that nothing short of a surrender to the free coiners would get their support for even tariff legislation. On February 14 the republicans gave their answer to this demand.

On that day the Dingley bond issue bill, which had already passed the house, but which had been changed in the senate to a free silver bill, came back to the house with this silver rider, and that republican body buried it under a majority of 125. The revolt of the four republicans in the democratic senate on February 13, 1896, was the silverites' challenge to a trial of strength with the republican party on that issue. The overwhelming defeat in the republican house on February 14 of the senate's free coinage rider to the republican bond bill was the republicans' response to that defiance.

The battle ground was now shifted to the hall of the republican national convention in St. Louis, four months later. The election of Teller, Carter, Mantle, Dubois, Pettigrew, Cannon and other silver leaders as delegates to the republican convention was a warning from the mining states that tariff and all other sorts of legislation would be made subservient to silver. The convention's contest on silver was the one which attracted the country's attention. It was seen several weeks before the convention met that McKinley would be nominated for president. The tariff declaration of the convention could be easily guessed at, and, in fact, aroused no interest. The real fight was to come on silver. The majority of the platform committee prepared a currency plank, which recited that the republican party was "opposed to the free coinage of silver except by international agreement with the leading commercial nations of the world," an agreement which gold men and silver men alike knew never could be got, and added that "until such an agreement can be obtained the existing gold standard must be preserved."

Here was the first specific declaration (repeated even more emphatically in 1900) ever made by the republican party in a national convention against the free coinage of silver and in favor of the maintenance of the gold standard, and no other great party has ever made such a declaration. Senator Teller presented a free silver substitute for this plank, but it was laid on the table by a vote of 818½ to 105½, and the majority's plank was then adopted by a vote of 812½ to 110½, after which the entire platform was adopted by a viva voce vote. Then Senator Cannon read the silverites' protest against the gold standard declaration, at the close of which he and Senator Teller, followed by Senator Dubois, Representative Hartman, of Montana, and about twenty other silverites left the hall amid the wildest scenes ever enacted in a republican convention and one of the greatest "walk-outs" which ever took place in a national political assemblage was over. The democratic convention in Chicago three weeks later, after a hard fight in which the eastern element was overthrown, declared for the free coinage of silver "without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation." This was the democracy's answer to the republican challenge at St. Louis. There was a "walk-out" in the democracy, too, though it came after the convention. Every party, small as well as great, had a schism in 1896 on the silver issue. The feud in the democracy, after six years of duration, is still under way, but there is not the faintest reason to suppose that its convention of 1904 will indorse the silver blunder of 1896 and 1900. The split in the republican party was shorter in duration and less harmful in results.

For the republicans a more serious split occurred a quarter of a century earlier than the fight on the floor of the McKinley convention in St. Louis. This was the one which led to the liberal republican revolt of 1872. Soon after the secession war the republicans' overwhelming majorities in both branches of congress began to be diminished by defections from their ranks. Seven republican senators—William P. Fessenden, of Maine; J. W. Grimes, of Iowa; J. S. Fowler, of Tennessee; Peter G. Van Winkle, of West Virginia; Edmund G. Ross, of Kansas; Lyman Trumbull, of Illinois, and John B. Henderson, of Missouri—went against the rest of their party in the vote on May 16, 1868, in which they, uniting with the democrats, saved President Johnson from conviction and removal. James R. Doolittle, of Wisconsin, had gone out of the party before that time and entered no more republican caucuses. Many other republicans left their party on one phase or other of the general reconstruction policy which was put forward or on some other issue connected therewith. The seceders, comprising Horace Greeley, John M. Palmer, George W. Julian, Benjamin Gratz Brown, David Davis, Jacob D. Cox, Charles Francis Adams, Carl Schurz, Cassius M. Clay and many others who had been among the party's founders and leaders, put up a ticket (Greeley and Brown) in 1872 which the democrats accepted, together with the platform which the liberal republicans framed. The coalition was beaten in the canvass, Grant being re-elected by a great majority. Moreover, many of the seceders went back among the republicans before the next presidential contest.

Nevertheless, the republicans were injured by that revolt in a way that their leaders did not foresee at the time. The democrats, through their temporary league with the republican seceders, were forced to stop fighting on the questions which the war had settled, were compelled to take that new departure which Vallandigham sounded in 1871, were placed in a position to take advantage of the anti-republican conditions of 1873-76 and thus gained the victory in the congressional elections of 1874 and almost won one in the presidential contest of 1876. That democratic victory on congress

DAYS OF DOG MADNESS

One-half common sense, mixed with the same quantity of humanity, and administered by dog owners in allopathic doses, will help decrease the mad dog scares. Unless disease lurks in a dog's system, plenty of fresh water, quiet, judicious feeding and an absence of exciting conditions will bring the animal safely through a hot season.

The dog owner who allows his dog to follow a bicycle or a horse for endless miles when he seeks the sylvan retreats of the country is laying an excellent foundation for dog fits. An overheated dog suffers as does a man from sunstroke, and is far more of a menace to mankind in general.

The poor, homeless curs that roam the streets, hounded from place to place by thoughtless boys, kicked, pounded, scalded, starved by the people to whom they would attach themselves, are the ones most liable to "go mad," and the policeman's bullet mercifully ends a life of misery.

When asked how to treat a dog supposed to be mad, one who knows declares the best way to treat any strange dog, sick or well, is to keep out of his way. This proves that the wild scramble at the cry of "mad dog" is fully justified, even though there be those in the fleeing crowd who knows the animal is not mad.

Hydrophobia is a word that chills the blood. Its horrors often and vividly have been depicted. Some eminent medical men say it exists, others that it is only imaginary.

"When doctors disagree," it is not always easy to prove one's case outside of one's own opinion. Enough physicians have agreed that hydrophobia is a dread reality to make every one, young or old, avoid its cause. Yet, should one be bitten by a suspected dog, it is well that some preventives should be known. It is in the Pasteur treatment that most faith is placed. Still, the Pasteur treatment has its enemies. By many great men it is said that the number of deaths from hydrophobia have increased rather than decreased since the Pasteur discovery.

A PHYSICIAN HEALED.

Dr. Geo. Ewing, a practicing physician of Smith's Grove, Ky., for over thirty years, writes his personal experience with Foley's Kidney Cure: "For years I had been greatly bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and enlarged prostrate gland. I used everything known to the profession without relief, until I commenced to use Foley's Kidney Cure. After taking three bottles I was entirely relieved and cured. I prescribe it now daily in my practice and heartily recommend its use to all physicians for such troubles. I have prescribed it in hundreds of cases with perfect success." OBJECTED TO STYLE.

Secretary of War Root, while on his way to the commencement at Hamilton college, stopped at a hotel in a little New York town, where he is well known, says an exchange. He called on some women whom he knew as a boy and they asked him if he was comfortable at the hotel. "Oh, yes," he said, "but I would like a bath and they haven't one." "Go way, sir," said one of the women, "you're putting on style since you got in the cabinet. You go out to Cedar Run and take a swim, as you did when a boy."

"I had diabetes in its worst form," writes Marion Lee, of Dunreath, Ind. "I tried eight physicians without relief. Only three bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made me a well man." Sold by Dreier & Bro. and Pellens & Polster.

TALISMAN OF OAJACA.

Great Emerald Guarded With a Superstitious Reverence by Mexican Indians.

For years—ever since Mexico was opened to the white man—every traveler to that romantic land has heard of the emerald of Oajaca. Rumor said that it was huge almost beyond belief; whatever its size, it was certain that the Indians believed in its magic properties. No white man ever saw it; but now an American woman has succeeded, through a sister woman's gratitude, where men found failure.

This emerald of Oajaca has for ages been the object of covetous interest on the part of Spanish viceroys, Mexican presidents and provincial governors. Great dealers in precious stones have sought it, too, but the Indians, as the lineal descendants of the Aztecs, to whom the emerald is supposed to have originally belonged, hold it in superstitious reverence and such safe-keeping that, until recent years, little but unconfirmed legend of the stone's existence was known.

A few years ago President Diaz became so interested in the matter that he decided to prove the truth or fallacy of the reports of this emerald's size and value. Without warning, he suddenly appeared in the village where it was said the gem was secreted. He summoned the people into the plaza, and announced that if they would show him the emerald known to be in their possession he would in return proclaim a public holiday and entertain them with a pista at his own expense. He promised, as president, and by virtue of the same blood in his and their veins, that if they would accede to his request he would not attempt to take the emerald from them. Upon this a prolonged consultation ensued among the Indians, the result of which was that from afar off in the crowd one of them held up at arm's length between his forefinger and thumb the famous emerald, scintillating in the rays of the sun. Diaz was desirous of a closer inspection, and, turning to his guards, ordered the man to be brought to him. His actions, if not his words, were at once considered by the Indians to be suspicious. So they promptly raised a tumult, and amid shouts of "Viva Porfirio Diaz," "Viva La Fiesta," the man and the emerald disappeared, and this was the only glimpse the powerful president was able to obtain of it.

An American woman had better fortune. It happened that her husband was appointed to superintend the medical department of the railroad being built through Oajaca, and incidentally saved the life of an Indian woman. In her gratitude this woman begged to be allowed to make some recompense, as the American doctor had refused to accept a fee. But half in jest he replied that if she would show him the Oajaca emerald he would be satisfied. At this the woman seemed greatly disturbed. She at first declared she knew nothing about it, but on being pressed further by the doctor's wife she admitted knowing where it was hidden. Finally she agreed that if the doctor would solemnly promise to absent himself she would obtain the stone and show it to his wife. For some unexplained reason she held so steadfastly to this point, that the wife must be alone when the emerald was produced, that it was yielded, though much to the doctor's disappointment.

So one morning shortly after the Indian woman appeared at the physician's temporary residence. She made sure that the doctor's wife and herself were alone; then she produced the emerald from a fold of her clothing. For about a minute only was the doctor's wife permitted to inspect the gem, while it was held securely in the Indian woman's fingers. In size, according to the fortunate visitor's account, the stone is as large as a pigeon's egg, crudely polished, and of a rich, grass green color. In its depths she noticed a few black spots or flaws, which goes far to prove that it is a genuine emerald and not volcanic glass, as has been suggested. The purest emeralds are seldom without flaws, this being one of the tests taken into account by experts.

In great haste the Indian woman again secreted the gem and went out; but one curious circumstance the doctor and his wife remarked subsequently. During the remainder of their stay in the village, though they met the woman several times, neither by word nor sign would she recognize their previous relations. She treated them as absolute strangers. To her mind the risk she had run in showing the talisman of her tribe was full compensation for the service rendered. The general belief is that the stone is not secreted in any place, but is concealed on the person of one of the Indians, and passed on as circumstances may require. If such is the case, the woman must have obtained the gem by stealth, and during the time it was in her possession she was doubtless in no little danger of her life.

THE END OF AN OLD CASE.

Judge Bunn of the federal court of the western district of Wisconsin, has handed down a decision dismissing the complaint in the two million dollar suit of Albert C. Gunnison, George A. Bright and Howard J. Foraker, all of New York city, against the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Railroad company, and G. Hilton Scribner, trustee. The suit grew out of the mortgage given on October 24, 1864, by the old Milwaukee and Minnesota Railroad company to James H. Fonda and G. Hilton Scribner, as trustees, to secure an issue of bonds in the amount of $600,000, the mortgage being on the ninety-five miles of railroad running from Milwaukee to Portage. The suit was brought to recover the value of these bonds and interest at 8 per cent. from the time they were issued, nearly thirty-eight years ago, making the aggregate amount involved over two million dollars. The decision is in favor of the road.—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

CHILD-LABOR INIQUITY

The result of two inquiries recently made into the extent and evils of child labor in the cotton states of the south come almost as a shock even to those who have given the matter some study, says the Chicago Post.

The Alabama committee on the employment of children in factories has just published a pamphlet entitled: "The Case Against Child Labor." It may be said just here that the case is a particularly strong one, showing widespread abuses that it is difficult to believe can exist in this land of freedom.

According to the statistics given the number of children under 16 years of age employed in the southern cotton factories increased 140.9 per cent in the decade ending in 1880 and 106.5 per cent between 1880 and 1890. Between 1890 and 1900 the increase was 270.7 per cent! The average wage of the child, meanwhile, has decreased from thirty-two to twenty-nine cents a day in North Carolina. In some places in the south the daily wage is as low as nine cents a day, and this for twelve hours of labor!

Of the 45,044 textile operatives in North Carolina 7,996 are under 14 years of age. In all it is estimated that there are at least 22,000 child victims of this iniquitous system in the mills of the south, owned and operated largely by northern capitalists, and that from 9,000 to 10,000 of these children are under the age of 12. In other words fully one-fourth of the employes of these factories are children, "earning"—save the mark!—from twenty-nine cents down to nine cents, by putting half their young lives, and blood, and health, all of their happiness and their future as citizens—should they live long enough—into the hopper of industrial greed!

The Dry Goods Economist of New York, believing the stories about southern child labor too highly colored, sent a representative to investigate. He was forced to admit that the actual situation is shamefully bad, and he places the responsibility upon the mill owners and the parents.

He asked one typical parent of the "poor white" variety why he lived in idleness drawing $36 every fortnight from the labor of his wife and children. "That's my business, sah," was the "cracker's" characteristic answer. And he added: "The boys are mine till they're 21, and the girls till 18, an' the law will uphold me in my rights."

But have the children no rights at all which this law will uphold? If not, then let us hang our heads in shame and quit boasting of our civilization and progress.

Nine cents a day in exchange for childhood! How low has industry fallen that such a thing can be in a Christian land!

It is with joy I tell you what Kodol did for me. I was troubled with my stomach for several months. Upon being advised to use Kodol, I did so, and words cannot tell the good it has done me. NEW LIGHT ON THE MONKEY

PROFESSOR GARNER, WHO HAS TALKED WITH THEM, RETURNS FROM THE JUNGLE AGAIN.

R. L. Garner, the Boston man who lived in a cage in the heart of an African jungle in order to learn the language of the monkeys and to observe their ways and manners in their native haunts, made quite a sensation when he got back to America and reported his discoveries, says a London letter. In 1900 he disappeared again, and now, after an absence of two years, he has suddenly turned up in London, full of more strange stories. It seems he has been spending the intervening time in heart-to-heart talks with his old jungle companions on the French Congo, some twenty miles back from the coast and about seventy miles south of the equator.

The name of the village was Mkeba and Garner had the fun of being called the "white king" of the town, to whom the natives paid tribute in the form of cooking, washing and general attendance, and to whom he distributed largesse in the form of an occasional small chunk of tobacco, a few beads or a little cloth and occasional portions of buffalo meat.

"For five months," said Mr. Garner, "I went without having a morsel of bread or seeing a white man. The only variation from buffalo meat was manioc—a kind of root that looks like sumach boiled into a paste. Tired of it? Heavens, yes! All the same, I am going back there soon for a year or two, and maybe forever. There is fun in being a king, even if your chef is a little hampered in making out his menu. Breakfast, buffalo meat and manioc; luncheon, plain manioc; dinner, first course, manioc, second course, buffalo meat, with once in awhile a fish for a great delicacy.

PYTHONS AND BUFFALO.

"It took a good deal of hunting to provide myself and the natives with enough of this buffalo meat, and it was hunting of the kind you don't read about—wallowing through marsh after marsh, sometimes up to your neck in slimy, dirty, nasty water. That wouldn't have been so bad if it were not for the pythons. I had made a leaf cup and was bending over to get a drink out of a spring one day when my guide yelled to me not to move. Then it was that I discovered a python's head sticking up right in front of me waiting for me. It was only a little serpent, fourteen or fifteen feet long, but he was big enough to have made an end of me if I had moved a muscle. My guide cut the reptile in two with a knife. It wasn't five minutes afterward before we came across another one twenty feet long.

"The buffaloes were ugly customers, too—worst you ever struck in your life—not the old style of American bison, but a particularly ferocious and dangerous animal which would like nothing better than to tear you to pieces with his horns. My first experience with one excited me a little, I confess. The brute charged me four times, coming down like a whirlwind. I dodged among the date palms like a Spanish bull fighter. Every time he stopped to take his bearings I'd shoot. The fourth time I killed him.

"Monkeys? Yes, I am coming to them. I spent most of my time with them, day after day alone with them in the forest. I thought I had learned about all there was to know concerning our reputed ancestors on my two previous sojourns in the African jungles, but I was mistaken.

SIMIAN KITCHENERS.

"It would appear that there are some excellent generals in the monkey army. I have heard the chief of the band make a curious sound, with the result that one of his followers, manifestly a sentry, posted off in one direction, and at a repetition of the sound another would post off in another direction; then a slightly different order and every one of the mothers and children would retreat. Another word of command and the half-grown ones would fall back. Finally, the adults would be sent away, one by one, and last of all the old man himself would disappear. Usually it was some particular monkey that responded to a particular call exactly as if he had been singled out by name. The others would not pay the slightest attention until their turn came.

"In traveling order you can always see the leader and the two pickets. Where I was the bands usually ranged from ten up to fifty or sixty, and I never yet saw them move without having pickets out. I am convinced that their chiefs are chosen by election, and the natives have told me that they have actually seen the election palaver. Some of the tribes seem to prefer their oldest inhabitant for a chief, but on the other hand I have seen comparatively young leaders.

"Bands of the same species rarely attack each other, although, of course, the individuals fight often enough. I have seen two bands come together and mix so completely that the leaders themselves couldn't tell which from the other. At a word from the chiefs the bands would disentangle without an instant's confusion and go their separate ways.

"So far as I have observed the monkeys are, in some respects, rather ahead of some varieties of the human brother. Watching them as long as I have I couldn't always be sure of telling one animal from another, but I am inclined to think that the male monkey cleaves to one wife. However strong their inclinations in the direction of polygamy, the sexes are so evenly divided that if the man of monkey society undertook to have more than one wife he would get into trouble. The natives tell me that the monkeys change wives occasionally, but I have never been able to get any proof of it.

QUEER COURTSHIPS.

"The courtship is funny and rivalry for the hand of the tribe beauty often leads to some gorgeous combats. She betrays her choice without much ceremony. It would make a man with the slightest sense of humor laugh out loud all alone there in the heart of the forest to see her prink and pose upon a limb. She even brushes her hair—I have seen the males do that, too—and when the object of her tender passion approaches she slides away with much mock modesty. She wants him to come, but she doesn't want him to think so.

"My monkey friends don't take any stock in woman suffrage, so far as I can discover. The female attends strictly to her business of minding the baby. The male does the fighting and 'makes the laws.' There is a baby a year and never more than one at a time. The mother carries the infant four or five months and after that he shifts for himself. I should judge that the girls turn their thoughts to matrimony at the age of three or four years and would be considered to have reached a great age if they got past ten years. There are so many varieties, however, that it is hard to make generalizations, and I am speaking only for the tribes of which I made a special study on this last trip.

"I have learned several new words and have found that the monkeys convey more ideas than I had formerly supposed. The definiteness of the leaders' commands surprised me. I suspect that my friends have specific names for some things. They may not have a word for 'banana' or 'apple,' but they pretty certainly have a word for 'fruit.' I have seen a band eating palm nuts, all except one fellow who had wandered away and found some choice delicacy in the way of insects. At his call with a particular sound they would all hurry over in his direction. But if he makes approximately the same sound when he, too, is eating palm nuts, his neighbors will not even take the trouble to look up.

MONKEY RELIGION.

"Yes, you may have asked the question about monkey religion satirically, but there is more in it than you have thought, for you can really credit them with some of the elements of religion. They certainly have some sense of right and wrong. I never saw a big monkey take anything away from a little one that was of the same species. If a little monkey and a big monkey each hold in their hands a desirable-looking nut, and a third monkey comes along with an eye on one of those nuts, I have observed repeatedly that he will try to get it away from the big one rather than from the little one. Furthermore, they show a sign of superstition. They are afraid of their own shadows. The monkey who will growl most ferociously at the approach of a member of another tribe will tremble and creep away as much terrified at a glimpse of his own shadow as if he had seen a spook.

I have also discovered that the monkeys played games that looks for all the world like a game every child has played. Often a dozen or fifteen take part in it, up in a tree—one in one fork and another holding another place. Suddenly they squeal and all change places. They do it over and over again, manifestly with great glee. I never saw the game result in a fight."

MONKEYS AS SERVANTS.

I asked Mr. Garner is he ever had considered the possibility of the monkey's being made useful to man.

"Yes," he said, "and I once made a list of things he might do. The great difficulty of making him of any real use is his insubordination—his dislike of restraint. He can't be trained to do anything without watching. He is more intelligent than other animals, and it is no trick at all to make him understand what you want him to do, and he'll do it just as long as he supposes that it is in the way of play, but the moment he understands it's a duty he wants to drop it. You will notice in any performance by trained monkeys

WITH PAPER KNIFE

WALTER STEBBINGS KILLED WALTER SCOTT.

MURDER IN CHICAGO OFFICE

MILLIONAIRE SLAIN IN FIGHT WITH ENGINEER.

DISPUTED OVER ACCOUNTS

MURDERER OVERCOME BY THE ENOMITY OF DEED.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Walter A. Scott, president of the Illinois Wire Co., was stabbed to death in the Monadnock building today by Walter L. Stebbings, a civil and consulting engineer with offices in the same building. Stebbings used a paper knife, stabbing Scott twice.

The stabbing occurred in Mr. Scott's private office. Mr. Stebbings had done some work for the Illinois Wire company over which there had been a dispute. The two had a quarrel and Stebbings, it is said, called Scott a liar. There was a scuffle and the two burst from the private office with blood flwing from Scott's wounds. Stebbings made no attempt to escape.

Stebbings, when arrested, said he had struck Scott in self-defense and that he had not intended injuring him seriously. The fight was witnessed by Miss Myrtle Shumate, a stenographer in Scott's office, who ran screaming into the hall. Occupants of other offices notified the police, who placed Stebbings under arrest.

DISPUTED OVER A CLAIM.

According to Miss Shumate's story the two men were in Scott's private office for nearly an hour, disputing over a claim for $3,000. Suddenly the door was thrown open and the men staggered into the outer office, kicking each other and using their fists. Stebbings held the long steel paper knife in his right hand and the weapon could be seen flashing as the men struggled. Suddenly Stebbings struck Scott in the body. The blow was repeated a moment later. Scott staggered backward and finally fell to the floor. He died within half an hour.

Mr. Scott was 43 years of age and lived at the Virginia hotel. He leaves a widow and one son, who are at present in the east. Mr. Scott was recently president and owner of the Marshfield and Southeastern railroad and owner of the Scott Lumber company and controlled a large amount of real estate. He was reputed to be a millionaire.

MURDERER OVERCOME.

When told later that Scott was dead, Stebbings turned pale. Had not a policeman caught him he would have fallen from his chair. Finally, he controlled himself enough to speak.

"Dead!" he exclaimed. "I cannot realize it. I did not mean to kill him. I was opening a letter with the paper knife. He struck me. I hardly know what happened after that. I did not even know that I had stabbed him. I thought I had only knocked him down."

ANOTHER MYSTERIOUS DEATH

BODY OF MAN FOUND ON THE PRAIRIE IN CHICAGO.

Thought to Be Young Bartholin, Who is Believed to Be Murderer of Minnie Mitchell.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Another mysterious death, which the police think may have a connection with the supposed murder of Minnie Mitchell, whose dead body was found in a vacant lot at Seventy-fourth and State streets Thursday night, was brought to light early today by the finding of the dead body of an unidentified man in the woods at Ninety-fourth street and Winchester avenue. The man had evidently shot himself in the mouth, as two chambers of the revolver found beside him had been discharged. From descriptions the police are working on the theory that the body is that of William Bartholin, the fiancee of Minnie Mitchell, who disappeared some time after the young woman was missing. Mrs. Bartholin, the supposed suicide's mother, disappeared shortly before her son and has not been found.

POLICE PERPLEXED.

The police were able to throw little or no light upon the mystery of the finding of the dead bodies after working on several theories all morning. The field at Seventy-fourth and State streets was mown with the view of finding the body of Mrs. Bartholin, who is thought to have been done away with. Some doubt arose as to the identity of the young woman's body because of its condition of advanced mortification. For a time it was thought that it couldn't be that of Minnie Mitchell, inasmuch as only eight days have elapsed since her disappearance. Reputable undertakers, however, stated that the rains of the past week could have worked the decomposition.

REMAINS IDENTIFIED.

Mr. Mitchell and two of his daughters identified all the articles of woman's wearing apparel that had been found near the body as belonging to his daughter, and ordered the body kept until Monday, when it will be buried. This action strengthened the police in their theory of murder.

The body of the man found in the woods farther south is said now to be a man much older than Bartholin. Efforts are being made to find Bartholin. A search was made at his home today and a dead body, supposed to be that of a dog, was found under the floor of the basement. The coincidence started the story that Mrs. Bartholin's body had been found. The police were sure it was a dog and had it buried in the yard.

CALLS HER SONS FORGERS.

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 8.—William K. Hodson, of Chicago, son of the late Charles G. Hodson, was arrested yesterday afternoon on the charge of forgery. His brother, Benjamin Hodson, is also wanted, but the police have not been able to find him. It is suspected that he left for Philadelphia early yesterday afternoon. The arrest of William K. Hodson was opportune, as he had completed arrangements to leave the city last evening. He will have a hearing today before Police Judge George G. Feldman. Hodson was arrested on complaint of his mother, Mrs. Rebecca Hodson, of 708 South Michigan street. She discovered, she said, that her son had forged her name to notes to the amount of $5,500 and to a mortgage of $2,000, covering her Michigan street home.

The young woman planted an American flag on the topmost course of brick and sang the "Star Spangled Banner." Then she named the stack "Dorothy," and was safely lowered to the ground. Five thousand people watched the ceremony.

SOME HISTORIC PARTY FUEDS.

in 1874, the first which that party gained since 1856, broke the spell of republican invincibility, weakened the republicans in the presidential campaign of 1876 and aided in some degree in beating them in 1884, when Cleveland, the first democrat since Buchanan, carried the country. Cleveland was aided materially in that year by another republican vendetta, that of 1881-84 between the Conkling and Blaine elements of the party, which had for one of its manifestations the defeat of the republican candidate, Folger, for governor of New York in 1882, in which Cleveland won by a lead of almost 193,000. That contest gave him the prestige which gained him the presidential candidacy two years later, and the effects of that Conkling feud helped to elect him then.

In the factional vendetta which took place immediately before these republican feuds of 1872 and 1881-84 it was the democratic party that was hit. That was the fight which culminated in the split in the Charleston national convention of 1860, and which helped to put that party out of power, and to keep it out for almost a quarter of a century. When Douglas put through his Kansas-Nebraska bill of 1854 which repealed the Missouri compromise of 1820 and gave slavery a chance to get into territory from which it was excluded by that adjustment, the series of events was started which made a rupture between the northern and southern ends of the democracy certain. The fight between the pro-slaveryites and the free state men for the possession of Kansas, which began with the passage of the act of 1854 organizing Kansas and Nebraska as territories, was certain to anger tens of thousands of the northern section of the party responsible for that law. When the president, Buchanan, elected by that party in 1856, took the side of the slavery men in the Kansas contest and attempted to force upon the people of Kansas the pro-slavery Lecompton constitution, against the will of an undoubted majority of the people of the territory, a powerful element of the northern democracy rose in revolt, and the leader of the insurgents was Douglas himself, the author of the Kansas territorial act. Douglas remained in his party, and so did most of the men in his party in congress who supported the republicans in 1858 in the fight against the Lecompton charter. But Douglas' course in that contest rendered his acceptance by the southern end of the democracy in the convention two years later impossible. In the Charleston convention of 1860 there was a fight between the northern and southern sections of the democracy on platform and ticket, which resulted in the longest and most exciting convention ever held by a great party, which forced a rupture between the two elements, and which put two democratic tickets, nominated by conventions held outside of Charleston, in the field, the northern headed by Douglas and the southern by Breckinridge. Republican success, which probably would have come in that year even if the democrats had remained united, was rendered certain by the smash-up at Charleston. Secession, civil war and the expulsion of the democracy from power in the presidency from the retirement of Buchanan in 1861 to the accession of Cleveland in 1885 all dated from that fateful wreck in the convention of 1860.

The whig party of 1834-54 never had the discipline or cohesiveness of the democratic or republican party, although it won two (in 1840 and 1848) presidential canvasses in its twenty years of existence. One of these victories, however, that of 1848, was due to a democratic (Barnburner against Hunker) split in the decisive state of New York, which gave that state's electoral vote and the presidency to Zachary Taylor. Unlike the republicans, the whigs had a powerful southern as well as a northern section, but the two wings, while maintaining a modus vivendi on the tariff and internal improvement questions, were diverse on slavery, and when the latter came up in a menacing way the party's annihilation was rendered certain. When it nominated Scott in 1852 on a platform indorsing the fugitive slave law of 1850, tens of thousands of its northern element rejected the platform and tens of thousands of its southern ingredient repudiated the ticket, Scott being supposed to be hostile to slavery. As a consequence, the whigs in 1852 carried only four out of the thirty-four states. When the repeal of the Missouri compromise took place in 1854, which forced the slavery issue to the front, the whig party disappeared, and the republican party, based at the outset on the single issue of hostility to slavery extension into the territories, took its place. The federalist party of Washington, Hamilton, Adams, Jay and the Pinckneys, which had a far more glorious career than did the whig party, fell a victim to feuds and follies which brought the reverses of 1800-16, and then extinction.

BRYAN IS NOT A CANDIDATE.

Muscatine, Iowa, Aug. 9.—William Jennings Bryan will not be a candidate for president in 1904. He made a declaration to that effect yesterday when shown a recent interview in Mason City, which he declared was unreliable. Mr. Bryan was considerably worked up over the reports and said he wanted to settle the matter at once, so there could be no further question. "I will not be a candidate for president in 1904," said Mr. Bryan. "While I would not promise never to be a candidate again under any circumstances, I have no plans looking to the future nomination for any office. I am perfectly content to do my work as a private citizen and enjoy my editorial work. I shall continue to advocate with tongue and pen reforms which I believe to be necessary." From here Mr. Bryan went to Rockford, Ill., speaking there last night.

BURGLARS RESCUE A PAL

BREAK INTO CITY LOCKUP AT UPLAND, IND.

Man Released Had Been Arrested Outside a Store Which His Companions Were Looting.

Indianapolis, Aug. 9.—While making his rounds at midnight, Watchman Stells, of Upland, saw a man acting suspiciously in front of Little's drug store. Upon questioning him the watchman became convinced that the store was being robbed and the stranger was on watch for the burglars. Not daring to make a noise lest the other men escape, Stells marched the stranger off to jail, and then secured assistance and hurried back to the store, but the robbers had escaped and had carried off the money drawer, together with a lot of notions. The man in jail gave his name as Hardy, and admitted that two other men were in the store when he was arrested.

At 3 o'clock, after the jailer had retired, there was a crash at the jail door and it was knocked from its hinges. At the same moment two men entered and released Hardy. The three men hastened from the town. When a posse was organized to pursue them no clew as to the direction taken could be found.

The Upland jail is a frame structure, and is designed only for the temporary incarceration of tramps and men guilty of small offenses, and the door gave way readily under blows from a sledgehammer, which the robbers had secured at a blacksmith shop near by.

AIMS TO PROVE INNOCENCE.

Laporte, Ind., Aug. 9.—James Graybeal, of Michigan City, who was convicted of the murder of William Jones, was released on parole yesterday from the Michigan City prison. Graybeal was convicted after two trials. James Slaybaugh confessed at the first trial that he fired the shot which killed Jones, but at the second trial Slaybaugh charged Graybeal with the crime, and he was convicted and sentenced to thirteen years' imprisonment. Graybeal's attorneys always believed in his innocence, and his father spent a fortune trying to prove his son guiltless of the crime. Graybeal now declares that he will spend his life proving his innocence. Slaybaugh has disappeared, but that fact will not cause Graybeal to relax his efforts to prove his innocence. Slaybaugh and Graybeal lived in close proximity to each other. One night Graybeal was awakened. He went to his door and saw a man standing near the house. An instant later a shot rang out and Jones fell dead. His body was weighted with iron and cast in the harbor, where it was afterward found.

BLAMES SUICIDE ON POLICE.

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 9.—Charles Payunk, a barber, committed suicide at his home Thursday night by taking poison. The act is thought to have been committed in a fit of insanity, caused, it is said, by a blow on the head administered by a West Hammond policeman last April. Mrs. Payunk, his widow, gives the following version of the alleged beating.

"About the 15th of last April," she said, "at the time of the West Hammond election, Charley was returning home from a visit when he met three West Hammond policemen who had a man down and were beating him unmercifully.

"He recognized the man as Mr. Halweg, and, seeing that the police were intoxicated, he said, 'Don't hit him when he is down.' One of the policemen took offense at this, and, rising to his feet, struck my husband over the head with his club, breaking a blood vessel. Ever since then he has been sick, and now and then has taken morphine to relieve the terrible pain.

"He has threatened several times to kill himself, but I never thought he would do it. I want the public to know that the West Hammond police killed my husband."

UNCLE SAM FEEDS FILIPINOS.

Washington, Aug. 9.—Major B. K. West, of the commissary department, writing from Manila to General Weston, chief commissary, has the following to say concerning the feeding of natives in the Philippines:

"I was in hope that the closing up of the campaign in Batangas and Laguna would end the feeding of the natives, but such is not the case, although the camps have been broken up. The natives were left in a destitute condition; had been unable to plant new crops; all the old crops had been destroyed in the military operations, and so the work has to go on.

"General Bell was in the city and I asked him about the number of natives he was feeding. He told me that in Batangas he was feeding approximately 250,000 people. In Laguna he could not give the exact number, but I judge from the quantity that we supply there must be about half as many."

BISHOP QUIGLEY DECLINES.

Chicago, Aug. 9.—Word was received here today that Bishop James E. Quigley, of Buffalo, one of the three bishops whom the conference of irremovable rectors and consultors of the Catholic archdiocese of Chicago, has recommended to succeed the late Archbishop Feehan, has informed the propaganda at Rome that he declines to be considered a candidate for the place. Bishop Quigley is also one of the churchmen named by the bishops of New York as worthy to succeed the late Archbishop Corrigan. He has also declined to have his name considered for that place. The reason given was that he did not wish to leave his present field.

SEA FIGHT LIKELY

THE MACHIAS ORDERED TO PROTECT HAYTIAN CABLE.

ADMIRAL KILLICK MAY CUT IT

HAYTIAN REBEL HOVERING NEAR WITH GUNBOAT.

APPEAL TO UNITED STATES

CABLE COMPANY REQUESTS PROTECTION.

Washington, Aug. 8.—The United States and Haytian Telegraph and Cable company has appealed to the state and navy departments here to prevent the cutting of its cable at Cape Haytian. According to information received by the cable company in New York the Haytian gunboat Crete-A-Perriot, which is under the command of Admiral Killick, who has allied himself with the revolutionary government under General Firmin, and who has been appointed secretary of war and navy under the revolutionary government, intends to sever the compay's cable between Cape Haytian and New York. The company appealed to the authorities here to instruct Commander McCrea, of the gunboat Machias, to protect the cable from violence. Acting Secretary of State Adee and Acting Secretary of the Navy Darling held a conference over the matter and decided that it was proper for this government, in the protection of the international interests involved, to issue the instructions, and accordingly a cablegram was sent to Commander McCrea directing him to prevent the cutting of the cable.

The Haytian cable company is understood to be a French concern and under ordinary circumstances its interests would be looked after by the French government, which has the Suchet and several other war vessels in West Indian waters. But the company has American affiliations and a large amount of American business passes over its lines. Some of this business is for the United States government, which uses the line in part to maintain its communications with war vessels at various points in the West Indies. It also is a partial dependence for government communication with Porto Rico. Under these circumstances the state and navy department officials felt that the protection of this cable came within the general policy of protecting American interests. To some extent, also, a principle of the Monroe doctrine is involved, as it carries out the general purposes of this government to maintain order and preserve property so far as this can be done without interfering with any of the sovereign rights of the southern countries.

LEWIS G. TOOMBS IS HANGED

Chicago, Aug. 8.—Lewis G. Toombs was hung at 11:29 for the murder of Carrie Larsen.

Toombs went to the scaffold without a tremor. He made a short statement, in which he protested his innocence and expressed confidence that his name would be cleared of the crime attributed to him. The body hung thirteen minutes. Death resulted from strangulation.

TOOMBS' CRIME.

The crime for which Lewis G. Toombs paid the death penalty was that of the murder of Carrie Larson on the night of December 30, last year. Toombs was cook of the steamer Peerless and had hired the young woman to assist him on the boat, which was lying ice-bound in its winter quarters in the Burlington slip of the Chicago river. The only other occupant of the boat was Robert Keissig, a roustabout. It was the story of Keissig that convicted Toombs of one of the most horrible crimes ever discovered in this city. Late at night Toombs had come to the steamer and had tried to force his way into the young woman's room. Failing of this, he ordered her to cook him a meal. As she started to comply Toombs strangled her, mutilated her body horribly and then compelled Keissig, who was an unwilling witness, to help him bury the body under the ice of the river. Several days after the boy ran away to the police, fearing for his own life, and told the story, which resulted in the recovery of the body of the woman and Toombs' conviction. Two trials were held. In the first two brothers on the jury held out for absolute acquittal. The verdict in the second trial was rendered after a deliberation of only twenty minutes. One stay of execution was granted and the supreme court was appealed to for a supersedeas.

IN RACE AGAINST HENDERSON.

Waterloo, Iowa, Aug. 8.—At a meeting of the leading democrats of this (the Third) congressional district yesterday it was decided to put E. L. Boies, son of ex-Congressman Boies, in the field against Speaker David B. Henderson in the coming election. It is understood that Boies has stated that he will not refuse the nomination should it be tendered him, but that he will not make a fight for it. Mr. Boies is regarded by the democrats as the only man who would stand any show against Henderson, as he is expected to poll the one-time strength of his father. The convention will be held at Dubuque early in September, at which time Mr. Boies will probably be nominated by acclamation.

BRYAN WILL NOT BE A CANDIDATE IN 1904

TROUBLE FOR EVERYBODY

MRS. RADER, OF AUBURN, IS LOOKING FOR MR. RADER.

He Escaped Home, Sold His Team Here and is Missing—Purchaser of Team in the Mess.

Mrs. Ismel Rader, of Auburn, came to town Friday in a hurry and immediately occupied herself in looking for her husband, but more diligently for a team of horses which Mr. Rader had taken away from home with him. The husband had been having a hilarious time for awhile and wound up by coming to Fort Wayne and disposing of the team to Weber, the Pearl street horse merchant. Mrs. Rader, soon after her arrival here, found out where the prop- proceedings in Huser's court. In order to complete the proceedings she was obliged to give a bond, which was effected after some delay through a local bank, Justice Huser, in the meantime, sending Weber a written notice to retain the horses until the writ could be served. When the constable went to the Weber barn to serve the writ of replevin, he was blandly informed that the horses had been resold and that their whereabouts were unknown. Now Mr. Weber is up against it, papers being in making for his arrest for obstructing a legal process.

PORTRAIT OF WASHINGTON

UNVEILED IN MASONIC HALL IN LONDON.

Ambassador Choate Officiates at Ceremony and Delivers a Eulogy.

London, Aug. S.—Joseph H. Choate, the American ambassador, this afternoon unveiled a portrait of Washington in Masonic regalia in the presence of many Masons in Free Masons' hall. The earl of Warwick, the deputy grand master of the Free Masons of England, who presided, paid a tribute to Washington, in which he referred to the great veneration in which the first American president was held in England and his consistent remembrance of fellow Masons during the war for American independence.

Mr. Choate read a eulogy of Washington, in which he referred to the fact that his best portrait extant is now in London in Lord Roseberry's house, the former premier thinking so much of the great American that he would not be satisfied with anything but the best picture. The speaker hoped that the memory of Washington might be cherished in England as in America to the end of time.

Other speakers were Consul General Evans, Deputy Consul General Westacott and J. Ross Robertson, past grand master of the Masons of Canada.

HAS A BAD INJURY.

Charles Groves, 18 years of age, a boilermaker's helper in the Pennsylvania shops, was painfully injured at 10 o'clock Friday morning. While driving a rivet a piece of the steel flew with fearful force, imbedding itself so deeply in Groves' right thigh that Dr. Stemen, who probed for the fragment, has as yet been unable to locate it. A vein was severed and the wound bled profusely. The injury promises to be quite a serious affair. Groves lives at 438 Lasselle street.

OVER SCORE DEAD

MANY MINERS LOSE LIFE IN COLORADO.

EXPLOSION IN TRINIDAD MINE

ELEVEN BODIES HAVE BEEN RECOVERED.

THIRTEEN MORE IN THE MINE

GREAT DIFFICULTY IN THE WORK OF RESCUE.

Trinidad, Colo., Aug. 8.—The rescue party at the Bowen mine, where a disastrous explosion occurred last evening was compelled to suspend work at 1 o'clock this morning, owing to fire damp. At that hour the bodies of eleven dead had been recovered. There were at least thirteen men in the mine at the time of the explosion and all undoubtedly were killed.

No gas has ever been discovered in the mine and it is the opinion of the officials that the accident was caused by a premature shot. The powder house at the mouth of the mine containing about 1,000 pounds of blasting powder, was exploded by the shock in the mine and great damage was done to the mouth of the slope.

TOWN WAS SHAKEN.

The town of Bowen, situated about a quarter of a mile below the mine, was shaken and a number of windows broken. Immediately after the explosion almost the entire population of the town rushed to the mouth of the mine and the scenes there were heartrendering. The mine is almost a total wreck as far as can be determined.

The explosion occurred about 1,000 feet from the surface. The mine was quickly filled with gas and smoke and those who escaped instant death were undoubtedly suffocated.

The head of one victim was picked up nearly 100 feet from where the body was found.

GIRL HEADS CHASE FOR THIEF.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 8.—When Miss Mae Akles, the 16-year-old daughter of Hester Akles, a farmer near Trinity Springs, rose yesterday morning she discovered that some one had robbed the house during the night and had taken, among other things, her watch and some jewelry. Mr. Akles was sick in bed and the daughter at once mounted a fast horse, galloped around among the neighbors and organized a posse. She headed the posse and took the road to Evansville. A man's tracks were discovered in the soft roadbed and the party pushed on. After a ride of five miles a man was seen leisurely walking along the road. Miss Akles dashed ahead and then turned upon him, while other pursuers came up in the rear. The man surrendered without attempting to escape. He proved to be Curtis Jones, a well known character of Evansville, and Miss Akles' watch and jewelry were found upon him.

CAT PLANNED MURDER.

Residents of Lakeside are telling a remarkable story concerning the sagacity of a family cat in the home of Thomas E. Mason in that suburb. The aforesaid femine is the mother of a kitten to which she has taken a decided aversion, and for several weeks has been treating it with a decidedly unmotherly spirit. Several attempts to lose the kitten proved unsuccessful, but a day or two ago the cat tried other tactics. Picking up the kitten she carried it out on the street and placed it upon the street car tracks directly in front of a Lewis street car which was approaching some distance away. A neighbor who saw the action of the cat rescued the kitten before the car struck it, but those who saw the circumstances are convinced that the mother cat had taken this plan to end the life of her kitten.

LOSSES ARE $6,167.80.

Directors of the Allen County Farmers' Insurance company held a special meeting at the offices in this city Friday. The report of Secretary Kelsey shows that during 1902 the company has sustained fire losses aggregating a total of $6,167.80. Practically all of it has been paid and a special assessment was levied today to cover the amount. The assessment will be about 15 cents upon each $100.

RATHBONE CALLS ON HANNA.

Cleveland, Ohio, Aug. 8.—Major Estes G. Rathbone met with a warm reception at Senator Hanna's office yesterday. Rathbone is on his way from his home in Hamilton, Ohio, to Wellsville, N. Y., where his family is spending the summer.

"It would be obviously improper for me to talk on my Cuban troubles at this time," he said, "as the case is now pending before congress, and I am certain that a full investigation will result in my exoneration. My friends believe that I am innocent and the investigation will show the animus of the prosecution. I am greatly interested in the dispatch from Havana saying that a demand has been made on the Cuban authorities for the documents in my case and had been refused. I believe, however, that the papers will be secured. I do not care to make any more harsh comments on Cuban justice while my case is pending, but I have some very decided opinions on the subject."

OLD HORSE WAS A WRECK.

A decrepit old horse, the property of an itinerant peddler and comprising a part of an entire outfit which had seen better days, stirred up some interest at Main and Calhoun streets last Thursday by lying down in the street. Efforts of officers for more than an hour to get the animal upon its feet were futile and a big crowd gathered to give advice as to how the trick ought to be done. The problem was finally solved by Humane Officer Schlaudroff, who shot the animal.

GENERAL FUNSTON AGAIN ILL

IS ATTACKED SUDDENLY IN HIS OFFICE.

Trouble Thought to Be Lingering Effect of Fever and Abscess of Old Wound.

Denver, Col., Aug. 8.—Brigadier General Frederick Funston, commander of the department of Colorado, is ill at his home in this city. The attack came upon him suddenly at his office at army headquarters and Major Bushnell, of Fort Logan, who happened to be near by, was called and attended the general. The trouble is thought to be the lingering effects of the fever from which General Funston suffered in Cuba and the Philippines and which has at different times impaired his health. Fears are also entertained that an abscess has formed around the unhealed portion of the wound made by the operation for appendicitis, which the general underwent in the east before coming to Colorado and that another operation will be necessary. As to the operation, Major Bushnell has not definitely determined. He will see the general again today. Telephonic communication with the Funston home this morning elicited the information that General Funston was resting comfortably.

PREVENT A WRECK.

Two brave farmer lads prevented a collision on the Findlay road last week, which might have been frightful in its results. Two box cars that were standing on the elevator tracks at Tilman were started down the tracks by some thoughtless boys and in making the descent, the cars gained an impetus which carried them two miles from the village. There they were discovered at 8:15 o'clock by the farm boys, who at the same time saw the headlight of the train which was moving down upon them at a rapid rate. Running forward, the lads managed to attract the attention of the engineer and the train was brought to a standstill less than two car lengths from the box cars. There were a number of passengers on the train and when they discovered the situation, they gathered about the boys and greatly embarrassed them by showering praises and thanks upon them. The train was the No. 4, a westbound mail, due here at 7:10 o'clock in the evening. It was about two hours behind time and was running to make up as much of the lost time as possible. Had a collision occurred, as would have happened had it not been for the timely warning of the farm boys, lives would have been lost, for there were a number of passengers. The only damage was further delay to the passenger train, which had to push the cars back to Tilman and sidetrack them before it could resume the journey.

HIS SIGHT THREATENED.

"While picnicking last month my 11-year-old boy was poisoned by some weed or plant," says W. H. Dibble, of Sioux City, Ia. "He rubbed the poison off his hands into his eyes and for a while we were afraid he would lose his sight. Finally a neighbor recommended DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. The first application helped him and in a few days he was as well as ever." For skin diseases, cuts, burns, scalds, wounds, insect bites, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve is sure cure. Relieves piles at once. Beware of counterfeits. Meyer Bro. & Co.

NEELY WANTS HIS MONEY

OVER $6,000 TAKEN FROM HIM AT TIME OF ARREST.

Muncie Man, Pardoned by Government of Cuba, Makes Demand on United States.

Washington, Aug. 8.—C. F. W. Neely, who was convicted of Cuban postal frauds and afterward granted amnesty by the Cuban legislature, has applied to the attorney general to be reimbursed for the money found in his possession at the time of his arrest, amounting to $6,234. This money was sent to Cuba as an exhibit at the trial of Neely, and was returned by the military government to the war department. Secretary Root wrote a letter to the postmaster general informing him that the money had been returned and was held to be disposed of at the latter's direction. The postmaster general has not accepted the money and it still remains in the possession of Secretary Root. The war department is holding it until an adjustment is made and a balance struck between the Cuban government and the late military government regarding financial affairs. The officials have not yet determined what action they will take after this balance is struck.
